NEW 'OUTLAW' TO TEST METTLE OF U. S. HORSEMEN

"Idaho Bill" Offers $4,000 to First Cowboy Who Can Ride Mustang Raised on His Ranch.

Hastings, Neb., May 30.—(Special)—Col. "Idaho Bill" Pearson of this city, who has directed the cowboys' reunion at Las Vegas, N. M., for the last five years, has posted an offer of $4,000 to any man who will ride a horse which he brought here this week from his ranch in Idaho.

The showman has good reason for his faith in the animal, for not only has it thrown every rider who has attempted to master it, but this week it nearly sent Pearson to hospital for an amputation of the leg. Astride another horse, Peterson rode up to the "outlaw" in his corral near Holstein to adjust its on the open ranges of Wyoming, Montana and Idaho, bringing them by the carload to Grand Island where he broke them to saddle and harness. During the war, except for the time given the Las Vegas meet, he was employed in purchasing horses for the government. He is said to own and control more "outlaw" horses than any other man in the country.

Recently Colonel Pearson brought to Hastings a cinnamon bear which he lariated in New Mexico. This with a buffalo which he is keeping on a farm near Red Cloud, together with several other wild animals which he has in New Mexico, has been offered to the city of Hastings as a nucleus for a zoo.

Arguments Will Begin in Fremont Sewer Case Today

Fremont, Neb., May 30 .- With the ending of testimony Saturday, in the suit to close Fremont's sewer ditch to the Elkhorn river, the case became a straight-out fight of Douglas county, for the state, against the city of Fremont, as the case against the Elkhorn river and the Elkhorn valley drainage systems was dismissed.

A mass of contradictory testimony developed in the effort to prove or disprove the fact that the sewer outlet is a nuisance and should be abated. District Judges Button and

Sinn Fein Leader Declares No Power Can Compel Relinguishment of Fight For Independence

> By JOHN STEELE York Times-Chicago Tribune Cable, Copyright, 1920.

Roscommon, May 30 .- "It is impossible for the Irish people to relinguish the least jolt in their deman for absolute independence. No man, whether bishop or anyone else, can make a bargain for a free Irish people. No power either in Rome or anywhere else can compel Ireland to abate it's demand in any particular."

The above answer was given me by Father Michael O'Flanagan, patriot Irish priest and vice president of the Sinn Fein organization, sitting in his presbytery in this little western town, answering my questions as to the probable outcome of the negotiations now reported in progress in Rome between the Irish hierarchy and British representatives for an Irish settlement.

"The bishops as a body," he said, have no political power. As individuals they hold all sorts of political views and are no doubt mostly conservatives. No Irish bishop is under 50 years of age, most of them are over 60, and many older.
