

STOCKHOLDERS OF SKINNER CO. TO MEET TODAY

Stormy Session Expected in City Auditorium—Suit for 1,000 Shares Filed Against R. C. Howe.

Although the corporate orders of the Skinner company specify that no legal meeting of its stockholders can be held except in Wilmington, Del., a meeting called by R. C. Howe, recently ousted president and general manager, will be opened in the City auditorium today at 10 a. m.

A large attendance and stormy session are anticipated. The firm has 5,000 stockholders. Paul Skinner and his brother, Lloyd, are not particularly interested, according to their attorney, W. A. Schall.

Suit was filed by the Skinner brothers and the firm against R. C. Howe yesterday to compel him to return 1,000 shares of stock, which they claim he still holds, although he returned 14,000 shares last week.

MOVIES

The unified motion picture program is the newest movement originated and fostered by the best movie houses in the country. A dignified entertainment in which each part has a definite relation to every other part is the ideal instead of the oldtime hodgepodge of features thrown together with no regard for unity or good taste. An excellent example of this harmonious arrangement of features is given this week at the Strand theater. Harry B. Watts, manager of the Strand, has arranged as an accompaniment to "The Dancin' Fool," a delightful dance act and a jazz overture. Four saxophones are added to the orchestra for the overture, house lights are dimmed and the spotlight helps to emphasize such melodies as "Stop It," "Slow and Easy," "Daddy" and "By Jingo."

Seldom is anything as charming as the dance act which follows shown in Omaha. Two girls, Miss Ruth Betts and Miss Mildred Jacque, in the daintiest costumes imaginable, dance through three quaint numbers aided and abetted by enchanting stage scenery.

A powerful sermon, made into a motion picture, is "The Stream of Life," written and directed by a minister, Dr. James K. Shields of New York City, which was given a preliminary showing in Omaha yesterday morning at the Rialto theater. Dr. Shields made the picture as an experiment in motion picture sermons while on a vacation in New Jersey last year. Dr. Shields believes that Sunday evening movie sermons will be a regular church feature one of these days. The picture was shown last night at the Dietz Memorial church.

Hallam Cooley, who once upon a time played with Mary Pickford in "Daddy Long Legs," is at present caring for a large and painful lump on his right shin.

He recently received a package from Australia containing a curved wooden stick pointed at one end. "A boomerang from one of my aborigine admirers," said Hallam, and stepped out into the courtyard to try it out. He threw the stick with considerable force and then waited for it to return to his feet, as he had been taught all good boomerangs should.

It bounded off a wall, broke a window, circled back toward him, volplaned abruptly down and struck him on the shin.

The next day he got a letter from this far-away admirer telling him the stick was used by savages in crudely tilling the soil.

When you see Bill Hart this week at the Rialto in "The Toll Gate," be sure to note how skillfully the tiny curly-haired boy who takes the part of Mary Brown's son trends water when he accidentally falls into a deep pool. Hart rescues him.

Eugene O'Brien has signed with Selznick until 1924.

Larry Semon's next comedy has been picturesquely entitled "Solid Concrete."

Colleen Moore has started a "No Hats for Summer" movement among the girls out in Los Angeles. Miss Moore says that hats are a bother anyway.

Agnes Ayres, a new start in film-land, permitted herself to be "rescued" one day last week at Long Beach. And it wasn't in the movies either. Miss Ayres is an accomplished long-distance swimmer and on this day she was such a long ways out that a navy aviator flying overhead decided she was drowning. Descending he alighted near Miss Ayres and began the work of rescue. To save the gallant young man from embarrassment the star allowed him to take her ashore amid the applause of the crowd which had gathered.

Negro Serving Life Term Marries; Plan Honeymoon to Pen

Russell Cottrell, under a life sentence in the state penitentiary for the shooting of Harry Rosenthal during an attempt to rob the Rosenthal grocery store at Eighteenth and Chicago streets the night of March 27, was married yesterday afternoon in the Douglas county jail to Miss Irene Baker, 2516 Grant street. Both are colored.

AT THE THEATERS

John B. Hymer, the well known actor-playwright and producer, heads his own company in the presentation of "Tom Walker in Dixie." This is one of the largest attractions in the current bill. Another is an elaborately staged act of diverse entertainments which is styled "World of Variety." Ben K. Benny, the talking comedian and violinist, is featured on the bill. One of the most pleasing acts is that of the Scotch singing quadruple, Nan Gray. The show this week is to conclude the regular Orpheum season. The summer season opens next Sunday at popular prices, with five standard Orpheum circuit acts and with first-run, big feature films.

Miss Robina Kammerer testified in court that her mother is ill in bed, and that she herself had just returned from a futile trip to find her brother in Winnipeg, Can. In the Springtime

It's just at this time of the year that we need something taken from Nature to restore the vital forces.

People get sick because they go away from Nature, and the only way to get well is to go back. Something grows out of the ground in the form of vegetation to cure almost every ill. Some of these vegetable growths are understood by man, and some are not. Animals, it would seem, know what to do when they are sick better than men and women. Observers have noted that a sick horse, dog or cat will stop eating food and seek out some vegetable growth in the field or yard, which, when found and eaten, often restores appetite and health. Haven't you seen these animals do this very thing yourself?

Dr. Pierce, of Buffalo, N. Y., long since found herbs and roots provided by Nature to overcome constipation, and of these he selected Mayapple, leaves of Aloe, root of Jalap, and from them made little white sugar-coated pills, that he called Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets. You must understand that when your intestines are stopped up, poisons and decayed matter are imprisoned in our system and these are carried by the blood through your body. Thus does your head ache, you get dizzy, you can't sleep, your skin may break out, your appetite declines, you get tired and despondent. As a matter of fact, you may get sick all over. Don't you see, how useless all this suffering is! All that is often needed is a dose of castor oil, or something which is more pleasant, a few of Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets, which he has placed in all drug stores for your convenience and health. Try them by all means. They are probably the very thing you need.—right now.

GREAT WHITE FLEET

"Everybody's" Store

That Is the Burgess-Nash Company Slogan

Lower Priced Merchandise

That is the slogan of the hour.

These two slogans are closely connected, and this fact has been more forcibly brought to the attention of the public during the past week than ever before.

"Everybody" Is Talking

About the great movement which we started.

They looked to "Everybody's Store" as leaders of this community. In good faith to the people, who give us their confidence and rightly expect us to serve them and point out to them the right way during these perplexing times, we offered, with the exception of such merchandise which we sell under contracts that cannot honestly be disregarded

Our Entire Stock of Merchandise At 20% Deduction From the Actual Price

It was a little hard in the beginning to give "Everybody" the realization of the magnitude of a movement so large, but we feel that it has now become an accepted fact, and we note with pleasure that each day others follow in our lead.

"Everybody" Is Taking Advantage of Our Wonderful Values

The eagerness with which "Everybody" is buying, the manner in which they freely and confidently go all over the store, choosing whatever they want in the way of apparel or furnishings for the home, is proof that they appreciate what has been done for them.

Watch Our Windows

"Everybody" has been enthusiastically watching our windows for the daily features. We call your attention to the fact that new "specials" are displayed daily.
