

To Give Cash Prizes For Best Drawings Of Jiggs and Maggie

Here's your chance, boys and girls. Here's an opportunity to win a cash prize and treat your school playmates and your teacher to a movie at the Sun theater without the cost of a cent to yourself. All you have to do is draw a picture of "Jiggs" and "Maggie." You know "Jiggs" and "Maggie."

They appear in George McManus' "Bringing Up Father" cartoon each day in The Bee. Send your pictures to the Jiggs Editor of The Bee. To the boy or girl making the best drawing a cash prize of $8 will be awarded. In addition, he may take his entire class, including his teacher, to the Sun theater to see "Jiggs and the 400" next week. Second prize is $7 and third and fourth prizes $5 each. Drawings must be in The Bee office by next Monday night. The contest is open to any grade school pupil in Omaha. The Bee's staff artist and managers of the Sun theater will be judges of the drawings.

ROBBING WOOD OF DELEGATES, SEN. MOSES ASSERTS

Manager for General Says Steam Roller Is Being Used to Strengthen Lowden.

mate question of his right to a seat to be submitted to the committee through its committee on credentials.
"Yet the national committee, with Chairman Hays absent from the chair, is assuming to decide the matter in advance—but to decide it upon the narrow lines of the committee's personal preference.
"Gen. Wood's friends have always understood that the national committee as at present constituted favored the nomination of Governor Lowden. We have never questioned their right to hold such a preference, but we do question, seriously and vigorously, their right to color their decisions, which should be merely ministerial, if not judicial, but such preference, and the conditions under which so many of the present national committeemen hold their places which we now assail the course which they are pursuing.
"Speaks of Candidates.
"As a result of the primaries and conventions held throughout the union, substantially one-third of the members of the present national committee have failed to get in the confidence of their constituents and they will go out of office the day the convention adjourns. Yet these repudiated committeemen, in defiance of the popular judgment already rendered, are seeking to impose their selfish purpose upon the convention, the party and the country.
"Certain facts are outstanding in the compilation of pre-convention events. Chief among these is the demonstrated fact that three men have shown themselves to possess widespread and well-founded support among republicans. These men in the order of their demonstrated strength, are Gen. Wood, Senator

Johnson and Mr. Hoover. Except in his own state, Gov. Lowden has never succeeded in running better than a poor third in any primary. This is not said in any derogation of Gov. Lowden's many good qualities. It is a plain statement of political fact to which the country is not impervious, even though the national committee is.
"Scheme to Help Lowden.
"There seems to be no secrecy about the national committee's plans. They think by their high-handed methods to remove from the Wood column a sufficient number of votes to the Lowden column to equalize the apparent strength of these two rivals on the first ballot. One hesitates to revive the harsh language of 1912, but there is only one word which can fitly characterize such procedure, and I refer inquisitive persons to the vocabulary of eight years ago to learn what that word is.
"Twice before in republican history have similar tactics been employed. In 1892 at Minneapolis, no attention was paid to the merits of any contestant and delegates were seated solidly upon the basis of the common preference, which they had with a national committeeman, who awarded them their seats. Twenty years later similar tactics were pursued in Chicago—and a student of political history may find something worthy of reflection if he will scan the election returns in those two years, so fatal to republican hopes.
"Listen to Paid Agents.
"It is true that the committee sits in the open with the paid agents of George W. Perkins and others, freely circulating through the committee room and whispering their darkening counsels into the ears of unsuspecting committeemen. With this exception the parallel is perfect. I strongly hope it will not be carried to the election as it was eight and 28 years ago.
"I am saying this, of course, chiefly because of my recent interest in Gen. Wood's candidacy. But it all applies equally to Senator Johnson and to Mr. Hoover, who, with Gen. Wood have demonstrated the possession of popular political support. I cannot tell how either Senator Johnson or Mr. Hoover would comment upon the astounding arrogance of what is now taking place in the Coliseum ante room; but I know them well enough to know that they would not for a minute countenance in their own behalf the high-handed usurpation which the national committee is setting up and they would be as strict as I to denounce it when practiced upon another.

