

Hotel for Women Run by Women of Y.W.C.A.

Ground was broken this month in Washington, D. C., for the erection of a model hotel for business women under the supervision of the Y. W. C. A. housing committee of which Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, jr., is chairman. The economic department of the Y. W. C. A. has thoroughly studied the question of suitable homes for employed women and has issued architectural plans for hotels, community houses, residences for girls, model small suites for women and other plans made with an eye chiefly for the conveniences and attractive features that women and girls like and need. The hotel in Washington is patterned on one of these plans. It will house 125 women and will require a staff of 75 assistants. The majority of these will be women, down to the bellboys. The bedrooms are of reasonable dimension and will have plenty of light and air.

There are 12 floors. The first will contain the offices, reception rooms, lounge, library, and a large auditorium for banquets, balls, concerts, or lectures. The basement contains many innovations, among them a community sewing room, fitted with sewing machines and other necessary equipment. There will be a community laundry and valeting rooms. In this way women may still exercise the housekeeping instinct without interference with ordinary hotel rules and may have the privileges of sewing, laundering or mending. To foster this domestic instinct there will be kitchenettes on some of the upper floors.

Also on the upper floors are reception rooms for the guests and their friends, and the bedrooms, which are especially planned for the comfort of women. The dining rooms, smaller ones for private entertainment, and a lunch counter for the convenience of the guest who may desire a hasty meal.

In all the hotels to be built by the Y. W. C. A. more stress will be laid upon the proper housing and the care of guests than upon elaborate entrances and decorations. There will be a roof garden for the summer afternoon and evening comfort of the guests, which will be managed exactly as other roof gardens, with music, dancing and good dinners.

The cost of living in the hotel will run from $25 to $30 a month for the rooms. This price will include all service, light and linen and the privileges of the community rooms in the basement and the kitchenette on each floor.

Within 10 years it is believed that there will be a string of these hotels extending across the continent and the business and professional woman may take her choice, according to her temperament, the nature of her work, or her domestic instinct, of living in a hotel or of creating her own home atmosphere in her apartment.

American Women Realize That They Must Study National Politics.

More than 2,000,000 women in the United States belong to the general Federation of Women's Clubs.

It is safe to say that half as many members are being awakened to the necessity of studying politics.

Will H. Hays, chairman of the republican national committee, predicts that 14,000,000 women will cast their ballots for president at the next election.

Women who have been prejudiced against their sex in politics, but who have preferred to work for the uplifting principles of humanity through indirect channels, will from necessity need to join in political fights if their interests are deeply rooted. They can no longer expect to get representation through the men of their families, for the men will no longer assume the responsibility.

"TIZ" FOR TIRED AND SORE FEET

Use "Tiz" for puffed-up, burning, aching, calloused feet and corns.

Why go limping around with aching, puffed-up feet—feet so tired, ached, and sore when you can hardly get your shoes on or off? Why don't you get a box of "Tiz" from the drug store now and gladden your tortured feet?

"Tiz" makes your feet glow with comfort; takes down swelling and draws the soreness and misery right out of feet that chafe, smart and burn. "Tiz" instantly stops pain in corns, callouses and bunions. "Tiz" is glorious for tired, aching, sore feet. No more shoe tightness—no more foot torture.

For the Boudoir

New bedspreads for the sleeping room are hand embroidered on sheer lawn in exquisite fashion. They come long enough to cover the bed pillows, too. Considering they are such dainty handwork they are not extremely expensive. For the sleeping porch, and useful also for the camping trip are especially designed navy blue bedspreads. These are as cheap as the ordinary crocheted bedspread. Satin and colored ones come in such colors as canary and pink and one delicate one had a raised pattern in white and a white fringe. Most of these measure 80 by 90 inches and are of good heavy weight. The satin ones are most frequently scalloped.

For bureau scarfs the most popular cover used on teether cream, red or brown mahogany seems to be the linen and lace affair. Sometimes the lace is home crocheted and often it is an edging of the favorite fillet sold by the yard in different widths and at different prices. Then of course flowered cretonne to match color schemes is good. On many high priced bureaus this type Naisy—An elopement is a rather silly performance with people of any age. One is either too young for such a course, or too old. At 17 it is unthinkable. Bitter regrets and disillusionment are certain to follow. Your boy friend seems so changeable and lacking in character you ought not to take him seriously at any time. Treat him in a friendly way when you see him.

Dimples—You should allow a young man to help you with your coat. He is only endeavoring to be polite and you should not discourage him. How can you do creditable work in your school studies if you are out late three nights a week? Better stay home and learn to spell such simple words as "hoping."

Myrtle A.—If the girl won't give you an opportunity to speak to her, you can't very well ask her pardon. You might have written her a note in the first place, but I wouldn't advise that now. Let the matter drop until you can speak to her. She is acting ill-mannered herself now.

Very Anxious—Don't go with a boy for fear he will become jealous of you if you don't. Don't go with him at all unless you like and respect him. Theda Bara's address is in care of Fox, New York City. Bryant Washburn, care Lasky Studio, Hollywood, Cal. The other name you ask about I cannot read.

Grown-Up, Fourteen.

Chick—Avoid the boy whenever you can. He will soon tire if he sees persistence does no good. You are rather young to be thinking so much about beaux. Can't you find pleasure in anything else but beaux and card playing. Spend your time in study, music and outdoor sports and be a little girl as long as you can.

Green Eyes—Don't go with a boy just because your father likes him.

