How Is Your Weight? While it is true that too much weight is not to be desired yet the fact remains that many men and women are thin to the point of danger. This danger lies in their having no reserve force or nerve power to combat deadly diseases. A little extra flesh is needed by all to feel well and to look well, and this calls up the question of how best to increase the weight. Physicians and chemists by experiments have solved the problem of increasing the white and red corpuscles of the blood by the administration of 3 grain hypo-nucleic tablets, and this is usually followed by an increase of weight. Obtain in sealed packages, and take for a period of several months, according to directions with package.

Rain Delays Corn Planting For Two Weeks Near Leigh

Nels Jensen of Leigh, who was a shipper to the local stock yards with a consignment of cattle Thursday, said the recent rains delayed corn planting in his section. He said there would be no corn planted until about May 20.

In his opinion corn should not be planted until the chill is out of the ground and it will not sprout in cold wet ground, but will rot after a few days. He said the same was also true of oats and advises farmers to wait for warmer weather before planting.

River Floods Assure Bumper Hay Crop in Western Nebraska

O'Neill, Neb., April 29.—(Special.)—Holt county, which is the leading hay producing county in the state, already is assured a hay crop bigger than any for the past several years. The floods in the Elkhorn, Niobrara and their tributaries are responsible, as the vast hay meadows have been under water for a week or more, enabling the young grass to get a better than usual start. This year's crop of market hay will aggregate 350,000 tons, according to hay men. The ranges also are in excellent condition, according to the ranchmen of the southern and central sections of the county, in which stock raising is one of the principal industries.

The floods, aside from the damage to highways and bridges, did little other damage in the county and the waters now are receding rapidly. The pleasant, clear and slightly windy weather of the last few days already has dried up the fields sufficiently for farmers to get into them in most localities and the small grain crops are being planted.

Holt County Farmers Will Stage Big Crow Hunt Soon

O'Neill, Neb., April 29.—(Special.)—Holt county sportsmen and farmers are arranging for a big crow hunt to be staged within the next three weeks. The hunt will be under the direction of James McPharlin, veteran sportsman of this city, who has made a study of bird life and agrees with the farmers that crows are more destructive than beneficial, preying mostly on the nests and young of other birds, rather than upon insect life, and that they are carriers and spreaders of livestock and bird diseases through their preference for carrion. Crows have been on the increase in certain sections of the county the last few years, during which no crow hunts were held. The hunts formerly were annual events.

H. C. L. SOLUTION CAN'T BE FORCED, SPEAKERS AGREE

Addresses at Concord Club Meeting Say Relief Must Come From Orderly, Economical Processes.

Speakers representing the sides of capital and labor at the weekly meeting of the Concord club in the Fontenelle hotel yesterday agreed that no forced solution of the high price problem can be reached.

John W. Gamble, vice president of the First National bank, speaking for the financial interests, and Col. T. W. McCullough of The Bee, speaking from the standpoint of conservative organized labor, both stated that the solution to high prices and inflated values cannot be settled by resolutions at meetings of those concerned, but must be worked out according to economic laws.

Mr. Gamble, who spoke first, said that the proposed meeting of representatives of capital and labor for the purpose of working out a plan for reducing prices was a good idea but would have no value in the present situation.

Colonel McCullough advised the members of the club that representatives of labor are always willing to meet with representatives of their employers. There are fundamental differences between them that will always exist, he said, but agreements for stated periods advantageous to both can be arranged. Under-production and over-consumption are responsible for the present inflated prices, he said.
