

Air Mail Planes to Arrive Here Today Bearing New Pilots

Two airplanes of the Chicago-Omaha aerial mail service, piloted by William DeWald and C. A. Benedict, who left Thursday with 400 pounds of mail for Chicago, are expected to return to Omaha today bearing Pilots Lang and Johnson, one of whom probably will be stationed here. Pilot Benedict in the flight to Chicago, becoming lost from DeWald, whom he was trailing in an effort to learn the route, was forced to land near Fort Des Moines, resulting in a broken propeller blade. Benedict was uninjured. The mail he carried was sent on to Chicago by train and Benedict continued his trip yesterday after the plane had been repaired by E. V. Smith, mechanic stationed at Ak-Sar-Ben field. DeWald made an average speed of 87 miles an hour between Omaha and Iowa City. It was said yesterday that the two airplanes to arrive here Saturday make flights in connection with May Day Americanization parade. Cotton Exchange to Close New York, April 30.—The New York Cotton exchange today announced it would follow the example of the New York Stock exchange and close tomorrow, May 1, "moving day."

Northwestern Professor To Give Three Lectures To Teachers Saturday

Prof. James A. James, dean of the graduate school of Northwestern university, will deliver three lectures under auspices of the Omaha School

Forum in city council chamber today. He will discuss the Declaration of Independence, the Constitution of the United States and the Monroe Doctrine. Professor James was chairman of a committee of eight of the American Historical association on the teaching of history in elementary grades. He was also a member of the Political Science association. These two associations drafted courses of study in political science for schools of the country. Professor James will deliver his first lecture at 10:30 Saturday morning, another immediately after the American day parade passes the city hall and the third at 8:30 p. m. Bee Want Ads Produce Results.

Motorman Who Left Wife And Children Returns Home "Robert" Teale, 3624 Ohio street, motorman, who left his wife and children last week, returned home Thursday. Teale said he became tired of Omaha and went to Denver. Homesickness for his children prompted him to return, he told police.

Lovely New Arrivals In SMART SUITS

For Misses and Small Women

IF ONE is not quite grown up one finds adequate compensation here in the form of irresistible suits. They are nothing short of remarkable as far as individuality and attractiveness are concerned.

Decidedly youthful in its lines is the Eton, and charming, too, when gaily girdled with a Roman sash. It makes a fine suit for late Spring wear and is easily converted into a frock with one of the new guimpes.

Tuxedo effects with narrow belts and snug fitting shoulders and sleeves are the smartest things in tailored suits for Spring wear, and besides these essentials these lately designed suits boast high quality silk linings and unusually careful finishing.

Values Extraordinary In a Wonderful Sale of 125

PATTERN HATS at $10

From JOSEPH—632 Fifth Ave., New York City
And SIMON RUBIN—11 W. 45th St., New York City

The names of these two famous makers will at once assure you of the extreme values. Joseph hats are always of the finest quality, in original effects that express the latest style features. A special purchase by our buyer in New York enables us to offer these unusual values.

The Simon Rubin hats emphasize the feather brim, very new and decidedly chic. The values in every case are extreme and women who appreciate real quality and style will secure both at this very nominal price. Not a hat in the lot but would ordinarily sell for from two to three times the sale price.

TURBANS, off-the-face models, rolling and large brims, trimmed in flowers, wings, coques, cire and ribbons. Some are fabric hats such as taffeta, hair cloth, satin, maline and patent leather; others are combined fabric and braid. Saturday, while the limited number lasts. Seventy-five models from Joseph and fifty of the hats from Simon Rubin.
