

JOSEPH HAYDEN IS FOUND DEAD IN HOTEL ROOM

Prominent Omaha Philanthropist Succumbs to Dilated Heart While Asleep in Apartment.

Joseph Hayden, president of Hayden Bros. store, was found dead in bed in his apartment at the Hotel Fontenelle at 10:30 a. m. yesterday.

Complains of Feeling Tired. Upon leaving Mr. Vance, Mr. Hayden complained of feeling tired.

Comes as Severe Shock. The body of Mr. Hayden was lying prone in bed, death having come calmly.

Miss Sadie Hayden, a sister, who made her home with Mr. Hayden during the last year, is out of the city on a visit with two brothers, William and James, in the south.

His death came as a severe shock to his friends, as his health was particularly hale and preserved, considering his age.

From humble parentage he worked his way successfully through life to the pinnacle of business glory. He was a student of psychology and a philanthropist.

Store to Close Two Days. Hayden Brothers' store will be closed Monday and Tuesday in mourning for the official death.

Funeral services will be held at St. Cecilia's cathedral Tuesday morning.

Two sisters, Mrs. Thomas Flynn and Miss Sadie Hayden, of Omaha, and two brothers, William and James, living, respectively, in Alabama and Florida, survive.

Foreign Consuls in Omaha Mix Official Duties With Pursuit of Yankee Dollars

PETER EDQUIST-SWEDEN

OTTO WOLFF-DENMARK

T. J. NOLAN-BELGIUM

A. L. UNDERLAND-NORWAY

ANTONIO VENUTO-ITALY

MATTHEW A. HALL-ENGLAND

Omaha is headquarters for six foreign consuls for the state of Nebraska.

Italy, Belgium, Great Britain, Norway, Sweden and Denmark are each represented here by natives of their respective countries.

The official title of Antonio Venuto, local representative of the Italian government, is Agente d'Italia Consule, Representing Belgium is T. J. Nolan. Matthew A. Hall is consul for Great Britain; A. L. Underland, for Norway; P. A. Edquist, for Sweden, and Otto Wolff for Denmark.

To Promote Trade. In a word, they are stationed here for their countrymen's interests and to promote trade between this section of the country and their own respective fatherlands.

Though their official duties as consuls are plentiful enough at times, business, trades and professions constitute their chief occupation in life.

One would imagine a consul a belliose aristocratic, and sort of peculiarly foreign personage. An interview reveals that the Danish consul may be seen daily behind a counter attending to his general merchandise store at Sixteenth and Locust streets.

Behind the Counter. For instance, the Danish consul may be seen daily behind a counter attending to his general merchandise store at Sixteenth and Locust streets.

Famous Over Night. Ordinarily the duties of a consul are simple; he may be called upon to attest to the signature of a countryman; he may be asked by the United States government to investigate a passport; he may be summoned in court as an interpreter.

Under divers conditions, a consul may be an extremely important figure in the settlement of international affairs. Such was evidenced not many years ago when mobs of enraged citizens in South Omaha stormed a Greek settlement.

The Greek consul over this district whose office is in Chicago played an important part in submitting a full report of the affair and eventually effecting a settlement in damages between Greece and the United States.

Consular or Legal? The Italian consul, for 28 years a resident of Omaha, puts his entire time to his official duties. The large number of Italian residents in the city requires more than the ordinary duties of another consul.

A lucrative legal practice is followed by the English consul. So busy is this representative that a person seeking his advice during office hours is asked by a demure stenographer whether the interview regards consular advice or legal service.

The Swedish consul is daily engaged in the duties of a civil engineer.

Must Fight Tammany Hall.

On the question of the league of nations plank the country is going to witness the odd alliance of Bryan and Charles F. Murphy of Tammany Hall, together with an aggregation of other democratic elements whom the Commoner has anathematized in the last 24 years. It was the antagonism to the president on the league issues manifested by New York, New Jersey, Rhode Island and Georgia democrats that caused Mr. Wilson to issue his letter calling on the party to support the covenant without saving reservations.

The alliance, however, will disappear when it comes to the liquor issue. Bryan's eastern support in the fight on the president's covenant plank also is yearning for a wet, or damp, plank in the platform which the Nebraska man will not tolerate. Nor can the wets expect aid from the president, for Mr. Wilson contemplates making a special appeal to the churches to support him on the league of nations issue and a wet plank would alienate much of the church support he aims to attract from the republican to the democratic party.

