On Saturday, May 1, the Y. W. C. A. will open its south side recreational center at Twenty-fourth and J streets, opposite the South Central High school, by keeping "open house" all day. The afternoon's program from 2:30 to 5 will be varied, opening with a few words of greeting from Mrs. George F. Gilmore, president of the Omaha association, followed by music and readings and a solo-dance by a 4-year-old pupil of the Omaha association gymnasium department.

There will be a special program in the evening from 7:30 to 9:30 for the girls of the community, including some numbers by the Keiwauna Ukulele club, Goldie C. Vawter, director. The first floor of the center will be used as a cafeteria and lunch will be served every day from 11 to 2 to the general public. In respect and hope of the patronage of this cafeteria to be as widespread and equal in the numbers proportionately to that of our Omaha association, for we will have the same inducements, splendid variety and quality of food at reasonable prices," says Miss Florence Dunlap, industrial extension secretary.

The basement is splendidly adapted to recreation purposes, having a cement floor and good light, made possible by new lighting facilities and additional daylight through extensive alterations. To the right of this basement floor is a rest room, fitted up with comfortable chairs, couch and containing reading material.

The entire two floors will be turned over evenings to the various groups in the community for whatever purposes they may desire. Roller skating in the basement will be the Saturday evening "stunt" feature.

Music and Carpet-Weaving.
It is fairly well known that in certain parts of the world natives refuse to work at handbuilding and kindred pursuits unless they have the accompaniment of music. The part played by music in sailors' tasks is common knowledge. Less known by far is the role of music in carpet-weaving, and its delicate adjunct to the various arts involved. In British India the carpets are woven to a particular tune. The custom harks back to time immemorial. The leader of the group chants the song in a monotonous, quasi-liturgical style, and the song varies according to the color of the carpet, being repeated by all the weavers in a chorus. If the general color of the carpet is pale, the chant is monotonous; if it is a bright hue, the chorus becomes animated.

Fourth District of Clubs Elects New Officers

The Fourth district convention, Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs, met in annual session at David City, on Tuesday and Wednesday of the past week. The first afternoon was a "get-together" session. Three state officers, nine state chairmen, 10 district officers and 53 delegates were in attendance.

The report of Mrs. Warren Perry, president of the Fourth district, showed that there were 44 clubs in the district with a total of 1,446 members, as compared with two years ago. Fourteen clubs have been added during Mrs. Perry's administration. The federated clubs of the United States represent 9,000 clubs and 2,000,000 members.

Mrs. M. D. Cameron, Miss Katherine Worley and Mrs. F. H. Cole of Omaha addressed the convention. Mrs. John Slaker of Hastings, state president, spoke on "Club Ethics." Miss Myrtle Judd of Rising City, who went overseas during the war in the general federation unit, told of her experiences abroad. Mrs. A. E. Sheldon of Lincoln, past state president and director-elect, talked on "Our Great State of Nebraska," especially urging a new state law on "forestation."

The David City Methodist Ladies' Social union entertained the visiting ladies for dinner in the church parlors on Tuesday and on Wednesday they were served in the High school by the domestic science class.

At the business meeting of the convention Miss Effie Detrich of York was elected president, Mrs. S. L. Mains of Crete, vice president, and Mrs. Ragan of Seward, treasurer.

At the close of the convention Mrs. Perry, the retiring president, was presented with a beautiful basket of roses in token of the appreciation of her services.

Women May Hold Balance Of Power at Chicago Convention.

Women delegates to the republican national convention in June may hold the balance of power in selecting the presidential nominee is the prediction of republican women leaders in Chicago.

One hundred women are expected to be elected to the convention, according to Mrs. George W. Reincke, secretary of the women's division of the republican national committee.

Some of the girls and women who have taken up farm work in Australia have accomplished marvelous results, but perhaps the most remarkable record is held by a 10-year-old girl living in the south of the Pinoneroo district, who in one season cultivated 300 acres and drilled 200.

