

COUNCIL BLUFFS MEN START MOVE FOR FREE BRIDGE

Mayor Zurmuehlen Will Name
Committee of Seven to Confer With Omaha Business Men.

The Council Bluffs city council last night authorized Mayor Zurmuehlen to name a committee of seven men to meet seven Omaha men to be appointed by Mayor Smith to put into definite form plans for a free highway bridge between the two cities.

Mayor Zurmuehlen announced that he would not make public his selection until Wednesday for the reason that some of the men selected had not fully agreed to undertake the task. Two of those chosen will go to Kansas City today, and for this reason Mayor Smith will be asked to postpone his dinner conference until some day next week.

President C. W. Sears of the Carter Lake club, Commissioner Towl of the Omaha city council, and W. L. Holzman, treasurer of the Nebraska Clothing company, appeared before the council and asked co-operation of the city in protecting a large section of East Omaha from overflow dangers, and provide drainage for stagnant flood water which has now become a menace to public health. The council appropriated $1,000 to aid in the work of building a levee and provide the required drainage, provided the Carter Lake club would give an equal amount. The Omaha men gave immediate promise that the money would be available at once. The improvements contemplated will cost several thousand dollars and additional funds will be raised in East Omaha.

MOVIES

"The Garter Girl," starring Corinne Griffith and showing at the Muse today is real entertainment. Miss Griffith portrays a vaudeville dancer with a sincerity seldom equaled on the screen. The scenes are laid in the big city and the small town; the latter ones appear when Rosalie Ray becomes utterly discouraged and disillusioned and flees for refuge far from the city. The title of the picture comes from her vaudeville act in which she swings far out over the audience and each night kicks one of her lovely garters into the crowd. Rosalie, in spite of the disgust she feels for men of the city, believes those whom she will find in the country will be different. She discovers they are alike and she returns to her work in the city. The story is by O. Henry.

Marshall Neilan discovered Wesley Barry, the bellboy of "Don't Ever Marry," fighting with some boys on the streets of Los Angeles, and immediately took him in tow. The youngster, just 12 years old, is to be starred alone soon. He has made several trips lately with the Neilan outfit and each time he takes with him his faithful cat and dog companions, Maria and Hercules.

Candidates Now in Command at Chicago

The Proctor of the Hitchcock leadership. It was stated at Wood headquarters that the tentative program for the making of the nominating and seconding speeches has been completed, including Governor Allen of Kansas as the man who will place General Wood in nomination, a seconding speech by former Secretary of War Henry L. Stimson of New York and seconding speeches by spokesmen from half a dozen states. This plan, of necessity, may be changed by any regulation that the committee on rules will make limiting the number of speeches and time schedule of the convention oratory.

Wood Sentiment Grows.
Governor Lowden has not designated the maker of his nominating speech and it was indicated tonight that this will not be determined until late this week. The Harding and Johnson nominators have not been named.

Out of all of the corridor gossip and headquarters claims, there seemed to be nothing definite that indicates that any candidate has any particular edge for nomination over any other. It was increasingly evident that a thoroughly prepared movement has been started to line up wavering delegations that are uncommitted and unpledged for the Illinois governor.

The arrival of General Wood started a trend of sentiment toward him in the late evening that could be clearly felt and the spirit exhibited by the Wood forces indicated strongly that they are just moving forward for the real attack preceding the decisive convention test.

Hoover Headquarters Elaborate.
The Hoover campaign organization moved into the entire ninth floor of the Congress hotel and opened up the most elaborate convention headquarters of any of the candidates.

Speculation as to the position of Senator Boies Penrose took another new turn with the arrival of a telegram tonight stating that Mr. Penrose will reach Chicago Friday noon. His proxy in the national committee that was held by John T. King of Connecticut was turned over today by Mr. King to A. K. Cassell of Philadelphia, who sat for Senator Penrose all through today's session of the national committee.

Start Hearing Contests.
Mr. King, as the national committeeman from Connecticut was conspicuous today in the national committee hearings on contested seats. His attitude has been such, inside leaders indicated, as to forecast the impossibility of any reconciliation between himself and the Wood camp.

The national committee began the task of making up the temporary roll of the convention today. The "Lily White" delegation from Arkansas, the majority of whose members are claimed by Governor Lowden's friends, were seated. In the Alabama contest the contestant did not appear and the regular delegate was seated. He is uncommitted.

