

NEBRASKA HAS BIG DELEGATION OF CLUB WOMEN

Cornhusker Attendance Exceeding State at Biennial Meeting in Session in Des Moines.

By MYRTLE MASON.
Des Moines, Ia., June 19.—(Special Telegram.)—The biennial gathering of the General Federation of Women's Clubs is in full momentum. Almost 2,000 delegates are here with as many visiting clubwomen, exclusive of local attendants. Nebraska has the largest delegation in the convention.

Many hours of business session have been devoted to action on reorganization of the federation. Only two important accomplishments have resulted thus far, elimination of general federation state secretary and appointment of corresponding secretary by the president, instead of election from the general body.

Election Starts Gossip.
Mrs. A. E. Shelton is Nebraska state secretary to the general federation, the new federal office. A general federation director in the state, she will still discharge the duties of general federation secretary, representation in the biennial is a reorganization topic yet to be discussed. It will draw fire from the smaller clubs.

Election of officers is the topic heard most in halls, at teas and luncheons, and even in the hotel rooms—where two or three are gathered. Nebraska delegates are divided in their support of Mrs. Thomas Winter of Minnesota and Miss Georgia Bacon of Massachusetts, the majority seeming to prefer the former. Elections will occur next Tuesday.

Will Visit Omaha.
Mrs. Frank Lumpkins, a delegate from Columbus, Ga., plans to visit in Omaha with Mrs. H. H. Baldwin following the biennial.

Miss Ruth Pyrtle, Lincoln, acts as pilot to Nebraska guests who are strangers here. Miss Pyrtle did war work in Des Moines in connection with Camp Dodge.

At the Nebraska dinner Monday Mrs. C. L. Hempel of Omaha will entertain Mesdames E. M. Sybert, Ward Shafer, W. S. Knight and Miss Katherine Worley, all of Omaha. Mrs. T. J. Gist of Falls City has charge of the office list. Mrs. Sheldon is one of the speakers. Mrs. Edward Phelan of Omaha will entertain at the dinner for Mrs. Mrs. J. E. Matthews and her daughter, Miss Helen, of Omaha, her sisters, Mrs. J. C. Mahoney and D. O. Johnson of Iowa.

Entertain at Omaha.
Annie Steese Richardson, assistant editor of the Woman's Home Companion, was the dinner-guest Saturday of Mrs. A. E. Shelton, Mrs. A. W. Richardson and Mrs. H. H. Wheeler of Lincoln.

Mrs. Harry Keefe of Walthill and Mrs. O. C. Anderson of West Point have returned home.

Mrs. P. T. McGerr of Falls City leaves Tuesday for the democratic convention to which she is an alternate delegate.

Mrs. L. J. Healey and Mrs. John Campbell of Omaha and Mrs. Dudley Barnes of Fullerton are stopping with Mrs. Barnes' sister, Mrs. A. L. Haas of Des Moines.

Mrs. H. Stein of Hastings will spend Sunday with her sister at Ottumwa, Ia.

Among the Nebraska delegates who attended the D. A. R. tea Saturday were Mrs. F. J. Ayers, David City; Mrs. M. A. Hostetter, Sheldon; Mrs. George Chaburn, Mrs. Richardson and Mrs. A. E. Shelton, Lincoln; Mrs. O. A. Williams, Neligh; Myrtle Meyer Eldred, formerly of Lincoln, now of Des Moines, is doing feature writing for a local paper.

Changes in the by-laws of the general Federation of Women's Clubs pertaining to membership so that applications for affiliation must be approved by a committee of five members at large instead of by the chairman of the membership committee alone, as at present, were adopted.

As originally introduced approval of a majority of the committee only would be required, but on objections to that form by delegates from Utah and southern state unanimous approval was substituted.

The question of a clubhouse in Washington was deferred until later in the session.

Five sets of resolutions were introduced today, but no action was taken on them.

Women in Nebraska Clubs Nursing Various Hobbies

Delegates to Des Moines Convention Confess They Are Seeking Inspiration for Their Several Pet Ideas—From Chickens to Americanization.

By MYRTLE MASON.

Des Moines, Ia., June 19.—The "big biennial," this gathering of federated club women now in session in Des Moines, is frequently called. Not only because of the thousands of women from all over the United States who attend, it is big, but in its scope of interest. A canvass of the interests among some of Nebraska's delegates, reveals the fact that they have come for distinct varieties of inspiration—and the prospect at present is that all will be satisfied.

"I am interested in literature," says Mrs. W. T. Johnson, president of the Dundee-Woman's club.

"Gardening and chickens are my hobby," declares Mrs. J. Steinberg of Lincoln, a delegate from the Lincoln Woman's club. Mrs. Steinberg has a 50-foot back yard in which she raises vegetables for summer and winter use. Her chickens supply her with eggs the year around. "Utilize your back yards, is my advice to every club woman."

"Democracy for Clubs" is the subject upon which Mrs. A. E. Shelton, past president from Nebraska and now state director, seeks inspiration.

Mrs. George Frater is here to learn more about motion pictures. "We made a mistake in North Platte," she states, "when we voted out the Sunday movie. I am an Episcopalian and thought I was doing my duty in opposing the Sunday pictures, but find that in the absence of other recreation, a good film is better than the alternatives of young people turn to."

Mrs. A. H. Brooke of Hastings, is another Nebraska club woman whose deepest interest is in motion pictures. Mrs. Brooke is acting state chairman of civics. She speaks highly of the quiet censorship speech which the Omaha Woman's club has been rendering.

"I'm a hayseed," says Mrs. Florence Parks of Greenwood, a delegate from the South Ashland club, "but I have a special interest in this biennial. I am here to drink in inspiration on community service and good citizenship."

The rural and small town club challenge the interest of Mrs. Harry Keefe of Walthill, who said, "I am here to drink in inspiration on community service and good citizenship."

At the Nebraska dinner Monday Mrs. C. L. Hempel of Omaha will entertain Mesdames E. M. Sybert, Ward Shafer, W. S. Knight and Miss Katherine Worley, all of Omaha. Mrs. T. J. Gist of Falls City has charge of the office list. Mrs. Sheldon is one of the speakers. Mrs. Edward Phelan of Omaha will entertain at the dinner for Mrs. Mrs. J. E.