A Refrigerator for the Automobile

It is not too early in the year to consider next summer's automobile trips and luncheons, since the equipment for such little festivities can frequently be used in the home most conveniently. Particularly does this apply to the little refrigerators which, intended for use in an automobile, fit in admirably with the furnishings of a small apartment.

This refrigerator is distinctly fortunate in its ice chamber, since this keeps ice unmelted for 24 hours. The chamber can be slipped along in the ice box so that it can be placed either at one end or elsewhere, thus making the packing of the food a simple task.

The refrigerator may be had with either a zinc or a white enamel lining; the enamel is perhaps prettier to look at, but the zinc is more practical, since it remains unscratched.

Something like 75,000 women in the United States are engaged in cultivating fruit, among them being several of California's most successful fruit growers.

A recent count showed the arrival in Los Angeles in a single month of more than 50 "screen-struck" girls, each seeking an opportunity to become a moving picture actress.

Louisiana has 19 registered women statisticians, which exceeds the record of any other state.

Girls' Overseas Unit to Be Decorated With Pershing Present.

A feature of the Golden Prairie biennial convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs in Des Moines, June 16 to 23, will be a community service luncheon Monday, June 21. Mrs. George W. Plummer of Chicago, chairman of the department, will preside.

The guests of honor will be the overseas unit of 100 young women, who were supported in their service by the general federation. It is expected that the majority of the young women will be present and will be much in evidence during the entire convention.

One of the number, Miss Laura Matthews of Council Bluffs, who remained after the close of the convention under another organization, will return May 1 and during the convention will act as assistant to Miss Anna Finkbine, local chairman of the unit.

During their stay here these young college women from all states in the union will perfect a permanent organization and become affiliated with the community service work of the federation.

On the concluding night of the convention the unit will be introduced to the federation from the stage of the coliseum and will be decorated in honor of their distinguished service in the presence of General Pershing and other distinguished guests.

Greater Efficiency Through Slots

ON THE inside lower section of the firepot of the Colton Pipeless Furnace slots will be found. These slots furnish oxygen to the fuel and makes it pass through the fuel body. The hot fire is in this way maintained clear to the sides of the firepot. In the ordinary furnace, which does not have this feature, the air is drawn up through the center of the grate and fuel body, making the fire very hot in the center, but not at the edges. Often ashes collected, which to some degree insulated the walls of the firepot. In the Colton Pipeless, ashes cannot collect—there is more fire and greater heat.

The Colton Pipeless Furnace

Delivers uniform heat to every room in the house, in mild weather and in the dead of winter. The heat travels directly up through the furnace and through the single combination register to the rooms above. Here it passes along the ceilings to every room in the house, and as it cools, it drops to lower levels until it returns along the floors to the furnace, where it is again heated, moistened and sent up to the rooms.

Positive circulation is assured, because the furnace operates on a natural law, that hot air rises and cold air falls. There will be circulation as long as there is any fire in the furnace.

