HEDGE TRIMMER TRIMS BOOTLEG GANG FOR $800

Nebraska City, May 4.—(Special.)—A syndicate of bootleggers, having headquarters at Auburn, Verdon and Falls City, is looking for the champion hedge trimmer of southeastern Nebraska, with a view to taking $800 worth of satisfaction out of his hide.

The hedge trimmer is a Belgian. He calls himself John Custer. He was recently discharged from the service, having been one of the last of the overseas veterans from this country to return from France. Finds Iowa Cache.

A few days ago John let it be known that while on a fishing trip on the Nishna river near Hamburg, Ia., he had unearthed a cache of liquor, where it had been planted by bootleggers. He said that it was in an oak barrel. He persuaded a friend to run his finger to the point and get the barrel.

On his return to Auburn he notified the elect that he had the goods on hand and a syndicate made up of six bootleggers of the towns named raised $800 to purchase the booze.

Before the sale was made, Custer gave each man a sample out of the barrel and they all pronounced it prime 110 proof stuff. It was like finding a gold mine.

After the sale had been concluded the purchasers determined they would try some more of it, but when they had run out a quart of the liquid the barrel went dry.

They investigated and found that Custer had fixed a quart bottle of "Old Taylor" in the head of the barrel and had partitioned the rest off and the balance of the contents of the barrel was plain water. He had marked the top of the whisky bottle on the head of the barrel and had bored in with an erring precision.

When the men discovered the trick that had been played on them they called the sheriff and stated that they had been held up by a bandit, but the true story leaked out from friends of Custer.

Alkali in Soap Bad for the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is Mulsified coconut oil shampoo (which is pure and greaseless) and is better than anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft, and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get Mulsified coconut oil shampoo at any pharmacy; it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