Three Factions in Florida.
The rest of the day was spent in hearing the troubles of the Florida republicans. Three factions appeared and the situation was so snarled by legal and technical questions that a subcommittee was appointed to spend the night in making up a report for the committee tomorrow morning.

It appears probable that the delegation friendly to General Wood, the regular "Black and Tan" faction will win, but there is a possibility of a compromise or split delegation being seated, representing all three factions. The committee will debate this today and then will proceed to taken up the case of the District of Columbia.

Meetings Are Open.
The delegates seated by the committee today were:
ALABAMA.
J. B. Atkinson of Clanton.
W. H. Mixon, contestant, did not appear. Committeeman Oliver D. Street told the committee the contestant was made "out of whole cloth."

ARKANSAS.
At large—H. L. Remmell, John I. Worthington, Charles R. Rix, A. J. Russell, E. M. Rowe, J. H. Butler, D. F. Taylor, Andrew I. Roland. These are all white men and have one-half vote each. The unsuccessful contestants were headed by E. C. Morris, a negro, of Helena.
First district—C. T. Bloodworth of Corning, W. L. Portly was the contestant.
Fifth district—A. C. Remmell of Little Rock, George E. Owen of Conway. There were three contestants.

On the question of seating extra delegates from states which ignored the official call, such as Arkansas and Illinois, the committee postponed action. Some way will be found to seat all of the delegates, but the extra alternates will have to find roosts far in the rear of the Coliseum.

The sessions of the committee were thrown wide open. Even in "executive sessions" the newspaper men were permitted to be present.

Motor trucks will be employed by the United States forest service in national forests for the transportation of materials and men to fires.

Convention Plans Made By President Wilson

praises the president and his administration to the skies, and echoes Mr. Wilson's most trenchant utterances in defense of the league of nations covenant without reservations and denunciation of the republican reservationists and irreconcilables.

The league of nations and other important planks of the platform the president desires adopted are being prepared by Mr. Wilson himself and will be forwarded to San Francisco. A wet plank will not be among them, and Mr. Wilson desires none adopted.

Mr. Cummings said that the platform the president wants is essentially the platform adopted by the Virginia democratic convention, which the national chairman believes reflects the attitude of the party overwhelmingly.

Favor Virginia Platform.
The Virginia platform was silent on the liquor issue and included the following planks:
Advocate ratification of the peace treaty with its league of nations covenant "without" reservations which would impair its essential integrity.
Condemn "an indiscriminate bonus to enlisted men" of the army and navy as a smirch on true patriotism and an unjust financial burden on people.
Condemns the republican congress for failing to accept the president's advice to revise the tax laws by repealing war taxation and readjusting the revenue act to a peace basis. Accuses the republicans of failure to aid the farmer, of advancing measures to cripple the agricultural interests.

"Love Feast" Not Expected.
"Devices for determining" labor disputes should be contrived so as to prevent strikes and lockouts.
Mr. Cummings said that he did not anticipate a "love feast" in San Francisco, but he expects the president to control and that Bryan will be disposed of effectually when he endeavors to commit the party to the league of nations reservations or adoption of a dry plank.

The presidency has a definite plan of procedure regarding further efforts to procure ratification of the treaty, but Mr. Cummings said it would be improper for him to disclose it.

Robbed by Pickpocket.
While on his way to the Forest Lawn cemetery Sunday afternoon, W. Fitch, driver for the Alamo Dairy, Twenty-sixth and Leavenworth streets, was relieved by pickpockets of a pocketbook containing $47. Fitch did not notice his loss until after he arrived at the cemetery.

Luck of Colonel Macrae Still Continues With Him

Good fortune, which marked the career of Col. Donald Macrae of Council Bluffs during his service in France as the commanding officer of the crack Mobile Hospital No. 1, is still with him.

Yesterday he left his automobile standing in front of a store in Omaha, while he transacted some business. It had disappeared when he came out and he returned to the Bluffs on a street car.
He had just ordered a new car in the afternoon when he received a phone call from Omaha that his car had been brought back and parked on the spot from which it was taken.

The Nebraska

What Every Woman Knows

YOU can't persuade a woman to buy a man's shirt just because the pattern's good. The fabric must have a constitution to back it up. The cloth must be well constructed and woven for wear. The garment must be made by skilled craftsmen, with a finish that can bear any scrutiny.

Eagle Shirts pass this feminine examination with flying colors. Their exclusive fabrics are designed and woven by the makers, and are made up with the skill that comes from fifty years' experience.
