

ARCHBISHOP OF ARMAGH IN 1669 IS MADE SAINT

Oliver Plunkett, Irish Divine, Executed for Treason by British, Is Beatified At Rome.

Rome, May 23.—Oliver Plunkett, the Irish divine, who was made first archbishop of Armagh in 1669 by Pope Clement IX., and who was executed for treason by the British at Tyburn, July 1, 1681, was today beatified with fitting ceremony at a saint.

The ceremony of beatification took place at 10 o'clock this morning in the basilica itself, instead of the smaller hall of beatification, where such rites usually occur.

In the congregation were Count George Plunkett, representing the family of the archbishop; Sir T. Gratian Esmonde and family, of Birmingham, but Irish bishops objected to the choice of an Englishman for the service and Monsignor Pietro Paolo, canon of St. Peter's church, officiated. Monsignor Hagan, rector of the Irish college, delivered to the pope, in the name of the postulants, a reliquary containing fragments of the bones of the archbishop. This reliquary was a replica of the shrine which contains the bell of St. Patrick in Dublin.

The pope, after announcing the beatification, read the relics which were opened and a Te Deum was chanted. Then the curtain before the picture of the beatified one was withdrawn, and the bell of St. Peter's rang out the tidings, being answered by peals from other churches throughout the city.

This afternoon there was even a greater concourse when Pope Benedict, in the midst of gorgeously robed and uniformed dignitaries and attaches of the Vatican, visited the basilica to beatify the relics. The ceremonies ended with the eucharistic benediction by the pontiff.

GIRL-BRIDE OF SLAIN KING OF CHICAGO UNDERWORLD—Mrs. James Colosimo, girl-bride of the wealthy Chicago cafe owner, who was shot to death at his home recently by an unknown assassin. The police, it is said, believe that his murder may in some way have been connected with the $5,000,000 bond plot. On March 29 he secured a divorce from his wife, Victoria, and married Miss Dale Winter, one of his cabaret singers, at French Lick, Ind., in April.

Malicious Pranks of Boy Gang Drives Aged Physician to Suicide

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee Lensed Wire. Chicago, May 23.—Dr. Archibald Haas, 70 years of age, found himself the target of malicious pranks on the part of boys in his neighborhood. There did not seem to be any relief—neighbors would smooth over the pranks and remind the aged physician that "boys will be boys," but the situation became intolerable and the courtly and dignified physician, who had devoted his long life to alleviating suffering, ended his own perplexities by putting a bullet through his brain.

His diary, kept over a period of years, explained the act. There were many entries showing how his peace of mind had been disturbed by the boys in the neighborhood. They threw dead rats down his chimney, broke his windows, destroyed his garden and flower beds, tied ropes to his doorknobs so he could not answer the bell, and on two occasions turned on all the gas jets in the hallways, endangering the lives of all the occupants of the house.

The campaign of persecution was well organized. Doctor Haas and his family hoped it would die out, but, on the contrary, it increased until the boy led him to end his life. He left a considerable estate.

Robert B. Stanfield had a heavy majority over Albert Abraham for the republican senatorial nomination, on the face of the incomplete returns.

SEN. HITCHCOCK IS GLOATING OVER BRYAN'S DEFEAT

He Loses No Time in Spreading News in Washington That Commoner's Name Was Not Mentioned.

Washington, D. C., May 23.—(Special)—Senator Gilbert M. Hitchcock considers it a great triumph for his brand of democracy that a Nebraska democratic convention, with Charles W. Bryan as one of its members, failed utterly to mention the name of William J. Bryan.

Senator Hitchcock, who returned today from attendance at the convention, declared the convention "the most harmonious gathering ever held in the state."

Anticipated Fight. Relating how Bryan was kept below the deck, he said: "The only vote against that plank cast in the committee on resolutions was by Mr. Bryan's brother and even he abandoned his opposition when he found how overwhelming the sentiment was against it. Not a voice was raised against the resolutions on the floor of the convention which adopted them with a whoop."

"I went to the convention anticipating that Mr. Bryan might start a fight against the endorsement of the league and the condemnation of the Lodge reservations. I was very much gratified, therefore, to find that as far as Nebraska was concerned he had abandoned the fight. For the first time in 25 years Mr. Bryan's name was not even mentioned in the convention and the president's name was received with bursts of applause. "All for League."

"Where in former years the Nebraska conventions were wont to refer to the democratic party as the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Bryan, it was referred to in the opening paragraphs of the platform this year as the party of Jefferson, Jackson and Wilson. There is no question as to the attitude of Nebraska democrats on the issue of the league of nations."

Leaps From Wing of Airplane to Test New Life Saving Device

Atlantic City, May 23.—A leap from an airplane wing while the machine was tearing through space at 110 miles an hour 2,000 feet above the crowds at the Atlantic City airport, to test a new aerial life preserver, was the thrilling feat performed here by Sergeant Major Brotwell of Dayton, Ohio. It won him the first leg in the aerial league of America trophy.

The feat was the first of the aerial safety-device competitions in connection with the third Pan-American aeronautical congress in session here following starting acrobatics by Colonel Hickam, United States air service, flying a one-seated British biplane, prior to a flight to Washington.

Man Is "Pinched" for Pinching Woman's Leg At Movie Playhouse

Parents of Santono Salano might have intended their son to be a grand opera baritone of an expert peddler of bananas, but—

By trade Santono is a tinner and he lives at 1925 Sixteenth street. When he placed the desk sergeant at the police station last night he explained that it wasn't his fault that the usher in a movie theater pinched him in a seat adjoining one occupied by a pretty woman of the dizzy blonde type.

He failed to ring the bell, however, when he was asked to explain just why he pinched the leg of the woman to his right. Santono was held for disorderly conduct.

The "pinched" woman did not divulge her name to the police.

Department Store Clerk Is Arrested as Holdup Suspect

Raymond Schluter, 6325 North Twenty-eighth street, clerk in a department store, was arrested last night by Police Officer Rogers and is being held for investigation in connection with the robbery of the Liberty garage, 8401 North Thirtieth street, Florence, on the night of May 13.

Schluter is believed by the police to be one of the two unmasked men who entered the garage and held up J. W. Galloway, proprietor of the place, robbing the cash register of $99.25. Galloway was able to furnish a good description of the highwaymen to the police, and Schluter who answers the description of one of the men was arrested at Krug park. Galloway told the police that he resembles one of the robbers, the police say.

Penalties of More Than $10,000,000 Are Asked of Standard Oil

Tupelo, Miss., May 23.—Penalties aggregating more than $10,000,000 are asked in a suit filed in chancery court Saturday at the direction of Attorney General Frank Robertson of Mississippi against the Standard Oil company of Kentucky, alleging violation of the state anti-trust law.

The complaint charges that the defendant company sought to monopolize production and distribution of petroleum products in Mississippi and in conjunction with the Standard Oil company of New Jersey and subsidiary companies, to stifle competition. The bill also alleges that the Standard Oil company of Ohio had conceived a design of monopolizing the business in which it is engaged in the United States.
