

PLAN MEMORIAL TO WAR HEROES FROM NEBRASKA

Building to Be Erected on University Campus in Lincoln—Includes Athletic Stadium.

A memorial building estimated to cost about $1,000,000 to honor departed Nebraska soldiers in late wars and for the men who served in the last world's great conflict is now being contemplated by 500 public-spirited men of Nebraska.

The general committee of the organization which calls itself the Nebraska Memorial association, has been named and will actively assist in promoting the drive and sponsoring the movement to obtain funds for the structure which will be built on the state university campus in Lincoln.

The executive committee of the memorial association is composed of Guy E. Reed, chairman, Lincoln; Charles T. Kountze, Omaha; Earl Cline, Nebraska City; R. E. Campbell, Lincoln; A. J. Weaver, Falls City; Vincent Haskell, Omaha, as executive secretary. General headquarters are established at 509-11 Keeline building, Omaha.

Intensive Local Drives. These men are formulating plans for a state-wide drive for funds. Committees for Omaha and Lincoln, as well as for other cities of the state will be named soon to handle intensive drives in their respective districts. The executive committee will prorate the cost of the structure among the counties on the basis of population and wealth.

The design of the building will be submitted to Nebraska architects.

Includes Athletic Stadium. The prime feature of the building is the memorial hall on whose marble walls will be inscribed the names of great battles in which Nebraskans have participated, and bronze tablets bearing the names of Gold Star men who fell in the World War.

There will also be a large room for a public museum for war relics. Not only will the public relics be housed in the museum, but it is planned that private collections of departed soldiers be kept there. It is also planned to have several assembly rooms. A stadium will be built for outdoor athletic contests.