FOUR DECISIONS TO DECIDE ALL DELEGATE ROWS

122 Seats Involved in Contests, Are Grouped in Few Test Cases Which Will Set Precedents.

Chicago, May 29.—Decisions in four of the contests among delegations to the republican national convention probably will settle all of the disputes, which involve 122 seats, members of the national committee said today.

At national committee headquarters it was explained that the contests naturally group themselves into four classes. The first comprises fights for control of state organizations in the south.

Clarence B. Miller, secretary of the republican national committee, arrived yesterday with the briefs. The national committee will begin consideration of them Monday and four days, it is estimated, will furnish all of them.

Most From South. Aside from the contests in the Tenth Minnesota (Minnesota) and the Fourth and Fifth Missouri districts, the contests are from southern states. The calendar of contests, as prepared by Secretary Miller, follows:

Alabama—Fourth district, one delegate.

Arkansas—At large, four; First district, one; Fifth district, two.

District of Columbia—At large, two (three sets of contestants.)

Florida—At large, four; First, Second, Third and Fourth districts, one delegate each.

Georgia—At large, four; First to Eighth districts, inclusive, and Tenth district, one each; Ninth district, two.

Louisiana—At large, four; First to Eighth districts, inclusive, one each.

Minnesota—Tenth district, two.

Mississippi—At large, four; First to Eighth districts, inclusive, one each.

Missouri—Fourth and Fifth districts, two each.

North Carolina—At large, four; First, Second, Third, Sixth, Eighth, Ninth and Tenth districts, one each; Fourth, Fifth and Seventh districts, two each.

Oklahoma—Second, Fourth and Fifth districts, two each.

South Carolina—At large, four; first to Seventh districts, inclusive, one each.

Tennessee—Sixth and Tenth districts, one each.

Texas—At large, four; Third, Seventh, Eighth and Seventeenth districts, one each.

Virginia—At large, four; First to Eighth districts, inclusive, and Tenth, one each; Ninth district, two.

To Trim Excess Delegations. Another sort of contest to be handled either by the national committee or the state delegations involved is the elimination of 56 "excess" delegates from 10 states where more than the allotted number of delegates were chosen with fractional votes.

In these 10 state delegations 117 delegates were certified to the convention with only 61 available seats.

Iowa—Twelve delegates for six seats.

Mississippi—Eight delegates for six seats.

Missouri—Eight delegates for four seats.

Nevada—Twelve delegates for six seats.

Tennessee—Ten delegates for five seats.

Oklahoma—Eight delegates for four seats.

Texas—Thirty four delegates for 17 seats.

Virginia—Three delegates for one seat.

Count Injured in Auto Wreck; King Escapes

Paris, May 29.—Count Alain De Kergarion today suffered a fractured skull and broken arms in an automobile accident due to an effort to evade collision with the car of King Alexander of Greece.

The condition of the count is critical. The wife of the count also was injured and a son of the count suffered a broken arm. Nobody in King Alexander's car was injured.

Alexander, who was driving his own machine, turned sharply to the right as the cars approached one another at a crossroads in Fontainebleau forest, while the count veered sharply to the left. The machines cleared each other, but the count apparently lost control and his machine struck the curbstone, capsized and then crashed into a tree.

Speculators Bilked Of Two Million by Fake Wire Tappers

New York, May 29.—Everett A. Hutchings was arrested here on a telegram from Los Angeles stating that he was wanted on a charge of swindling J. D. Norris out of $50,000 by a fake wire tapping game. Hutchings is alleged to be one of a band that swindled Californians out of $2,000,000 by representing they could get advance information on company stock movements.

This information they alleged they could get through an accomplice using a telephone exchange who would hold up the quotations on the rise and fall of stocks sufficiently long to enable those operating with him to place orders for sale or purchase of stock.

So far Hutchings has made no statement to the district attorney. He is fighting extradition. His only comment on his arrest was that he is a victim of a political ring.

Deputy Sheriff Maclaren of Los Angeles, who is here to take Hutchings back, has stated Hutchings' arrest was in a follow-up of sensational disclosures in Los Angeles.

The district attorney here has wired for additional information concerning Hutchings' alleged crime and the operations of the gang of which he is supposed to be a member.