HOW TO JUDGE A WOMAN BY HER HAIR

There is real common sense in just noticing whether the hair is well kept to judge of a woman's neatness, or good taste. If you are one of the few who try to make the most of your hair, remember that it is not advisable to wash the hair with any cleanser made for all purposes, but always use some good shampoo. You can enjoy the very best by getting some canthrox from your druggist, dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it to all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Dandruff, excess oil, and dirt are dissolved and entirely disappear. Your hair will be so fluffy that it will look much softer than it is. Its luster and heaviness will also delight you, while the stimulated scalp gains the health which insures hair growth.

COLLECTED POEMS, by John Black, Kuchelbocker Press.
This little book of verse is published by the poet's son. "The Story of a Mother's Love," a poem of some length, is the best in the volume.

CURRENT SOCIAL AND INDUSTRIAL FORCES, Edited by Lionel D. Edgell, Bond & Laveright.
This is a collection of short articles written by such men as Norman Angell, John Dewey, Felix Frankfurter, Harold J. Laski, Graham Wallas, James MacKay and many others as well fitted to speak on the subject, dealing with the fundamental features of the social and economic order. The book defines and describes in many-sided ways the forces and ideals which underlie current restlessness, disturbances and fear and should be of interest to every wide-awake American who is interested in his own fortune and America's future. For university students the book may be used as a text book guide and rallying point for extended investigation in current, social and industrial forces.

THEIR SON: THE NECKLACE, by Eduardo Zamacois, Bond & Laveright.
Zamacois has been called the Spanish de Maupassant. In "Their Son" and "The Necklace" he writes with grace, understanding and unflinching realism. Here are finely etched dramas of everyday life which crash suddenly into unexpected, inevitable and tremendous moments. Love and passion, romance, beauty and tragedy that is immense and ironic are the elements in the fate of these characters, who, like all ordinary people, are so often swept unthinkingly upon an extraordinary destiny.

A Churchless Town!

No, not yours. You would not live there — if you could help it. You would not bring up your children there — if you could help it.

But other people cannot help it.

There are hundreds of towns in this Christian land — new towns, towns on the frontier, towns on the western plains — where there is no church and can be none unless you help build it.

These Are the Facts

Six out of every ten children in the United States never cross the threshold of a church or Sunday-school.

Sixty per cent of our children are without religious training. Think of it! Twenty-six million children.

How long do you think America can remain Christian under conditions like these?

It is up to somebody to bring about a change. If it is not your business, whose is it?

You cannot afford to evade the issue.

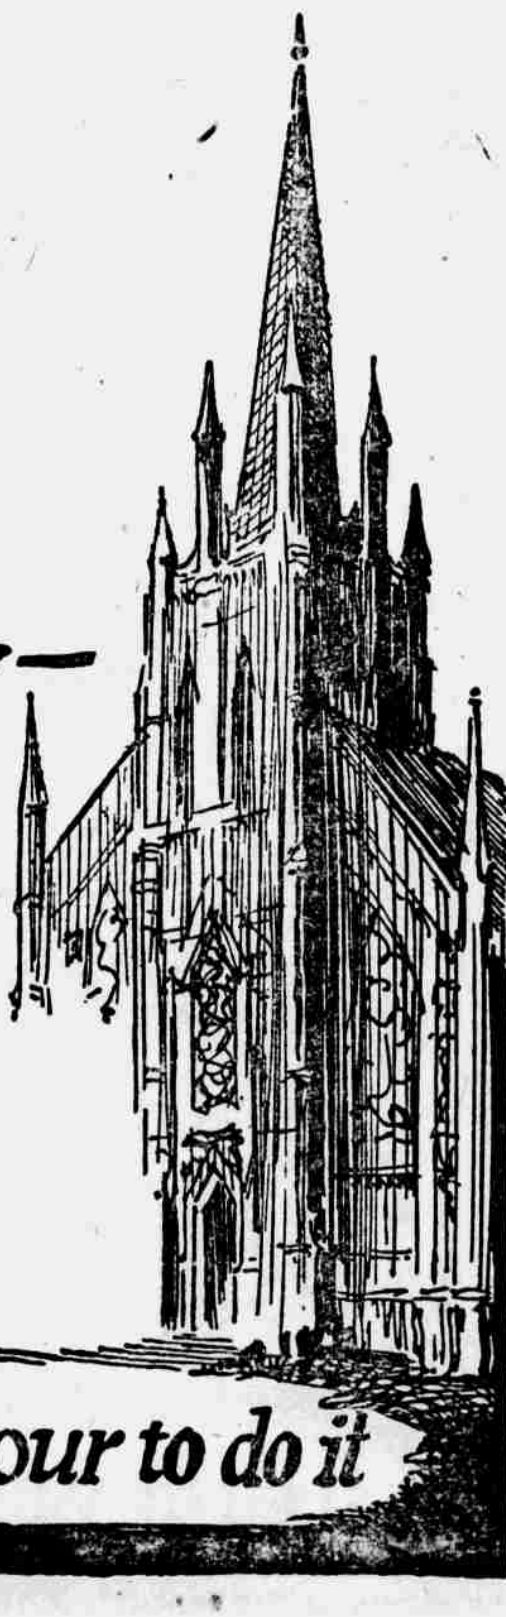

Between Now and Next Sunday—Quicken

Northern Baptists must complete the raising of $100,000,000.

The New World Movement must go forward.

Of this fund, $75,000,000 will be spent within the borders of the United States. There will be churches in Churchless Town. There will be Sunday-schools for untrained children. New forces for Christian progress will be set at work throughout the land.

It is up to you to do something—this is the hour to do it
