A belief that next week would see numerous bad crop reports on oats led to persistent buying of September by commission houses, and with a good class of buying in the July an advance was easily attained. At 87c for September numerous resting orders to sell were encountered, but the close was at that figure. There are several strong commission houses and local professionals working on the bull side of the market.

Premiums in the sample market were firm at 15@15%c over July, paid for No. 2 white oats. Offerings light and shippers took hold readily. Receipts, 73 cars, with shipping sales 126,000 bushels. Crop reports from central Illinois were mixed, and the early complaints of dry weather from that section. Weekly forecast indicated moderate temperatures with considerable cloudiness and occasional rains in all sections. Rye showed a heavy undertone from the start and despite buying of July by houses with New York connections the close was easy. No. 2 on track sold at 10@11c over July at $2.27. Receipts, four cars.
