

PAIR OF BANDITS AND 2 OFFICERS SHOT IN BATTLE

Robbers Who Looted Howe Bank Overtaken in Missouri Foothills and $8,000 Plunder Recovered.

a bullet wound in his right leg above the knee. Another officer received a face flesh wound.
When the officers reached the bandits they were unconscious. They were hurried to a hospital at Atchison, Kan., where it was said last night both would die. Both men, when informed that they had little chance to recover, made a statement to the county attorney, in which they confessed to the robbery, according to the Atchison police.

Loot Recovered.
A search of their clothing revealed the stolen cash and Liberty bonds. It is being held by Atchison authorities pending the arrival there of Howe bank officials.

When the first news of the holdup was flashed to all cities and towns in Missouri, Nebraska and Kansas Sheriff Davis and John Kearns of Auburn, only a few miles from the scene of the holdup, formed a posse and followed the bandits. Other posses, hurriedly formed, searched throughout the south-western part of the state for the daring trio.
W. B. Hughes of the Omaha State Bankers' Protective association, in a statement issued late last night said that liberal rewards would be paid to the men who captured the bandits.

"I am going to die, I just as well come clean with the story," Ingram told the county attorney, according to Atchison police last night. "We came down from Kansas City to blow the bank for a little hurry-up cash. Getting caught is just one of the chances we took."

Ingram gave the name of his pal who escaped as Roy Edwards of Kansas City.

Woman Killed in Auto Crash Mrs. Inez Ensor

driving back to their home from Millard, was taken to the police station by Mr. Moeller. He told the police that the purse had been found just east of the Pappo bridge. The purse contained a check signed by Mr. Ensor, the initials on which coincided with the initials on the middy, believed to have belonged to the dead woman.

Story Told by Husband.
Detective Whalen was sent to the address on a jewelry bill, which was also in the purse, and upon arrival at the Ensor home, found that Mr. Ensor had read of the accident in the paper and had gone to the undertaking parlors to see if it was his wife who had been killed. Detective Whalen found the husband at the parlors just after he had identified the body.

According to the story which Ensor told the police, Montgomery had volunteered to take him to Irvington, where he starts to work at 11:30. His wife went along and Montgomery was going to take her back home and then to Council Bluffs, where she intended to visit a friend.

When Montgomery was confronted by Ensor at the city jail last night where he has been confined, he repudiated his former statements to the police and admitted that Mrs. Ensor had been riding with him when the accident occurred. He told the detectives that they had returned to the Ensor home and were on their way to Council Bluffs at the time of the accident, the detectives said. He refused to state why he had denied that Mrs. Ensor had been riding with him.

Did Not Return From Ride.
According to R. E. Reese, 3814 Fifty-third street, a neighbor of Mr. Ensor, Mrs. Ensor had been at his place early in the evening. Montgomery and Ensor had gone for a ride in Montgomery's car, Reese said, and Mrs. Ensor had remained at his house in the meantime. She told them that her husband had purchased an automobile from Montgomery and was to get the car Saturday, Reese said.

Shortly before 11 o'clock she went to her home to get ready to go to Irvington with her husband and Montgomery. They started a little while before 11 o'clock, Reese said. Montgomery and Ensor riding in the front seat and Mrs. Ensor riding in the back. Montgomery did not take Mrs. Ensor back to her home, Reese said.

According to the police, the place where Mrs. Ensor's purse was found was at a point about two miles from the Irvington road. Montgomery did not explain how the purse happened to be found on the Millard road, detectives said.
Mrs. Ensor was 38 years old. She is survived by three brothers, Walter and Giles Burycar of Council Bluffs and another living at Oakland, Ia., and two sisters, Mrs. B. Gale of Sioux Falls, S. D., and Mrs. F. Bishop, of Des Moines, Ia.

Despised Dandelion Comes Into Own With Advent of Bone Dry Act

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, May 21.—Time was when the saucy dandelion was a despised thing. It flaunted its yellow head in costly lawns and took forcible possession of vast areas.
Up to this year the only use found for dandelions was in the homes of people who used enormous quantities for greens, but this year things are different. People whose lawns are infested with dandelions are besieged by volunteers who beg the privilege of removing them.

Scores of pickers traverse the prairies gathering the blossoms and digging up the roots, for it has been discovered that dandelion wine is not at all hard to imbibe. It is easily made—just the blossoms, with a few roots macerated, a little yeast, some sugar and water and a few days' patience, and the result is something with a guaranteed kick and no danger of blindness or other ills following the use of wood alcohol.

Presbyterians Send Pledge of Support to President Wilson

Philadelphia, May 21.—A pledge of support in "these trying times" was telegraphed to President Wilson by the general assembly of the Presbyterian church in the United States of America in annual session here. In sending the greetings to the president the assembly adopted a resolution expressing gratification for his physical improvement and conveyed assurances it would offer prayers for his health and work.
Completion of the first Bible translated into the Chinese language was announced by Frank H. Mann, secretary of the American Bible society. He declared this one of the greatest steps thus far taken toward Christianizing China and predicted missionaries will have easier tasks in spreading religion among that race. It took more than a quarter of a century to translate the Bible into the mandarin language and it cost hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Elderly People Have A Daily Health Problem

Stomach muscles and digestive organs slow to act as age advances

MOST people find the years slipping by without realizing it, until suddenly confronted with the fact that they can no longer digest everything they would like to eat. It then becomes their daily task to avoid what they know to be chronic constipation.
When exercise and light diet fail it will be necessary to resort to artificial means. Strong physics and cathartics, however, are not advisable for elderly people. They act too powerfully and a feeling of weakness results.
What is needed is a laxative containing effective but mild properties. This is best found in Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin which is a combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin. It acts gently and without griping, and used a few days will train the digestive organs to do their work naturally again without other aid.
Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin has been on the market since 1892 and was the private formula of Dr. W. B. Caldwell, who is himself past 80 years of age and still active in his profession. It can be bought at any drug store and one bottle is enough to last even a large family many months. It is a trustworthy preparation.

In spite of the fact that Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is the largest selling liquid laxative in the world, there being over 6 million bottles sold each year, many who need its benefits have not yet used it. If you have not, send your name and address for a free trial bottle to, Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 571 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois.
