

HARVARD BEATS YALE OARSMEN IN GREAT RACE

Crimson Wipes Out Sting of Double Victory of Yale in Preliminary Races at New London.

New London, Conn., June 25.—Leading from the initial dip of their cars, Harvard's varsity crew defeated Yale in a spectacular four-mile race of the 52d intervarsity regatta today by nearly six lengths, thus completely wiping out the sting of the double victory of their blue rivals in the two preliminary races.

Yale Crew Exhausted.
Rowing in magnificent form from the start of the long upstream battle, the oarsmen coached by Bill Haines early demonstrated their superiority both in blade work and stamina and swept across between the finish flags 23 minutes and 11 seconds after the starting signal, while their ancient rivals trailed in 35 seconds later in a state of physical exhaustion.

C. C. Peters of Seattle, the Yale stroke and captain, who, it is reported still was suffering from the effects of a recent illness, collapsed in the last eighth mile and three dropped his oar. Bow B. G. Driscoll also went down at the finish, while the remainder of the eight had difficulty in sitting erect.

The crimson crowds were celebrating the conquest in part as a vindication of the American rowing system, as opposed by the English methods adopted by Yale.

Victory a surprise.
The victory of the Harvard crew came as more or less of a surprise, for Yale was a favorite at odds of 10 to 7 in the little betting that was done. This was partly due to the reported excellent time trials made by the blue and the staunch faith of the blue contingent that Guy Nickalls, the English coach, had developed a combination that would surely win.

Tonight the crimson cohorts are collectively singing the praises of their American coach, the Harvard crew, and particularly Stroke R. Jenney, the lightest oarsman who ever stroked a Harvard crew over the four-mile course.

Tearney Rules Wichita Victory of Decoration Day Is to be Counted

President Al Tearney of the Western league ruled Friday that the exhibition game played Decoration day between Wichita and Joplin, resulting in a victory for Wichita, should be regarded as a league game and counted in the team standings.

The Joplin team was unable to get to the ball park in time for the game on account of a railroad wreck. They arrived at intervals in taxicabs. As each cab arrived the players it carried were sent into the game.

TRUCK DEALERS DISCUSS PLANS FOR TRADE TOUR

H. C. Ridgway Tells of Successful Tours Conducted in Other Sections of West.

Numerous representatives of the truck industry gathered Friday evening at the Hotel Fontenelle to discuss a truck trade tour to be staged in the interest of "motorizing the farm."

H. C. Ridgway, who has successfully organized and promoted 16 truck trade tours for one of the largest tire manufacturers in the United States, was the host and lay at his command a startling accumulation of facts regarding the progress of the motor truck.

Mr. Ridgway came here to offer his assistance and co-operation in promoting a 300 to 350-mile tour within the Omaha trading radius. As evidence of the good demonstrations are effecting, Mr. Ridgway exhibited a film showing numerous convincing demonstrations made during a recent tour through the central west.

These demonstrations have proved beyond a doubt that a gigantic saving of time, money, produce and labor can be accomplished through the use of the modern motor truck. Actual sales statistics have proved that farmers are eager to include the motor truck with their farm equipment upon being convinced by concrete demonstrations that the truck will do the many things which manufacturers claim for it.

FRUIT ATTRACTS HOUSEWIVES AT OMAHA MARKET

First Cherries Offered in Large Quantities—Potatoes Fall and Meat Prices Still Rise.

"By the fruits ye shall know them," was apropos of Omaha's markets yesterday, for counters were piled high with the luscious fruits of trees, shrubs and vines, all qualified to make summer appetites strong, no matter what the weather may have done to them.

Plums were plentiful yesterday for the first time, and were of good quality. Large red ones sell for about 25 cents a dozen, and the blue ones cost about 90 cents a box. Peaches are better now than they have been, and are lower in price, being 50 cents a basket.

Cherries were offered in large quantities for the first time yesterday. Home-grown cherries are 20 cents a box. The large black ones from California are 30 cents a pound. Strawberries are better than they have been, and are selling at about 30 cents a box. Their season is about over. Loganberries are now offered in good numbers, at about 30 cents a box.

Watermelons are cheaper than heretofore, being only 7 cents a pound now. Cantaloupes are selling up to 20 cents apiece, depending on size and quality. Oranges are still high, the best selling at about 85 cents a dozen. Lemons sell at about 30 cents a dozen, and grape fruit up to about 17 cents.

The vegetables offered yesterday were excellent in quality, and as low as they have been for several weeks. Radishes, onions and lettuce are being sold at prices calculated to keep stocks moving, and therefore yesterday than they have been and are selling at 50 cents a basket, which is slightly cheaper than they have been.

Potatoes are feeling the effects of production, as the price is down and different grades are again offered. The best sell at about 12½ cents a pound.

Eggs retail from 40 to 45 cents a dozen, depending on where they are purchased. Butter is 62 cents a pound at most markets. Meat prices continue to advance, and the whole-sale price of beef is now almost 20 per cent above that of a month ago. This brings retail prices on all cuts up a few cents a pound. Pork prices are fairly steady, which is also true of mutton. Hams and bacon continue high, and will remain so during the summer, butchers believe.
