The International Suffragists Meet Today

Geneva, Switzerland, city of peace for hundreds of years, International Woman Suffrage conference meets today. Geneva has throughout the war the most advanced of all the nations. This year's congress of the international alliance expects fully 500 delegates, coming from all quarters of the world.

One may think of the city on Lake Lemano carelessly, and after the fashion of the tourist, as the first halt on the journey from Paris, the first view of the giant Mont Blanc, the starting point for Chamounix; but Geneva remembers itself as a center of learning and thought, whose influence has been felt in the history of the world.

Camphor Witch Hazel for Sore Eyes

There is nothing better for sore, weak or inflamed eyes than common witch hazel, camphor, hydrastis, etc., as mixed in Lavoptik eye wash. The camphor and witch hazel soothe and relieve the inflammation, the hydrastis and other ingredients have tonic and antiseptic properties.

Women's congress will be held in the municipal hall of Plainfield, a large and convenient modern building—but being modern, no historical conference is a more glorious and intricate matter than conference of prewar years.

The Watcher

Will Visit in East

Mrs. A. J. Covert

Mrs. A. J. Covert, with her young son, Kenneth, left Thursday for the east where she will visit relatives and friends in Washington, D. C., and Virginia. Mrs. Covert was Miss Blanche Busk before her marriage. She is a graduate of University of Nebraska, class of 1917, and is president of the Omaha Alumnae club of Alpha Chi Omega.

Michigan Women Enters Race for Congress

Michigan has a prospective woman candidate for congress—Mrs. Helen C. Statler of Kalamazoo, who will run on the republican ticket. She has even outlined a platform: 1. No hungry child in the United States.

Explaining her platform, Mrs. Statler showed her first plank would mean a greater responsibility on the part of the government for the protection of children, even including the protection of maternity and infancy.

"You may say," she remarked, "that my platform is a feminine one, but it only appears so at first glance. There is no reason really why men should not be just as much interested in the health and education of America's children as women.

Housing Problems Interest the Y. W. C. A.

The living and housing conditions throughout the country, especially for working girls, is receiving special attention from the national organization of the Young Women's Christian association.

Omaha on Friday welcomed Miss Emma Phinney, national room register secretary of the Y. W. C. A., and her assistant, Pauline Hudson, field representative.

"The service started during the war in the congested factory cities and the growing cities," said Miss Phinney. "We are keeping up this service, extending it, and trying to help not only girls but men and women."

"My main objective is Hollywood, Cal.," she said. "We are going to establish the service there for the 'movie' girls. The housing problem is very acute there."

"Conditions throughout the country are terrible. It is the girl who goes out of town and has no training who has a difficult time. Miss Boalt, national employment secretary, will be in Omaha for two weeks to organize that service here."

Miss Lida F. Laurence, a stenographer in New York, sells insurance as a side line and in six months has sold more than $500,000 worth of life insurance.

Reorganizing Plans of the G. F. W. C.

Those not on the "inside" of biennial plans of the General Federation of Women's Clubs may be wondering what some of the big questions will be that will come before the great body of lawmakers for the club women of America at the fifteenth biennial convention in Des Moines in June.

The plan to reorganize the General Federation as worked out by the reorganization committee, of which Mrs. Robert J. Burdette of Pasadena is chairman, will necessitate several changes in the bylaws. These changes are radical enough to make room for much discussion on both sides and interest in the outcome will be keen.

The tendency of the new reorganization plans is toward greater centralization of the governing power of the General Federation. The General Federation state secretaries, which have been a representative on the executive board for each state in addition to the state director, will be done away with if the new plans go through.

committee and the state presidents, and meets at the call of the General Federation president. It is to be changed to include only the executive committee and the past presidents of the General Federation.

The office of the auditor is to be done away with, necessitating several changes in the wording of the bylaws.

A slight change is proposed in the section which has to do with tenure of office of department heads. The new reading will be, "Chairman of departments and standing committees shall continue in office until the close of the biennial convention following their selection."

An addition to this same section reads: "No chairman of a department of work may serve more than two consecutive terms unless for good and sufficient reasons the board of directors shall deem it necessary to extend the term."

Miss Adriana Santa Maria of Lima, Peru, now studying occupational therapy in Philadelphia, is the first woman from South America to take up such a course.

Wedding Jewel Creations of Ingenious Witchery

Through the happy twinkle of gay music and the soft flooding lights of the wedding ceremonies the bride's jewels are a pleasurable addition to adorable loveliness.

Creative genius whether it builds cathedrals or designs jewels is never satisfied—never at the end of its endeavor.

Yet we feel that the jewel offering we have assembled for the June brides should satisfy even the most idealistic designer so wondrously wrought are the jewels shown.

"Gifts That Last"

Silk From Spiders. Spider silk may soon become a popular material for women's clothes. In the island of Madagascar experiments have been made with the spider's web as a substitute for silk, and the resulting fine, strong silk of a beautiful yellow color is said to be much superior to that of the silkworm.
