

PURE BUNCOMBE, SAYS M'KELVIE OF SENATE PROBE

Governor, in Statement, Asserts Investigation of Expenditures Was Planned To Prejudice Public.

Lincoln, June 4.—(Special)—In the opinion of Governor McKelvie, the investigation of campaign expenditures now being had by the senate at Washington is pure buncombe and instituted to prejudice the public against certain candidates. In a message to the New York World the governor says: "I think the senatorial investigation of campaign expenses of candidates for the presidency is just plain political buncombe. Furthermore, I am convinced that the investigation was instituted to prejudice the public mind against certain candidates by giving publicity to testimony that is largely irrelevant insofar as it concerns the fitness of men for the responsible position of president of the United States. "Though the amount of money that has been spent by certain candidates appears large, it is a matter of common knowledge that it is utterly impossible to carry on a campaign throughout the entire country and properly acquaint the people with the qualifications of a candidate without spending a large sum of money. Especially is this true where primaries are held. "The use of money for purely public purposes or in ways that are intended to enlighten the voter regarding the fitness of candidates should in no sense be looked upon as prejudicial to the public welfare. To the contrary, it is an essential to intelligent action on the part of the electorate. "It is my humble opinion that there are a lot of things that are more important just now than the fact that some candidate happened to use a liberal amount of money in order that he might properly get his candidacy before the people. For instance, I would like to know that our candidate for president is big enough for the job and that he will stand for those principles of government that are truly American. "If we can confine the consideration of candidates more nearly to some such question of fitness and eliminate the petty prejudices that confuse the public mind and distort the vision, it will be far better in the interests of good government."

Omaha Woman Demands Share Of the Estate of Otoe County Farmer

Nebraska City, Neb., June 4.—(Special)—Mrs. Della Conklin of Omaha has asked the district court of Otoe county to give her a portion of the estate of the late George Conklin, wealthy land owner of this county. She filed a petition in the district court, alleging that she is the legal widow of Frank Conklin, son of George, and that although Frank is alleged to have married after her separation from him there was never any divorce and that she is entitled to her inchoate rights under the laws of the state. The estate, which consisted originally of a section of land in Otoe county and several thousand dollars in cash, has been divided among the heirs and much of the property has been sold to other parties, who are made parties to the suit. The plaintiff alleges that her husband and other heirs to the estate conspired to deprive her of her rights in the estate. She was advised of the alleged conspiracy but a few months ago, she says. Appeals Fine of $15 for Disturbing Church Service Lincoln, June 4.—(Special)—A case involving judgment of $15 and costs has been appealed to the supreme court from Furnas county. Alphus Gaddis, a member of the Christian church at Beaver City, objected to some remarks made by Rev. Mr. Stanley, pastor of the church, and was arrested for disturbing the services and fined $15. It is alleged that the pastor was preaching on the communion and said that there were many church members who ought not to be allowed to take communion because they were not right. He advised the deacons, when passing the wine bread, to pass up any member whom they thought unworthy. Gaddis arose in his seat and objected, saying that a matter of the right of a member to participate was one of conscience and that it was a matter between himself and God only. Witnesses claimed that Gaddis told the preacher to sit down, but he finished his sermon. State Institutions Are Flourishing Board Finds Lincoln, June 4.—(Special)—Members of the state board of control have completed their semi-annual visit to the 16 state institutions under their control and report that all of them are in good working condition. Those institutions which have farm lands in connection have a fine prospect for a big crop of all kinds. Employ Club Secretary. Fairbury, Neb., June 4.—(Special)—L. J. Logan, now working in the office of the University of Nebraska, has been employed for permanent secretary of the Fairbury Chamber of Commerce. His work begins here June 15. Deny Teheran Is Taken London, June 4.—The foreign office today denied that Russian bolshevik troops had occupied Teheran; capital of Persia.

Open Chadron Paving Bids. Chadron, Neb., June 4.—(Special)—Four bidders contested for the contract for laying paving in Chadron. The Ford Paving company of Cedar Rapids, Ia., and Allied Contractors of Omaha were the low bidders. The contract will not be awarded for 10 days as prescribed by law.
