W. W. Club Luncheon.
Mrs. John Morrison and Mrs. Charles F. Gruening will entertain the members of the W. W. club at luncheon Wednesday, 1 o'clock, at the Flatiron, followed by an Orpheum party.

New Nurse.
Cast your bread upon the waters. Omaha did. For it shall return after many days. And it has.

Last December there was a sale of Christmas seals. At the time we were told that the proceeds would be used right here in Omaha to further the anti-tuberculosis work—to help "double-cross" tuberculosis. (A double cross is the sign of the work.) The money then collected is now paying for two nurses and a Ford sedan in Omaha. The nurses are on the staff of the Visiting Nurse association. Until May 1, only one such nurse has been at work, Miss Myrtle McGirr. The new worker is Miss Josephine Albright of David City.

Luncheon for Recent Bride.
Mrs. John Morris of Fort Crook entertained at luncheon at the Morris quarters Tuesday in honor of Mrs. Thomas Christian, formerly Miss Grace Hughes of Council Bluffs. Covers were also placed for Mesdames W. L. Phillips, George Van Studdiford, Ben Wade, Lloyd Cook, Alpha Frye and Misses Anne Beasley and Dorothy White.

Tea for Visitors.
Mrs. R. J. Dinning entertained informally at a tea at her home Saturday afternoon in honor of her guest, Mrs. Charles Voegelé, Mr. and Mrs. Voegelé, who have been spending several days here, left Tuesday evening for their home at Mansfield, Ohio.

Uptide Dancing Club.
The Uptide Dancing club will give a dancing party Friday evening, May 14, at Druid hall, Twenty-fourth and Ames. The affair will be for Uptide employes only.

Woman's Civic Club of Ausley.
The newly organized Woman's Civic club of Ausley has elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. C. J. Stevens, president; Mrs. D. W. Thomson, vice president; Mrs. Jessie F. Knapp, recording secretary; Mrs. S. B. McKenty, correspondent secretary, and Mrs. H. Schmid, treasurer. The club has a membership of 20.

Shenandoah Club.
Mrs. T. R. Cooke, assisted by Mrs. William Simpson, entertained the members of the Shenandoah club at a May day luncheon at her home Saturday. A tiny May pole wreathed in flowers formed the centerpiece.

Mrs. T. L. Grange Jay, a well-known American society woman, who is collecting funds in England for the Y. M. C. A., is greatly aided in her work by her pet monkey.

What Will Be the Next Foible of Omaha's Smart Set?

"Movies in the home" seems to be the next fad which will be adopted by Omahans. The day will soon be here when we may simply turn to a machine which stands in an inconspicuous place in the home and without any effort see our favorite tragedian or comedian in the seclusion and quiet of our own domiciles. Instead of an orchestra to follow the picture, there will, no doubt, be victrola records planned for each picture and not a single particle of enjoyment will be lost through the innovation.

Phi Rho Sigma fraternity of the University of Nebraska Medical college is one of the few places where such a machine may be found. It is the property of one of the alumni members of the fraternity and through his courtesy the active members have the benefits of it. One of the young men operates it and when time hangs heavy, a movie enlivens the occasion. Saturday evening, May 1, the fraternity gave a house dance and the most novel feature of the evening were two comedies which were shown to the guests.

Federation Notes

The Sutton Bay View club closed a very successful season Monday, April 26. Reports of the year's work were given by officers and committee chairman. Mrs. Charles M. Brown, retiring president, gave the following report: Average attendance, 14. Number of meetings held, 15. Number of out-of-town guests, 4. Number of local guests, 2. Number of social and study meetings combined, 2. Number of memberships vacated by removal from town, 2. Philanthropic work, one French orphan supported at a cost of $36.50; the money subscribed from members only. Study topics, Americanism, Citizenship, Travel, Book Reviews and Debate.

At the closing meeting of the History and Art club of Seward, for the season of 1919-20, Saturday, May 1, the club decided to contribute $50 to further the work of relief in the near east. Mrs. W. S. Williams was hostess. The officers for the past year were Mrs. M. A. V. Davis, president; Mrs. H. N. Colman, vice president; Miss Flora Brande, sec-

Table Belongings

The hostess who would be smart and modern must keep up all the latest notions in table service and food garnishing. A square meal well cooked is well enough in its way; more important—vastly more important—is the service thereof—and a few light edibles perfectly served will give that hostess a high reputation—among her women friends at least—than any amount of good food minus the little touches that bespeak up-to-dateness.
