Suffrage eyes are turned on Connecticut with the hope that a special session of the legislature will be called there, and that the result will be ratification of the federal suffrage amendment. Mrs. Charles Dietrich of Hastings has gone to represent Nebraska in the monster rally in Hartford May 7. Each state in the union will have a delegate present. On Sunday evening, May 2, Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, will entertain them at dinner at the McAlpin in New York City. Other guests invited will be Mrs. Stanley McCormick, Miss Mary Garrett Hay, Mrs. Henry W. Rogers, Mrs. Frank J. Shuler, Miss Esther G. Ogden, Mrs. Arthur Livermore, and Miss Rose Young of the national board. Mrs. Gordon Norris, acting chairman for the League of Women Voters for New York, and Miss Katherine Ludington, who is expected to come over from Hartford to meet the women and escort them into Connecticut the next morning. On Monday, May 3, they will be entertained at luncheon in Hartford and God-speeded on their way for the Connecticut women. Governor Holcomb has set 11:30 o'clock, Friday, May 7, as the date on which he will receive the deputation of women who are coming to Connecticut from every state in the union for "special emergency week." The deputation will be joined by a large group of representative Connecticut women. Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National Suffrage association, and Miss Katherine Ludington, president of the Connecticut Suffrage association, will head it.

The women will not, however, come to Governor Holcomb until after a week's touring of the state, during which time they will have tested out Connecticut's suffrage sentiment and will make their report to him. Following the hearing, as a culmination of the week's activity, an out-of-door mass meeting will be held on the capitol grounds at which members of the delegation, together with prominent men of his state who are working for ratification of the federal suffrage amendment, will speak.

When the "Emergency Suffrage Corps," as the group of visiting women will be called, arrives in Hartford, Monday morning, May 3, for the opening of the campaign, they will be entertained at a luncheon in Hartford, after which they will be motored, in groups of 12 each, to New Haven, Waterbury, Bridgeport and New London, respectively, where they will hold evening meetings. Local committees of prominent men and women are making arrangements for these meetings.

On Tuesday the women will separate into 12 groups of four women each and during the next three days they will address a series of days approximately 40 meetings which will be held throughout the state. The men's republican ratification committee will provide men speakers

Phyllis Waterman

One of the popular numbers on the program given at the Brandeis theater Saturday evening for the benefit of the Christ Child society, was the exhibition of social dance steps given by Miss Phyllis Waterman and Mr. Charles Burgess.

An interesting feature of the number was the mystery of the bachelor partner of Miss Waterman. Not until Mr. Burgess stepped before the footlights was his identity known. Mr. Burgess and Miss Waterman are numbered among Omaha's most artistic dancers, and last night's performance adds merited honors to them both, as exponents of the terpsichorean art.

G. A. R. Card Party. Garfield circle of the G. A. R. will hold a card party on Tuesday afternoon, May 4, at the home of Mrs. Carrie Peters, 1110 South Twenty-eighth street.
