Hold Different Opinion. On the other hand democratic leaders who had talked with Senator Glass tonight were convinced that the president has no thought, of accepting a third-term nomina tion and said they would be greatly surprised if the convention should nameshim. They were not so sure that the convention would not ofhim the nomination but they were certain that the president, in view of his long illness, could not entertain the thought of seeking reelection. According to the view held in this quarter, the withdrawal of Mc Adoo, had nothing to do with the situation of the president and was dictated purely by personal consid-erations. Mrs. McAdoo is thought to have persuaded her hushand to retire from politics and the prespect, of being assailed in the campaign as "crown prince" seeking perpetnation of the Wilson "dynasty" is believed to have had something to do with the decision.

Those who are convinced that both Wilson and McAdoo are eliminated from consideration regard Governor Cox as the aspirant who occupies the strongest position or the eve of the assembling of the convention.
