Some of the reasons are not difficult to discover. The spring season entered without the usual easement of money rates, and this, by itself, was indicative of an unusual loss upon the banks. Financing of crop planting amplified over other years because of high wages and high costs of machinery and fertilizer.

My thoughts flew back to the day when I heard her voice screaming in insane rage over the telephone.

And I heard again the wild shrick of "Oh!-h, don't," and then the sudden silence as if her voice had been smothered. I had gone nearly made to the tears with which she smothered. I had gone nearly made to the day of the first time in my life with her I lost control of myself, and I told her that I was through at last, and that I meant to go to her people and the them they must take care of her. PROGRESS OF CROPS.

Weekly Crop Bullettin of the Agricultural Bureau of the Omeha Chamber of Commerce.

The purpose of this fulletin is to give, as accurately as possible, a survey of the progress the crops, weekly, during the season. Normally this work might have started with April 1 instead of May 1. But this is not a normal season. Records for the three winter months, January, February and March, show light precipitation in the main and high temperatures throughout the country south of the Black Hills and roughly speaking along the line extending east through the northern tier of Nebraska counties and across north central Nebraska calen, and the standard of November continued through much of the winter, one centry in northeast Iows reporting countinuous anow cover on the ground from November 14 to March 15, with 110 days of good sleighing in the season. That they had settled matters sat-isfactorily I knew by their faces when a few minutes later they came back into the room. Mingled with the shadow which would always haunt Kenneth Stockbridge's eyes was the light of a happiness almost unrealized as yet, while Alice Holcombe's worn face glowed with a quiet rapture which transformed it.

I felt my spirits lighten at the sight. I liked Mr. Stockbridge sincerely, but it was not on his account that my sympathies were so engaged. For Alice Holcombe I had a very real affection, and I was glad indeed in her happiness. 'Won't the puppets all dance sat-
