

PARTY PLANKS FIRM IN STAND ON ALL POLICIES

The Service Men.

We hold in imperishable remembrance the valor and the patriotism of the soldiers and sailors of America who fought in the great war and the obligations which that great nation justly should fulfill in appreciation of the services rendered by its defenders on sea and on land. Republicans are not ungrateful. Throughout their history they have shown their gratitude toward the nation's defenders. Liberal legislation for the care of the disabled and in firm and their dependents has ever marked republican policy toward the soldier and sailor of all the wars in which our country has participated. The present congress has appropriated generously for the disabled of the world war. The amount already applied and authorized for the fiscal year 1920-1921 for this purpose reached the stupendous sum of $1,180,571,893. This legislation is significant of the party's purpose in generously caring for the maimed and disabled of the recent war.

Civil Service.

We renew our repeated declaration that the civil service law shall be thoroughly and honestly enforced and extended wherever practicable. The recent action of congress in enacting a comprehensive civil service retirement law and in working out a comprehensive employment and wage policy that will guarantee equal and just treatment to the army of government workers and in centralizing the administration of a progressive employment policy in the hands of the civil service commission is worthy of all praise.

Postal Service.

We condemn the present administration for its destruction of the efficiency of the postal service and the telegraph and telephone service when controlled by the government and for its failure to properly compensate employees whose expert knowledge is essential to the proper conduct of the affairs of the postal system. We commend the republican congress for the enactment of legislation increasing the pay of postal employees, who up to that time, were the poorest paid in the government service.

Woman Suffrage.

We welcome women into full participation in the affairs of government and the activities of the republican party. We earnestly hope that republican legislators in states which have not yet acted upon the suffrage amendment will ratify the amendment to the end that all of the women of the nation of voting age may participate in the election of 1920, which is so important to the welfare of our country.

Social Progress.

The supreme duty of the nation is the conservation of human resources through an enlightened measure of social and industrial justice. Although the federal jurisdiction over social problems is limited, they affect the welfare and interests of the nation as a whole. We pledge the republican party to the solution of these problems through national and state legislation and to the adoption of the best progressive thought of the country.

Education and Health.

We endorse the principle of federal aid to the states for the purpose of vocational and agricultural training. Wherever federal money is devoted to education, such education must be so directed as to awaken in the youth the spirit of America and a sense of patriotic duty to the United States.

A thorough system of physical education for all children up to the age of 19, including adequate health supervision and instruction, would remedy conditions revealed by the draft and would aid to the economic and industrial strength of the nation. National leadership and stimulation will be necessary to induce the states to adopt a wise system of physical training.

The public health activities of the federal government and the various departments and bureaus, resulting in inefficiency, duplication and extravagance. We advocate a greater centralization of the federal functions and in addition urge the better co-ordination of the work of the federal state and local health agencies.

Child Labor.

The republican party stands for a federal child labor law and for its rigid enforcement. If the present law be unconstitutional or ineffective, we shall seek other means to enable congress to prevent the evils of child labor.

Women in Industry.

Women have special problems of employment which make necessary special study. We commend congress for the permanent establishment of the women's bureau in the United States Department of Labor to serve as a source of information to the states and to congress. The principle of equal pay for equal service should be applied throughout all branches of the federal government in which women are employed.

Federal aid for vocational training should take into consideration the special aptitudes and needs of women workers. We demand federal legislation to limit the hours of employment of women engaged in intensive industry, the product of which enters into interstate commerce.

Housing.

The housing shortage has not only compelled careful study of ways of stimulating building, but it has brought into relief the unsatisfactory character of the housing accommodations of large numbers of the inhabitants of our cities. A nation of home-owners is the best guaranty of the maintenance of those principles of liberty and law and order upon which our government is founded. Both national and state governments should encourage in all proper ways the acquiring of homes by our citizens. The United States government should make available the valuable

Convention Sidelights

CONVENTION SIDE LIGHTS
Chicago Tribune—Omaha Bee. Leased Wire.
Chicago, June 10.—A white-haired woman with a motherly face fanned herself slowly as she walked toward the Michigan avenue entrance of the Blackstone hotel. She seemed fatigued. She smiled when a reporter asked her: "How does it look for Governor Lowden?" "I don't like to talk," she said, "because he's my son-in-law." She was Mrs. George M. Pullman.

"My," she continued, "I do hope though, they nominate him. He's made such a fine record as a war governor. And if the people only know him like I do—dear me." "I am for Gen. Wood first, then Governor Lowden," said Mrs. Mary Roberts Rinehart, magazine writer and novelist, who passed through Chicago today. "I'm not sure of my own mind today. I'm for Hiram Johnson. He is a destructionist, with no qualms of the constructionist. Roosevelt sometimes destroyed, but he did it better to rebuild. I am against the Wilsonian league of nations, the anti-suffragettes and the National Woman's party picketing tactics. I am for the conservative wing of the suffrage party." Mrs. Rinehart's was the most remarkable interview encountered by the reporter during the day. She didn't mention the weather either.

