

HIRAM LOOSENS WRATH ON THOSE WHO DESERTED

Defeated Candidate Will "Brand Scoundrels Who Broke Forth at Chicago," He Writes Harrison.

Hiram Johnson maintains his mummy-like silence on his defeat in Chicago as the wheels click under him on the Overland Limited which is carrying him to his home in California.

That is, he maintains a public silence. But within his breast burns the fire of hate and in his brain little demons are at work planning revenge and death, politically speaking, to those he considers responsible for his defeat.

Frank A. Harrison of Lincoln, manager of Johnson's campaign in Nebraska, spilled the beans yesterday when he made public a letter which is carrying him to his home in California.

Here's the letter. "I was hoping to see you this morning at Omaha for two reasons," wrote Hiram, as he sat in the Overland Limited last Monday.

"First, I wanted to thank you personally for your unwavering kindness to me.

"Secondly, I wanted your advice as to the best method of procedure with those who broke faith at Chicago.

"I wish to explain to your people just what they did, and to hold them up to deserved public obloquy and scorn.

"I am going to do this in every state where the like crime was committed, so that people may be protected in the future when they express their choice for president.

"I saw Nebraska slipping." "To be frank with you, after the first information which came to me, I never doubted what the Nebraska delegation would do, but I knew you were exerting yourself to the utmost to prevent the betrayal, and I did not wish, therefore, to disturb you.

"Let's make it impossible, by branding these scoundrels, to have a recurrence of such treachery.

"Please write me and tell me how best I can aid. At any rate, send me such detailed information as you think I may need, so I can write for general publication a letter branding the traitors.

"HIRAM W. JOHNSON."

THIN, FRAIL FOLKS NEED PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate to Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and to Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and relieving saggy hollows and angles by the soft, curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are often due to starved nerves. Our bodies need more phosphate than a modern food. There is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is in its natural state and is sold by Sherman & McConnell and most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food element, bitro-phosphate should produce a welcome transformation in the appearance: the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

Increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, should soon disappear, dull eyes ought to brighten, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health. Miss Georgia Hamilton, who was once thin and frail, reporting her own experience, writes:

"Bitro-phosphate has brought about a magic transformation with me. I gained 15 pounds and never before felt so good. CAUTION—While Bitro-Phosphate is unsurpassed for the relief of nervousness, general debility, etc., those taking it should do not desire to put on flesh should use extra care in avoiding fat-producing foods."

Omaha Profiting By High Wage Demands In Cities Further East

Chicago Tribune—Omaha Has Leased Wire. Chicago, June 23.—Because labor conditions and wage demands in Chicago are such as to make the location of industries less desirable here than in other cities, many manufacturers are refusing to establish their plants here, and are seeking sites elsewhere, it became known today.

Moveover large industries are leaving Chicago because the compensation laws, taxes and financial matters are making an excessive demand on them, according to Alderman Fisher, who today asked the committee on revenue and compensation to investigate the matter.

Omaha and Kansas City are said to be profiting by Chicago's loss. In the past year 30 firms formerly located here have left for cities further west.

AGED COUPLE IS GORED TO DEATH BY ENRAGED COW

60-Year-Old Iowa Farmer and Wife, Living Near Council Bluffs, Die of Injuries In Attack.

Mortally wounded Sunday in a battle with an enraged cow, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Liddell, both nearly 60 years old, died Tuesday afternoon, about an hour apart, on their farm near Treynor, 10 miles north of Council Bluffs.

While removing a cow and its calf from their barn to a nearby pasture, Mr. Liddell was attacked by the animal without warning. His wife came to his assistance, and was also gored and trampled.

Thomas Hector, neighbor, working across the road, rushed to the assistance of the aged pair, beat off the cow with a club and carried the injured man and woman into their home.

Both lingered in a semi-conscious condition until yesterday, when Mrs. Liddell died at 1:30 p. m. and her husband died an hour later.

The Liddells were pioneers of western Iowa. They are survived by four sons and two daughters: William, Council Bluffs; Peter, Oakland; James and Andrew, jr., at home; Mrs. Clun Talbot, Silver City, and Mrs. Lally Flood of Carson.

Arrangements for a double funeral have been made.

Sheep Market Slumps As Demand for Wool And Pelts Is Small

No demand for wool and the clothing trade dull with money scarce is the reason given by several live stock commission men at the Omaha stock yards for the slump in the sheep market the past few days.

"The recent decline in sheep and lambs may be attributed to the very sluggish demand for pelts at lower prices and the fact that live mutton had become so high that its meat product was selling out of line with beef and pork," Oakley C. Willis, general manager of the local Armour plant, said Wednesday.

Continuing, Mr. Willis said the trade was due for a downward revision of values and that he doubted that the importation of mutton from New Zealand was responsible for the drop in prices.

"Sheep pelts are not wanted at this time and as much of our revenue on sheep comes from the wool pulleries it is no more natural that sheep and lamb prices should fall. About a month ago the local plant of Armour & Co. sold over 15,000 woolled pelts at $4.25 and $4.35 and these same pelts today are hard to move at $3 and less.

"Recently we billed a few pelts to our own woolery at Kansas City and they were credited to us at $3, but this figure must be considered an extreme outside price on the open market. Sheared pelts taken from shorn lambs are worth only $1 each."

$3,000,000 Mortgage On Woolworth Building In Order to Pay Taxes

New York, June 23.—For the first time since its erection a decade ago, the Woolworth building—tallest office structure in the world—is to be encumbered by a mortgage.

It was announced today that heirs of the late F. W. Woolworth, founder of a chain of 5 and 10-cent stores, had arranged to borrow $3,000,000 on the structure to provide ready funds to meet state and federal inheritance taxes, which total $8,000,000.

The Woolworth building, 729 feet high and covering nearly an acre of land in Lower Broadway, returns an annual income of $1,550,000 and is valued by federal experts at $10,000,000.
