

SAYS CANADIAN FIRMS CONTROL PAPER MARKET

J. E. Gefaell Charges Prices Set by Export Company Are Followed by Other Manufacturers.

Washington, May 13.—A combination of Canadian manufacturers practically controls the print paper market through the Canadian Export Paper, Limited, the senate committee investigating the paper shortage was told by J. E. Gefaell, sales manager of the Interstaff Pulp and Paper Co. He asserted that the combination controlled about 75 per cent of the dominion output and that the prices it set were followed by other manufacturers.

Victor F. Lawson, publisher of the Chicago Daily News, said his experience in the paper market in Canada prevented competition. The News, Mr. Lawson added, was virtually compelled to accept the company's terms in purchasing paper.

Chairman Reed, of the committee, said a solution of the paper problem could be reached either through agreement among publishers to curtail paper consumption or excise tax on print paper recommended by assistant Attorney General Ames. The committee would prefer that the great papers of the country solve the problem themselves, the chairman added.

M. A. Bodenhamer, representing the International Typographical union, denied charges recently made before the committee that the union, through its shop chapels, exercised a censorship on labor news.

Jimmie Cosgrove Must Pay $50 Vagrancy Fine Then Face Parole Board

Jimmie Cosgrove was up before District Judge Estelle on an appealed vagrancy charge. The judge, without a moment's hesitation, upheld the $50 fine imposed by the police judge a few weeks ago. Jimmie went out to get the money. He has an engagement, he told the court, to appear before the parole board next Saturday in Des Moines to show reason why he should not be recommitted to the Iowa reformatory.

Officers of Kansas Firm Wanted Under Anti-Trust Act

Topeka, Kan., May 13.—Warrants for the arrest of F. H. Smithmeyer, president, and George Kirchoff, secretary, of the Theodore Fischer Mercantile company of Lawrence, Topeka and Emporia, Kan., charging violation of the anti-trust law, were sworn out by J. B. Wilson, county attorney of Douglas county, following an all-day conference with Richard J. Hopkins, Kansas attorney general.

Engineer Hurt When Auto Collides With Street Car

A collision of a street car and an automobile, both of which were going at a high rate of speed, at Thirty-second and Dorcas streets at 9:30 Wednesday night resulted in the injury of J. D. Murphy, a railroad engineer, 1208 South Tenth street, who suffered a fracture of a bone in the right arm above the elbow, contusions of the wrist and body injuries. Three other men in the auto escaped without injuries.

Discharged Officer Says He Promised to Pay Exorbitant Price

Hans Mortensen, police officer, was discharged from the department by Chief of Police Eberstein on complaint of O. F. Leidel, 2127 Pierce street, who claims that Mortensen took 20 pounds of sugar from his French pastry shop without paying for it.

Mortensen declared yesterday that he promised to pay Leidel $6 for the sugar the next payday, May 17, and that Leidel should be prosecuted for selling him the sugar at the exorbitant price of 30 cents a pound.

Mortensen was discharged without trial, which he claims is unfair. He has been on the force six months and has a wife and two children. He is the fifth officer to be discharged within 30 days.

Divorcee Will Fight In Court to Keep Her Three Small Children

"I don't believe any court will see me and my three little children put out of our house," said Mrs. Marie Hazen at her home, 1470 Emmet street, yesterday, referring to notice received from agents of her former husband, George Hazen, who has sold the house and told her to move by May 15.

Mrs. Hazen filed suit in district court last Monday for $25,000 against her husband for breach of contract of marriage. She secured a divorce two years ago, but they started "going together" again and he proposed remarriage, which she accepted, she says. He bought the house and then refused to complete the marriage contract, she alleges.

Army Discharge Stolen

BURGLARS TAKE $108, RING AND MUSICAL DISCS

"Will You Miss Me When I'm Gone" and Four Other Phonograph Records Stolen From Home.

Musical burglars played a subtle joke on O. S. Marshall, 2424 Oak street, Wednesday night. Marshall and his family were away from home most of the evening and when they returned found that their house had been entered during their absence. A woman's ring and $108 in cash had been stolen.

When the family sat down to play a few phonograph records before retiring, they discovered that the large pile of records had been disturbed. Getting down their index, they checked back the records to ascertain if any were missing. At the completion of the check five records were found gone.

Marshall told police that the burglars had displayed rare judgment in their selection. "Then You'll Remember Me," "Gone But Not Forgotten," "Won't You Come Back," "Will You Miss Me When I'm Gone?" and "Holy City" had been taken.