The editor of the Casper (Wyo.) Daily Tribune is here to cover the convention for his paper. He is J. Edwin Hanway. He says subscribers in Wyoming no longer vote with six-shooters. They write letters into the editor. When he left the circulation was 6,790.

Mrs. Marie Estelle De Beck of the Chicago Society of Ohio Women, announced today that Harding is the real dark horse, who never has knocked a single candidate. An engineer from Broken Bow, Neb., came to headquarters today and asked for Mrs. Harding. His name is A. R. Humphrey. Ten years ago, when Senator Harding was on a chautauqua tour, this engineer invited him into his cabaret and took them from Grand Island to Broken Bow because there were no other trains and they were to be late to a speaking engagement. "I just want to see her again."

Committee Report Accepted; Nominate Candidate Today

Wilson to carry Utah and Idaho in 1916.

Mr. Hilles of New York, a sartorial monument, arises and suggests a new rule—that if two seconding speeches are made for any candidate they shall be limited to five minutes each; if more than two, only two minutes a speech shall be given.

"Hooraay!" is the yell from the Kansas seats. Minnesota, North Carolina and Missouri scolded the suggestion, and with few stragglers noes it passed. With more than a dozen candidates to be named tomorrow, it is regarded as a grand little old rule. But it does not apply to the main speeches, some of which will be brief and some of which will ramble all over creation in traditional "the-man-who" fashion.

After these preliminaries Chairman Lodge announced the report of the resolutions committee would not be forthcoming for another hour. "Cannon—Cannon—" shrieked the delegates.

Mr. Lodge read a note saying the platform was just leaving the Auditorium in a fleet of taxis, bound for the Coliseum.

"Cannon! Cannon!" screamed the floor and the galleries. "Mr. Cannon says he has a sick headache," said Lodge. "But I hear he is coming sure." "Sure enough," "Old Uncle Joe" is right on the spot.

The movie men flick on the lights as the sage of Danville walks to the front.

Storm of Laughter.
"Uncle Joe" lifts from the table a glass half full of water and holds it to the light. He contemplated it quizzically, much after the manner of one who wonders how much wood alcohol is in the goblet. Never has "Uncle Joe" done anything more humorous, more comical, since the day at the state convention years ago when he shed his coat and collar, dipped his hand into the water pitcher and grabbed a chunk of ice with which to swab his fevered brow.

As a mirth provoker he is even more successful than the time 10 years ago when Mr. Cannon, in a fit of abstraction, pounded the information on housing and town planning collected during the war. This information should be kept up-to-date and made currently available.

Hawaii.

For Hawaii, we recommend: Federal assistance in Americanizing and educating their greatly disproportionate foreign population; home rule and the rehabilitation of the Hawaiian race.

Don't suppose she remembers me." "I should say I do," said Mrs. Harding. "Tell him to come back again if he comes while I'm out. I'd like to talk to him, and thank him for what he did for us 10 years ago."

Prince J. Kudohio Kalaianaoale of the late reigning house of the Hawaiian islands arrived today as a delegate-at-large from there. He was accompanied by a ukulele. Samuel Gompers made the rounds of the presidential candidates' headquarters today. He met Governor Allen in the lobby of the Congress. They smiled and chatted amiably for a few minutes.

A picturesque personality at the convention was that of William H. Swett. He is 85 years old. He is a cousin of the late Leonard Swett, Abraham Lincoln's law partner. In 1860 he sat as a delegate and managed the campaign of Lincoln for president.

Convention headquarters of the American Irish Independence League were established today at the Blackstone by John E. Millholland. The league is headed by Eamonn De Valera, president of the Irish "Republic."

Harry M. Daugherty, manager for Senator Harding, said "I had to get suffrage for the women of my state and I'm glad I did it." With him was Judge V. W. Van Fleet, Mr. Harding's manager in Indiana. He refused to comment on the women and their vote, and snapped fretfully when he was asked.

Well, if all the women do not remove their hats, all the men do not refrain from smoking where there are signs that say not to. They puff away and blow thick clouds into the open faces of their ever-talking political sisters.

Governor Allen's labor court plan is the most forward-looking piece of legislation produced in America in years, said J. N. Atkinson, state accountant of Kansas. He believes the governor is the logical choice of the convention for president. In a few years, when they learn of its value, laboring men will insist on labor courts modeled on the Allen plan, he said.

vention stenographer's bonnet, which had been left on the table, into a wreck with the gas.