Wood-Johnson Combine.
"To this I can only add that the Wood strength plus the Johnson strength easily control the convention and while the national committee may be too short-sighted to know that what they are doing is making a coalition of these two forces inevitable, there are other people discerning enough to see it."
Col. Procter and others in Wood headquarters called a conference tonight after hearing of Senator Moses' statement and it was indicated that a statement from the Wood headquarters was under consideration.
Lowden and Johnson managers both hailed the Moses statement with satisfaction. The Lowden supporters professed to believe that the statement would not injure, but might help, the governor's campaign.
Scout Coalition Idea.
They pointed out that Senator Moses' attack was made upon the national committee with its influential membership and not upon the governor or his managers.
"From the Johnson camp came the declaration that both the Wood and Johnson forces could be expected to oppose nominations of any man named by the "old guard." The friends of Senator Johnson, however, scouted the present possibility of a coalition with the Wood strength in the convention in behalf of either Wood or Johnson.

Lowden Considered Best Bet at Chicago

own uses instead of expending it in primary organization. If the delegates pledged to Lowden who are to arrive in the next few days should disclose any considerable weakening as a result of the influence of popular opinion in connection with the campaign fund affair, the nomination of Lowden may become an impossibility.
Lowden Not Injured.
There is clear indication among the delegates arriving today, however, that the Illinois governor has not been appreciably injured in public esteem by the Washington testimony, chiefly because he lost no time in demonstrating that he turned over the fund to be expended in Missouri for legitimate organization purposes and that he was taken advantage of by a couple of unscrupulous politicians.
The Missouri delegation will meet in Chicago next Monday to discuss the expenditure of $38,000 of Lowden campaign funds in their state, it was announced today.
The opposition to Governor Lowden in Chicago is confined to the democratic press, and representatives of the democratic party, according to Senator Lawrence Sherman.
Senator Johnson spent part of the day in scouting around to get ideas as to the league of nations attitude among the platform builders. He met Chairman Will H. Hays of the republican national committee and had a conversation that was said to be a trifle warm, though it was denied there had been any dispute. The senator then went out into the byways to feel the convention pulse. When he returned to his hotel, he said:
"There is one very singular thing and that is that I am apparently the only man in this campaign (but perhaps I ought not to say so)—but, so far as I am aware, I am the only candidate who is thinking of the platform, and I am thinking of it because I am thinking of republican success. I want this republican party to do the job after this war that it did after the last great war. I want it to be the party of reconstruction, the party that represents all of the people, and the party that finally brought the country into the situation it ought to be brought after a very, very great conflict."
Has Nebraska Delegation.
The suggestion that friends of other candidates are seeking to undermine Senator Johnson's strength in the Michigan and Nebraska delegations led him to say:
"I would not say that I think it is going on, but I have had it suggested that it was. I want nothing to do with that kind of politics. I will have the Nebraska and Michigan delegations. You will find their pledges in writing."
Do you mean that those delegates are to remain with you until you personally release them?"
"Until it be demonstrated beyond a peradventure of a doubt that I am out of the fight and that would mean substantially until I release them. I am no trader. I will make no compromise or trades, but will make a straight-out fight. I will take what comes with absolute equanimity. I am going to win if it is possible. I am making a straight-out fight, with a definite, certain view upon a specific platform."
"Have you a plank on the league of nations platform?"
"I have none here, but I understand one has been prepared, of which I am not at liberty to speak, that will develop."
Wood Denies Friction.
Gen. Wood denied today that there had been any friction among his campaign managers.
"The rumor that there has been friction and that Col. Procter is to cease to manage my campaign is false and I can only attribute it to enemy propaganda," he said.

mission. I doubt if it will assume jurisdiction in the dispute."
President Short denied that he had made any such statement, and declared that the men were not interested in the matter of fares.
"We will abide by the decision of the commission if it will take jurisdiction over the dispute," said Short. "We haven't decided what we will do if the commission refuses."
The communication to the State Railway Commission is as follows:
"We, the committee, representing 1,000 employees of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company, who are members of local division No. 807, Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America, of Omaha, Neb., respectfully petition your honorable body to assume jurisdiction in the wage dispute existing between the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company and the employees who are members of local division No. 807, and to render an award."
"The increase demanded by the aforesaid employees of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company, is 13 cents, making the wage demands as follows: First three months, 66 cents an hour; next nine months, 68 cents, and thereafter 70 cents. We also ask a corresponding increase to all other departments and also that the award shall date from May 1, 1920."
"We, the employees of the Omaha and Council Bluffs Street Railway company pray that these demands be granted, and we agree to abide by the decision of your honorable body."

The petition is signed by Ben Slerr, president; H. H. Keeton, vice president; G. F. Whitlow, secretary; C. H. Taulker, Gus Jenison, H. E. Boyd, T. P. Koops and Hans Peterson.
