

FORMER OMAHA BOY APPOINTED U. S. SOLICITOR

Fred K. Nielson, Product of Local Schools and University Athletic Star, Honored by Wilson.

Washington, D. C., June 22.—(Special Telegram.)—Fred K. Nielson of Nebraska, who was appointed solicitor for the state department by President Wilson today, is a former Omaha boy, having spent all his life in Nebraska until he came to Washington a number of years ago to take a position in the state department.

He came to Washington in 1904 and entered the state department, later resigning and re-entering the department some months ago. He was formerly in charge of the same office to which he was appointed today.

Mr. Nielson resigned from the state department to become major and judge advocate in the army and in this capacity went to Paris in March of 1919 in charge of work of framing the legal and economic stipulations in the peace treaties. He was principal American delegate on the committee to consider the revision of the Belgium-Holland treaties of 1839, which Germany violated when it invaded Belgium in 1914.

The new solicitor for the state department was also prominent among delegates of the committee which framed the treaty respecting the sovereignty of the archipelago of Spitzbergen and was the American plenipotentiary to the Spitzbergen conference held in Christiania, Norway.

During his years at the University of Nebraska Nielson was a famed football player, later on leading the Cornhuskers to victory at the university football coach. He was also coach at Georgetown university, this city, for several years.

MOVIES

MOVIES WEDNESDAY A M

Moon—"The Dream Cheater." Cast of characters: J. Warren Kerrigan, Braden McShane, Sam Sothorn, Angus Burton, Wedgewood Nowell, Paul Misch, Joseph Dowling, Pauline Mahon, Fritz Brunette.

J. W. Kerrigan, a tall, thin man with a magic skin which the old man tells him, will give him anything he wants, but which will shrink at each wish. When the skin is all gone, its former possessor must die. McShane accepts the skin and wishes for riches and for revenge on his enemies, which are granted. Then the right girl comes along and in wishing for her he almost wishes his life away.

Unlike the story, however, the film has a happy ending. Kerrigan has assembled a notable cast. Fritzie is always charming. Sam Sothorn is a brother of E. H. Sothorn.

The death of a baby chimpanzee which had been used in nearly every scene in the picture caused an entire remake of a Christie comedy entitled "An Overall Hero."

500 Children Attend City Mission Picnic; Some Mothers Attend

Bristling with vim and excitement, fully 500 children and mothers of the city enjoyed the Omaha City Mission picnic at Lake Manawa yesterday.

Hundreds of lunch baskets, donated by various churches and business houses of the city, filled nearly a half of the leading car of a string furnished by the traction company. A group of boys guarded 50 gallons of ice cream in another car on the way to the park.

Mrs. F. J. Adams, 3732 Pacific street, and Mrs. Ford Hovey, 310 South Fifty-first avenue, were active in planning the picnic. Miss Mary E. Anthony, superintendent of the City Mission, was in charge. A few mothers, past 50 years of age, attended the picnic.

AT THE THEATERS

FIVE standard Orpheum circuit acts make up the bill which is being presented this week. The dominant feature is a farce with music, "Once Upon a Time." Seven people appear in the well chosen cast, which is headed by Jack Princeton and C. Leland Marsh. The production carries a handsome drawing room set. In the amusing act presented by George Austin Moore he tells humorous stories about colored soldiers who were with the American forces overseas. Mr. Moore was in France as an entertainer of our soldiers. He is one of the most popular comedians on the vaudeville stage.

Bon Harney, the song composer, singer and concert dancer, appears with a colored assistance. This act is the apogee of the show. Of the three daily performances the one which starts at 6:45 affords the best chance for excellent seats.

Toppling the bill at the Empress for the last time today are two headline features. The first is George Hirschhorn's "Sings Song Birds," who all have beautiful voices. All these people are residents of Omaha. The second feature is the Vanderkoors, burlesque magicians, presenting Felix, the mindreading duck, a truly humorous act, sure to prove a hit.

Miss Estelle Tespon, dramatic soprano, has a very pleasing voice and winning personality and sings "Amie Laurie" in a manner which gains the applause of the audience. The Rialto, a good-looking young chap and a charming miss, present an aerial acrobatic act entitled "An Aerial Ring Filtration," different than the usual aerial ring acts.

Announcement is made of the engagement for one performance only tonight (Wednesday), June 23, at the Brandeis theater of the noted artist-plumber, Maurice Schwartz, assisted by the entire Irving place theater cast of New York. In Scholom Aleichem's great literary play, "Felix, the Farmer," a three-act drama of Jewish life in Russia. Mr. Schwartz is an exponent of the higher art for the Yiddish stage. The story is exceedingly dramatic and a special invitation is extended to those who are not in the habit of attending the Yiddish theater just to see the high development that has been reached in this production.

Ice Pick Wins Battle, But Lands Negro Couple in Jail

Fists are poor weapons of defense when the enemy is armed with an ice pick, according to Rolly Hughes, negro, 2610 Franklin street, who was arrested by the police last night charged with disturbing the peace.

His wife, Elizabeth, was arrested on a similar charge. Hughes was angry when he returned home and found his supper unprepared, according to the police. When he struck his wife in the face she grabbed an ice pick and turned the defensive into an offensive, they say. The neighbors became alarmed and called the police. Hughes and his wife were released under $100 bond.

Oppose Cash Bonus. Tampa, Fla., June 22.—A resolution opposing cash bonus legislation in any form was adopted today by the Florida department of the American Legion by a vote of 84 to 39.
