Neck, Long Island. Lost Fortune in War.

Carpentier's fortune which he had carned previous to the war was swept away by the Germans. He invested all of his money in the coal mines at Lens, which were taken over by the Germans shortly after the war started. Georges enlisted within a week after France went to war and was assigned to the aviation corps. He gained the distinction of becoming an ace and was decorated several times for bravery.

Carpentier as holder of the heavyweight title of Europe is the logical contender for Jack Dempsey's crown. The Frenchman says he is eager to meet the world champion on a 60-40 basis if the charges of slackerism now hanging over Demp-
