Snow Pudding

Take one cupful of carefully sorted rice, boiled in water until it is soft; when done, drain it so as to remove all the water, cool it, and add one quart of milk, the well-beaten yolks of two eggs, three tablespoonfuls of white sugar, and a little nutmeg. Pour into a baking dish, and bake for half an hour. Let it get cold, beat the whites of the eggs, and add a little lemon or orange juice, flavor with lemon or vanilla, drop or spread it over the pudding, and slightly brown it in the oven.

Or, this pudding may be served with a meringue sauce, made as follows: Boil three tablespoonfuls of sugar in a little water until it reaches the soft ball stage. Pour this syrup slowly on to the well-beaten whites of two eggs, beating constantly. Continue the beating for two minutes over a moderate fire. Add a little lemon or orange juice and use.

Sewing Room Conveniences

Nothing can take the place of the yardstick when one is sewing and cutting, yet frequently this necessity cannot be found. A great time-saver is a yardstick case of linen, a long, slender receptacle, divided in two by a line of machine stitching, thus forming pockets.

The case is hung up by a couple of brass rings sewed securely to the top corners. Down its front are several pockets, one for a folded rule, one for a coiled up tape measure, one for pencil, chalk and a stick of soapstone such as tailors use for marking, and a pair of "straps" to hold the cutting shears and button-hole scissors.

Above this on the wall hangs a linen covered book for measurements. One page is devoted to each member of the family and their intimate circle, so if one wishes to make the gift of a blouse or a dainty bit of lingerie, she knows the exact size.

This page not only contains the measurements needed for garment making, but also collar, stocking, shoe and glove sizes. One can easily imagine the joy such a record would be just before a "gift holiday" and the amount of diplomacy it would save.

Age of Fowls

The legs and feet of fowls indicate their age. Smooth legs and feet, with scales only slightly overlapping each other, indicate the young bird. After the first year the legs become rough and the scales develop large and overlap. The skin should present a clear and unwrinkled appearance. Colors vary greatly with the breed and do not register the tenderness or freshness of the bird. The degree of softness and elasticity of the feet of ducks and geese reveal their age, while the contour of the breast bespeaks their quality.

Vegetable Spring Salad.

Dredge half a cupful of sliced scallions with salt and paprika, pour over two tablespoonfuls of vinegar, add a half teaspoonful of sugar and let stand in the ice box for an hour. When ready to make the salad add two diced cooked beets, half a cupful of shredded cress, eight chopped and peeled radishes, two slices of minced green pepper (seeds removed), a quarter of a diced cucumber and a half a cupful of shredded romaine. Drain off any vinegar, add sufficient French dressing to moisten, and serve in lettuce cups.

Rug Hint.

If the rug curls up at the corners, sew an L-shaped piece of stiff buckram under the corners.

Puritan Hams and Bacon

Ham and "Hams"

Ham is one thing—"Hams" another. "Hams" are on the market in great profusion—"hams" of every grade, size and quality; only a small percentage of the hams which we produce is eligible to the Puritan label.

But Ham—Puritan Ham—is a quality brand—an unusual product, distinctively better, uniformly good.

Puritan Ham today will be the same sweet, tender flavory Ham tomorrow. Conditions, no matter from what source, will never change the quality. It will always remain Puritan.

Ask your dealer, and remember
