

VEGETABLES ARE PLENTIFUL, BUT PRICES STAY UP

Little Fluctuation Denoted In Cost of All Food Products Over Last Week In Omaha Markets.

Unvarying prices have marked the Omaha food market the past week, as virtually every item that finds its way to the city's table is selling for the same price asked a week ago.

Oranges of the finer qualities sold yesterday around 65 cents for a dozen. Cheaper varieties may be had as low as 50 cents. Grapefruit are retailing from 10 to 15 cents, depending on size. All are apparently abundant. Apples continue high in price, being around $1 a peck, depending on variety. Dried fruit in bulk sells today at prices that have been practically constant for weeks.

Potatoes are still high. Only a small quantity of new potatoes appeared during the week, and were held at prices that tagged them as luxuries. Old potatoes sold at about $1.50 a peck. Quotations at Haystack yesterday were $1.40.

Green Vegetables Abundant.
Green vegetables are more abundant every day, but the prices felt no weakening during the last two weeks. Cabbage, head lettuce, radishes, cucumbers, asparagus and onions are now common.

The butter and egg market has remained unshaken for several weeks. Butter retails from around 68 cents to about 72 cents, depending on kind. Eggs are about 45 cents a dozen for the strictly fresh variety.

Chicken 50 Cents Pound.
The hen that lays the eggs can be had in limited numbers at about 50 cents a pound retail. Many meat dealers are making no attempt to carry poultry at this season, because of its scarcity and high price. Other meats, including fresh beef, pork and mutton, are retailing as they did last week. Pork was advanced slightly wholesale during the week, dealers said, but a number of butchers did not carry the boost on the consumer.

Sugar, the housewife's bugbear all winter, may be slightly more abundant within a few days, following the action of federal officials Thursday in seizing nearly 200,000 pounds of the product dealers were not anxious to throw on the market.

MOTHER TO STAY WITH LONG LOST SON NOW FOUND

Parent Believes Family Needs Her Here—Await Brother's Arrival.

Mrs. Nettie G. Card, Syracuse, N. Y., who found her son, Carl Ferguson, in Omaha last week, after they had been separated for 23 years, will remain in Omaha "just as long as she feels her son needs her," she said last night.

"I feel that Carl and his wife and baby need me here," she said, "and although my other son in Syracuse wants me to return I believe it is my duty to stay with Carl for he has been without me for so many years. We are all looking forward to June, when Ward, my other son, can come to Omaha and meet his brother Carl for the first time."

Crippled Lad Wins Silver Cup for Essay On What Army Offers

Chicago, April 30.—Jimmie O'Malley, aged 16, able to move only two fingers, and his head because of paralysis, received the War department's silver cup for writing the best essay on "what the army has to offer a young man."

The cup, together with another from a local bank, a gold watch from the Fort Sheridan "Recall" and $100 from the Knights of Columbus was presented by Colonel Jackson, a member of Major General Wood's staff.

The presentation took place in the Spaulding school, where Jimmie and 400 other cripples, most of them, like O'Malley, being confined to wheel chairs, are educated.

Favor Bill to Establish Seasonal Coal Rates

Washington, April 30.—The Interstate Commerce commission favors unanimously the Frelinghuysen bill to establish coal rates, Commissioner Clark told the senate committee investigating coal conditions.

The principle of reduced rates in summer to stimulate production and shipment of coal in the slack season is held to be sound by the commission, which believes the plan should be tried out, Mr. Clark said.

Iowa coal interests and great lakes transportation concerns probably would be hurt by the legislation, Mr. Clark said, adding "but the public interest is paramount."

FURTHER CUT IN CONSUMPTION OF PAPER URGED

Conservation in Order to Break Corner on Spot Market Given as Remedy for Present Shortage.

Washington, April 30.—Blame for the high cost of print paper was placed primarily upon small manufacturers, brokers and jobbers, although publishers themselves were held partly to blame, by witnesses yesterday before a senate investigating committee. Curtailed consumption, in order to break the spot market pending increased production, was generally advocated as a remedy.

Several witnesses were heard by the committee, all of whom virtually agreed that reduced production of paper, due to lack of understanding by the publishers and manufacturers, together with the rapid increase in advertising since the war, had resulted in a situation of which the brokers and jobbers had taken advantage. Because of the prevailing high prices, the witnesses said, manufacturers of paper specialties had been enticed into the manufac-

Missing Girls Found After Search by Boy Scout Troop

In a search throughout North Omaha late Thursday afternoon, Boy Scouts of Troop 57 located Elizabeth Rooney and Marie Jackson, chums, who had been reported missing. Both girls were found picking flowers north of Fort Omaha.

They had left the Belvidere school at the usual hour, but neglected to return to their homes. Their parents sought the aid of Boy Scouts. Scoutmaster Gould directed the search.

NEW ERA OPENS FOR RAILROADS, U. P. HEAD SAYS

Carl R. Gray Addresses Omaha Bankers' Club Members—Officers Are Elected.

Carl R. Gray, president of the Union Pacific Railroad company, speaking at the annual meeting of the Omaha Bankers' club at Hotel Fontenelle Thursday night, declared that the country has entered upon "the last of the experiments with the railroads."

"We are entering on a new era," he said. "We have for the first time a well-intended and sympathetically drawn piece of railroad legislation and that is a hopeful feature of the situation. For a time we must step cautiously, but I hope the day will come when railroads and railroad securities will be looked upon with their former favor."

O. T. Eastman was re-elected president of the club and W. B. Hughes, secretary-treasurer. Fred Clark was elected vice president. The following were re-elected to the board of directors: Ford Hovey, J. Laskosky, W. E. Rhoades and E. F. Folda.

OLD LORD LISTER HOSPITAL CLOSES; REMOVE PATIENTS

Building Shut Up Preparatory To Transfer Into New Structure in June.

All patients at Lord Lister hospital, Fourteenth and Capitol avenues, have been discharged or removed to other hospitals.

The hospital closed yesterday preparatory to removal into the new building at Twenty-sixth and Dewey avenue.

The physicians' and nurses' staff left yesterday on their annual vacations. They will return for duty in the new hospital in June.

The new structure will not be open to use until June, owing to delay in completion of the building. The sale of the former building is in the hands of Dr. E. C. Henry, physician in charge.

The building was originally used as a hotel.

For the last five years, it was known as the Lord Lister hospital.

KANSAS LABOR LAW UPHeld BY DISTRICT COURT

Decision Is Made by Same Judge Who Sent Howat to Jail On Contempt Charge.

Pittsburg, Kan., April 30.—Following the announcement of his decision that the new court of industrial relations law is constitutional, Judge Andrew J. Curran, in the Crawford county district court, this morning granted a temporary injunction, enjoining Alexander Howat and other district and local union officials of the Kansas district of the United Mine Workers from calling a strike.

Judge Curran did not make the injunction mandatory, as the state had asked, stating that it had been shown the Kansas mines now largely are at work. Judge Curran said that he would make the injunction mandatory if a showing were made in the future, during the life of the injunction, that the mines were idle.

The temporary injunction will be in effect until May 12, when the application of the state to make the injunction permanent is set for May 12.

Judge Curran declared the industrial court law constitutional, a lengthy decision on the demurrer offered by the defense to the application of the state.

He pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing an automobile from F. L. Dorsey.