"Holy smoke!" Marshall said to police, "sure I'll remember them, but I doubt if they'll come back. I don't miss the burglars as much as I do that 108 bucks and ring. Holy smoke!"

Summer Style for Men New And Also Prices---Terribly

Only Profiteers Will Be Able to Don Panamas and Palm Beach Suits This Year of Our Lord and The Clothing Trusts.

The rush is on and it's a fatal scramble. With the warm spring zephyrs come dreams of gay summer clothes and the last word in hot weather fashions.

But Omaha is to get a severe bump when it comes to choosing the raiment which will adorn its fair young Adonises. For the day of the Panama hat is past and the rulers of the world of fashion have decreed that the straight, stiff sailor, low of crown and high of brim, shall be doffed and donned with true, continental grace by the proletariat of Omaha. Along with overalls, shoes and other things, straw hats have soared.

They Cost a Fourth More. Sailor straw hats, the only kind that will be worn by the ultra-fashionable in this year, are even now selling in Omaha stores, and they cost 25 per cent more than they did last year.

At the three largest department stores in the city these hottest of the hot or latest of the late straws will be quoted from $3.50 to $10 and $12, or about the same gang of dough that used to be laid out for an H. to G. Panama.

And in those days it took some bird to wear a Panama and get by. As soon as he appeared on the street balancing his new lid branded "Panama" as far as the eye could see, he was marked down as "one of the boys." And at once became a mark for all fall guys.

But this year—even those birds won't touch 'em. For Panamas of the genuine 18-karat variety will knock 'em off for $10 to $25.

Think of It—25 Beans! Twenty-five dollars for a hat! Even so, if it's to be a Panama. And the chorus of this song is yet unsung.

With the broad-brimmed, low-crowned sailor straw must also be worn those well-fitting, crease-retaining, nonbagging Palm Beach suits.

Yes, the palm beach rules the roost this summer, even more so than ever before. And—apparently because of this—Friend Haberdasher has tilted the lid on them, too, and Kid Brummel better start to lay aside several weeks' pay to doll himself up with the June bride, walks the plank, about what price can one buy a palm beach suit this season? The manager of one of Omaha's most popular clothing resorts was asked.

"Well, of course, the palm beach suit has advanced in equal proportion to other commodities in the same line," came the defensive reply. "Everything is higher, you know. Now, we have some very clever models—" but not the same old price, eh?" interjected his interrogator. "No," quickly jerked Mr. Salesman. "The suits are very, very different. Yes, this year, the belt, which had ruled for so long a time, will be eliminated to a great extent. The trousers will be 'form-fitting,' as it were, very tight and shaped to the calf of the leg—saves pressing, you know.

"And the coat will have narrow shoulders, devoid of padding, and a trifle longer than heretofore."

"But, as I was saying," continued the interrogator, "How about the monetary consideration?" "Well, yes, palm beach suits will be up—ah—ah—about 50 per cent this year. We are selling them at $10 to $25."

"Even as I thought," his questioner concluded, as he edged toward the door. "I still have a couple of suits that I got for $7.50 three years ago. A little cleaning and pressing, and I guess they'll last me another season. Good day—" and he was off.

PALMER TO HIT BACK AT POST IN DEPORTATION ROW

Attorney General Will Appear Before House Rules Committee About May 24.

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, May 13.—Attorney General Palmer intends to hit back at Assistant Secretary of Labor Post for criticisms relative to his actions in deportation cases. Mr. Palmer visited Representative Campbell of Kansas, chairman of the house rules committee, yesterday to arrange to appear before the committee in response to the latter's invitation.

The attorney general said that he would be unable to appear before May 24 and wished to make sure that hearings would not be concluded by the rules committee in advance of that date. Mr. Campbell promised him that no action would be taken before that time and that he would have an opportunity to be heard.

There has been some speculation over the failure of democratic members of the house rules committee to criticize Mr. Post during his appearance before the committee. The inference has been drawn in some quarters that the White House is siding with the Department of Labor in the matter. Such action on the part of the president would mean a reflection upon the attorney general whose raids and wholesale arrests of alien radicals have met with criticism by Mr. Post. The attorney general has been equally severe in his strictures upon Mr. Post and the Department of Labor. A cabinet row has developed which it is rumored, may lead to resignations in one department or the other.

Roads Still Ouppled. Lincoln, Neb., May 13.—Railroad traffic in Nebraska and South Dakota, hampered yesterday by flood conditions due to heavy rains, was still crippled today.
