Illinois Governor Conceded Fine Opportunity for Nomination by Season Politicians.

Chicago, Iune 5.-Developments Friday in the big republican free-for ill to be staged at the Coliseum next week, indicated that of the avowed candidates for presidential nomination, Governor Lowden of Illinois has the best chance of car

The seasoned republican veterans who began appearing on the scen-Friday, I found, do not expect th delegates to name either Gen. Wood or Senator Johnson.

The prevalent understanding is that Wood is slated for early elimination from the contest. The general is up against a volume of opposition, which seems to the practical politicians to be well nigh insuperable. In addition to the antagonism of old guardsmen from in her home at Napoleon, O., June the start, Wood is suffering from 16.