"Water, water, brewed in the clouds," he says, and tosses it off after wishing the convention happy days, while Bryan in the press box, smiles benignantly over his nose-glasses.

The official job maker for the convention takes Mr. Cannon's place on the stand. He tries to live up to an audience already on the point of exploding with pent up spirit.

"I'm going to ask you to join me in trying the 'Long Trail,'" says the jazz artist.

The galleries and the floor shriek, scream and hoot their disapproval. But the live one sings it anyhow, putting a single voice against the roar of the multitude.

Lodge plucks the golden voiced one by the sleeve. "Smiles, Smiles," but evokes 15,000 guffaws.

Drowned out the "Gang."
The band plays in one tempo, the singer pipes up in another, the crowd hoots in all keys. He tries "Hal, Hal, the 'Gang's," but even this fails to move them, and they roar the louder.

So they float him off the platform on a wave of groans.

Next moment the audience, on its own volition, is piping up with "Nobody Knows How Dry I Am." They sing two stanzas without any aid.

There are shouts of "Henry, Henry," meaning Governor Allen of Kansas; for Beveridge of Indiana and others. Lodge calls on Georgia to name its national committee. It passed on the first deal. The delegation is polled. Henry Lincoln Johnson, a battler for Lowden, is declared elected. When it is put to the convention, the vote seems evenly divided—judging from the sound, the gallery joining in the vote.

Lodge hits the desk such a mighty whack that he breaks the gavel. And it is then discovered that Georgia itself, and not the convention has the real say so. Johnson is duly enrolled as a committee man.

Then comes Committeeman Borah leading the grand march down the aisle.

It was 6:10 o'clock before the platform committee arrived.

"Let's go," was the cry from the delegates.

Finally, Senator McCormick came out on the speakers' stand as the advance man of the committee. He was cheered.

The tall Senator Watson next appeared on the platform and a howl of delight went up.

Chairman Lodge gave the hook to the song leader and Senator Watson announced he had the report of the committee on resolutions. He said he would move its adoption at the end of the reading.

Receive Bids for Ship.

Washington, June 10.—Bids for the sale of the Leviathan, the largest ship in the American merchant marine, will be received June 30, by the shipping board.

Launch McKelvie Boom For Vice Presidency

announced that he had attended a high school in Chicago when Lincoln was nominated and was present in the wigwag when the nomination was made.

Norman E. Mack, former chairman of the national democratic committee and editor of the Buffalo News, came into republican headquarters today under escort of former ambassador to France, Myron T. Herrick of Ohio. Mr. Mack, looking very sheepishly at Herrick, said: "I serve, notice that I am on my way to San Francisco to nominate the next president of the United States." "No," said Mr. Herrick, "Your tickets read too far, you had better stop in Chicago."

Mrs. E. C. Stokes, member-elect of the republican state committee from Nebraska, and Mrs. J. A. Linc of McCook have been watching the proceedings of the convention since Tuesday and they propose to stay until the nominee is named.

Past grand master of Masons of Nebraska, John Ehrhart of Stanton, was a new registrant for tickets at the Nebraska headquarters today. Mr.

Ehrhardt said that the nomination of Mrs. Weckes on the Nonpartisan league ticket would not affect the vote for Judge Evans in the Third congressional district, but might help him.

Mrs. J. M. Trumble, president of the Catholic clubs of Nebraska, wired the chairman of the Nebraska delegation from Lincoln that the Smith-Fowler bill looking to the federation of education would be acceptable to the women Catholic voters of Nebraska.

Mrs. Lulah Andrews of the state central committee and Mrs. M. B. Cameron were entertained with leaders from other states, members of the council of one hundred, at a luncheon today at the Blackstone, where Mrs. Whiteker Reid, Mrs. Warburton and Mrs. Gifford Pinchot were hostesses. The informal meeting of some two or three hundred women was in honor of Governor Sprout of Pennsylvania, who met the ladies informally.

Wall Street Betting Light On Republican Nominee

New York, June 10.—Betting on the Chicago convention result was light in Wall Street today, the idea apparently being to await until events had shaped themselves a little more than at present. In what wagers there were Wood, Lowden and Hughes were the favorites. It was said at the branch office of H. L. Horton & Co. in the Waldorf Astoria a bet of $5,000 to $10,000 had been offered that Coolidge and Hughes would be the nominee and the bet had not been taken.

Breckenridge Long Ill.

St. Louis, June 10.—Breckenridge Long, who Wednesday resigned as third assistant secretary of state to make the race for democratic nomination for United States senator, is confined to bed in his home here, suffering from tonsillitis, it was announced Thursday. His physician has ordered that he see no one.