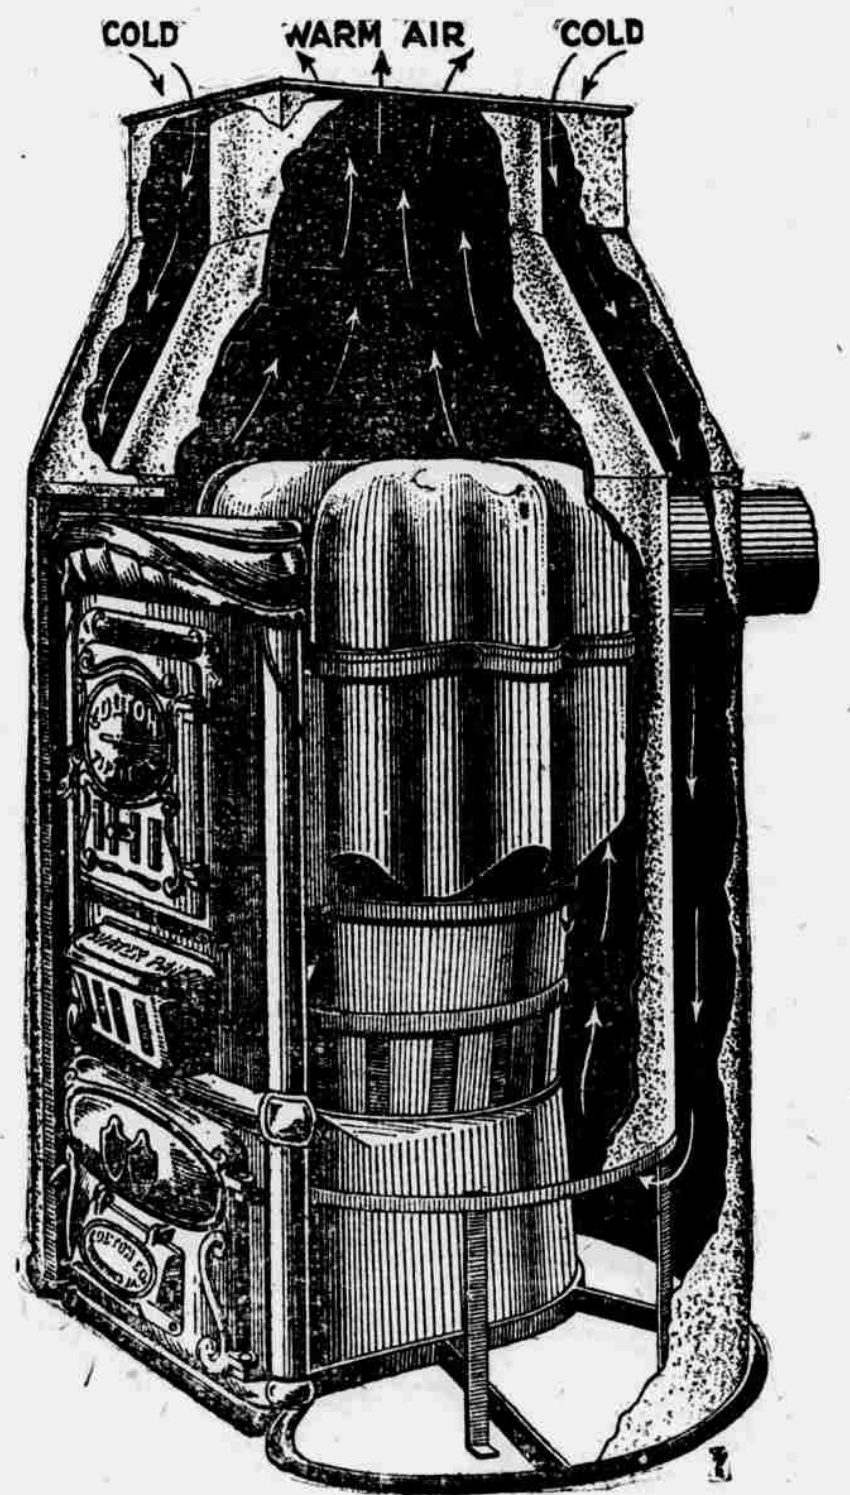

Owners rejoice in the wide feed door of the Colton Pipeless Furnace. It takes a live-sized shovel of coal or a big chunk when the furnace is being banked for the night. It lessens the dirt and mess in the furnace room, and saves many tempers.

This feature only illustrates the thoughtfulness and care with which the Colton is constructed and designed. It is built to stand hard service. There are extra heavy fire bowl and grates, unusually sturdy casings, one-piece base, etc. The walls of the combustion chamber are straight up and down to make the furnace chamber self-cleaning, and they are fluted to give greater radiation surface.

The Colton is easily installed in one day. It is ideal for old homes, as it requires no cutting, altering or excavating. It can readily be installed in a vegetable cellar without damage to the vegetables. The absence of pipes means a cool cellar, as well as a great saving in heat. It is equally delightful in new homes.

Install your Colton now—at present prices. If you are not acquainted with the Colton dealer nearest you, write us for his name. Colton dealers give 100 per cent service.
