I'M THE GUY who never claims our friendship except when he has favor to ask.

Sometimes I don't even bother to peak to you for weeks, but when ere's something you can do for me begin calling you "old man" and pretending to be your greatest ad-nirer until I've kidded you into dong me the turn I was after.

Then, when I've got what I wanted out of you, I drop you again. By that time I'm rushing some other sy mark that I can use.

All this bunk about true friendship makes me tired. Friends don't mean anything to me unless I can make em pay dividends. If I can use them or something to my advantage, I'l ise 'em. If they're in my way, I'll step on 'em just as quickly.

(Copyright, 1919, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.) Nightmares are defined by the dictionary as "oppressive conditions in sleep, accompanied usu-ally by bad dreams" and the cause for this is found in the word "oppressive." As a general rule, nightmares are the result of having eaten too heavily-thus congesting the stomach and preventing the flow of blood in the proper manner-or some outside nfluence, such as lack of proper ventilation, too much covering or the like, which oppresses the body and through it the brain. As children have stomachs which are more easily upset than adults and as they are more prone to eat unwisely, they are distinctly more subject to nightmares than are older persons; though full-blooded people and particularly those who worry to excess often suffer from this disturbance of their sleep.

The word itself is derived from the two Anglo-Saxon words "neht" meaning "night" and "Mara," a ghost or spectre which, according to the old belief, placed itself upon the breast of a sleepng person and deprived them of he power of speech and motion. The mara was also believed to be the guardian of hidden treasures and the place where it sat was called the nidus or nest, whence we derive the term "mare's nest," sort of first-cousin of the night-

AT THE THEATERS

BILLY MONTGOMERY and Minnie Allen carry away the blue ribbon this week at the Orpheum, where they opened yesterday with a repertoire of their own compositions and a lot of merry guips and antics. As entertainers and merrymakers they combine originality and versatility. Edwin Burke offers "The Champion," which is a human interest skit of a boy and his mother. The estrangement of the twain is the basis of the story which is carried along in a clever manner until the son is restored and the suspense is relieved by a satisfactory finale.

Sam Berk and Juanita Swan received a welcome-to-our-city reception, as their ideas of what a vaudeville audience wants in the line of dancing met with expectations. Mr. Berk's Russian style of dancing recelved particular appreciation. Ed and May Ernie, who, by the way, have a large clientele among vaude ville patrons, offered an interesting act in which Mr. Ernie demon strated that the loss of a leg was not much of a handicap to him Some of his one-leg stunts are astonishing. kouble Sims is a comical "moke" who knows how to make people forget all about the h. c. of l. and other irritations of the day.

Erhard Corneer, Prop. Dairy, 3510 Valley St., says: "A number of years ago I had kidney trouble. I know that so much jumping on and off my wagon was the direct cause for the trouble. There seemed to be a constant ache across the small of my back and kidneys and an awful soreness through my hips. My kidneys acted frequently and the secretions were highly colored. A friend told me of Doan's Kidney Pills being so good for this trouble. After I had used two boxes my back and kidneys were strong. That is the kind of a cure that Doan's Kidney Pills

A friend advised me to use Doan's Kidney Pills so I took a box and felt much better. I quit taking them for a while and noticed the trouble coming back so started using them again. This time a couple of boxes sured me, and I have not been bothered since."

Mrs. C. Frager, 1410 Ohio St., says: "It has been a couple of years since I have had to use Doan's kidney Pills. I used them at that time for a disordered condition of my kidneys. My kidneys were weak and there was a heavy dull nagging ache just over my kidneys. At times I would feel worn out. But I am glad to say it was not long after I commenced the use of Doan's Kidney Pills that I was feeling much better. My back and kidneys are strong now and I can honestly give Doan's my recommendation after what they have done for me. My cure is a permanent one."

I would be so lame I couldn't stoop over to pick up anything and the sharp, cutting pains in my kidneys felt as though someone had stuck a sharp knife into me. My kidneys would act frequently during the night and the secretions were highly colored. At times it felt as though a heavy weight across my back were pulling me down.
