

AMERICANS TAKE LEADING PART IN KIEV EVACUATION

Place Automobiles at Disposal Of Poles—Arrive in Warsaw After Six Days In Box Cars.

Warsaw, June 16.—Americans took a prominent part in the evacuation of Kiev. They turned their automobiles over to the Polish staff for use in feeding refugees, aiding wounded soldiers and burying dead where there had been fights with bolshevik raiding parties.

The Americans, among whom was John Gregg of Portland, Ore., of the American Relief association, arrived in Warsaw today after six days and nights in captured bolshevik box cars. When they departed from Kiev on June 10 the bolsheviks were shelling the city and aviators were dropping bombs.

Just prior to the evacuation, Kiev's waterworks went out of commission and the electric and gas plants stopped working. The city's population was in a terrible state of confusion and thousands were prevented from leaving by lack of transportation.

Two American automobiles filled with Polish staff officers headed the procession when the evacuation of Kiev began. They were loaned by representatives of the American Relief association and the American railroad mission to Poland. A representative of the railroad mission estimated today that a procession of vehicles of all kinds was strung along the highways for a distance of 25 miles.

Near the rear were an officer and a woman on horseback followed by a detachment of soldiers. The officer was General Rydzmigly, the Polish commander at Kiev, who was accompanied by his bride of six weeks. She accompanied the general when Kiev slipped from the hands of the bolsheviks. General Rydzmigly, who had made all plans to defend Kiev from every side, was the very last to leave the city.

Many Poles remained in Kiev as it was impossible to evacuate them. The Americans heard the evacuation order while at dinner in the Continental hotel. The orchestra was playing and some few of them wore evening clothes.

The evacuation started at daylight and was completed in the afternoon when General Rydzmigly and his bride passed through the city's gate on the road leading westward and through which his victorious army had pranced a little less than five weeks ago.

PLAN TO MAKE CHICAGO WOOL CENTER OF WORLD

Movement of 1920 Clip Would Be Financed by Windy City Bankers, According to New Scheme.

Chicago, June 17.—Steps to make Chicago the wool center of America were taken here today at a conference of wool growers and bankers with decision to name a committee to place the question before officials at Washington. The committee will be appointed by William J. Williams, president of the Wyoming Wool Growers' association, who presided.

Under the proposition approved by the meeting called by representatives of the American Wool Growers' association, the movement of the wool clip for 1920 would be financed by Chicago bankers, which would require $100,000,000 annually. Heretofore this has been done by Boston banks, who have been compelled, it was said, to relinquish their financial support due to demands for funds from other sources.

It was announced that the plan was favorably received by Chicago financiers, who it was added, desired co-operation and support of western bankers in the extension of the credits requested. The fund, it was stated, would be used to carry the wool through the warehouses, where the bulk of the product is stored, pending better market conditions.

Senators Hitchcock of Nebraska, Walsh of Montana, Pittman of Nevada, Chamberlain of Oregon and King of Utah joined in aiding the conference. Conditions in the wool market, they said, in summing up the bankers and growers, were similar to those prevailing with cotton in 1914, there being neither actual or speculative demand, with the wool growers unable to obtain loans to finance them awaiting a profitable market.

The American Wool Growers' association tonight issued the following statement relative to today's meeting:

"It is fully expected that the wool market soon will be reopened on a reasonable basis of values. In the meantime growers will be able to secure loans on unsold wool from banks that are members of the federal reserve system. Federal reserve banks will not fail to rediscount any paper that is presented in proper form. The whole matter is to be discussed fully with the federal

$12,000 LOST BY KIDNAPED BOY'S FATHER ON FAKE

Amount Is Placed at Designated Spot Following Request of Alleged Kidnapers.

Norristown, Pa., June 17.—George H. Coughlin, father of Blakely Coughlin, who was kidnaped on the morning of June 2 today stands swindled out of $12,000 with his child still missing, according to a sensational story which Coughlin told Chief of Police Eiler today. Coughlin offered to corroborate his statement by producing a friend who accompanied him to the spot where the money was placed and from which it afterwards was found to have disappeared.

The chronology of the manner in which the $12,000 disappeared reads like a weird and improbable story. Nevertheless the police declare they believe the father's tale and are prepared now to search for a man characterized as "the meanest swindler" with whom they have ever had to deal.

OFFICER DRESSES AS MOVIE VAMP IN PLOT TO CAPTURE DEGENERATE

Dressed in a vampish costume, consisting of tricotone waist, silk skirt, sport coat, dainty hat, furs, ear-rings and diamond rings, Deputy Sheriff James F. Lindsay, former professional prize fighter, has been seated in an automobile parked near the peony farm, West Dodge road, for the last 10 nights spooning with Deputy Sheriff Charles T. Johnson.

They were acting as a decoy in the hope of capturing a degenerate who has been reported forcing motorists in that vicinity to submit to indignities.

They were fully armed and ready to give the fellow a hot welcome. But their "spooning" was undisturbed.

FACTIONS DIFFER IN VIEWS ABOUT NEW GRAIN RATES

Equalization Between Omaha And Other Markets Asked By Kentucky Man.

Washington, June 17.—Farmers and grain traders presented differing views before the Interstate Commerce commission today as to application to grain and grain products of the increased freight rates asked by the railroads of the country.

Urging the commission to reach no decision which "discriminates against agriculture or in favor of any other industry," B. Needham of Lane, Kan., representing the Kansas state grange and the Kansas agricultural council opposed any flat rate increase on grain. The child was to have been returned the following Tuesday. However, at the time the child did not appear.

Refuses to Attend Funeral Of Her Daughter's Husband

Merely remarking that her daughter now can live in peace, Mrs. Mary Stanwood, 3732 North Forty-third street, yesterday refused to have anything further to do with the funeral of her son-in-law, Adrian Sandja, 30, who died in a hospital following a year's search for his wife who is said to have fled to Texas to escape his threats.

relationships. A. E. Vandegriff of Louisville, Ky., presented a petition asking the commission to preserve the equalizations on grain between the markets of Cairo, Ill.; Cincinnati, Evansville, Ind.; Henderson, Ky.; Memphis, St. Louis, New Orleans, Omaha, Kansas City, Nashville and Louisville.

"Farmers do not ask discrimination in rates on farm products," Mr. Needham declared, "but we do vigorously protest against discrimination in favor of any other commodity and we wish to express our disapproval of these demands heard here in which narrow commercial or sectional interests have been seeking selfish advantages."
