

Benson Society

Benson Correspondent—Call Walnut 5370

Presbyterian Choir Concert.

Miss L. C. Kerr, leader of the Presbyterian choir, has arranged a concert to be given Sunday night at 8 o'clock. The first number will be "Now the Day is Over," by Schubert; a ladies' chorus will render "Peace I Leave With You," by Roberts; Miss Maud Van Horn will sing "Son of My Soul," by Scott; a duet, "Lord, With Glowing Heart," will be sung by Mrs. E. N. Carson and Mr. T. J. Woolman; a number by Otto Lambert will be "The Good Shepherd," by Barnby. Other members of the choir are Mrs. L. H. Winters, Miss Opal Burt, Mrs. E. A. Mason, Miss Evelyn Borts, Mrs. W. A. Yale, L. H. Winters, Arthur Van Horn, Eugene Worsham. Miss Veta Paddock is pianist.

Keystone Park Kensington.

Members of the Keystone Park Kensington were entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Clapp, 525 South Twenty-sixth street.

The West Benson Improvement club entertained at a lawn social Saturday night at the home of A. C. Thomas. After the business session ice cream and cake were served.

Entertains at Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Norris entertained at a dinner of eight covers Thursday evening in honor of Robert Love of Texas, who is a guest of Menchon Welch.

Commercial Club of Benson.

The Commercial club of Benson met Monday night and elected the following officers for the ensuing year: Bert C. Ranz, president; H. H. Dimmitt, vice president; Walter Snell, secretary-treasurer.

Attends Convention.

Miss Jennie Gillespie spent Friday and Saturday in Schuyler, Neb., attending the state Christian Endeavor convention as a representative of the Presbyterian society of Benson.

Dinner Party.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitch entertained at dinner Sunday in honor of their home guests, Mr. and Mrs. McClure of Minneapolis, Minn. Covers were laid for Mr. and Mrs. McClure, Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Roberts of Arlington, Neb.; Miss Doris Fitch of Omaha, Mr. and Mrs. L. Fitch of Benson, Mrs. Rose Coleman and Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitch.

Narcissus Chapter of O. E. S.

The Narcissus chapter No. 261 of the O. E. S. will meet Friday, Thursday of each month in the I. O. O. F. hall during the remaining summer months.

Anniversary Dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Coffeen entertained at dinner and bridge Saturday evening in honor of the 13th wedding anniversary of Mrs. Coffeen's sister, Mrs. Richard Skankey. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. H. Wing, Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Reynolds and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skankey.

Sunday School Picnic.

The Methodist Sunday school held its annual picnic Saturday afternoon at Elmwood park. Out-of-door sports were indulged in by both young and old. A basket lunch was served to all present.

Drive For Building Fund.

The drive for funds for the erection of a new Baptist church which was conducted under the leadership of Dr. Devine of New York closed Sunday evening. The $25,000 mark was not quite reached, but members of the committee hope to report that they are over the top. Dr. Devine and Rev. O. P. Miles left the first of the week for Buffalo, N. Y., to attend the Baptist national convention. Mr. O. C. Kindig will have charge of the Sunday morning service. A trio of men's voices will furnish the music, the choir having disbanded for the summer.

Dinner Guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tracy had as their dinner guests Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Tracy of Omaha.

Entertains at Luncheon.

Mrs. A. V. Jeffry, formerly of Benson, entertained at a 1 o'clock luncheon Wednesday at her home in Minneapolis.

Baptist Sunday School Picnic.

Members of the Benson Baptist Sunday school will meet Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the church and go to Elmwood park, where they will participate in the annual picnic amusements. A basket luncheon and ice cream and cake will be served.

English Lutheran Ladies' Aid.

The ladies of the English Lutheran Aid society enjoyed a picnic Thursday afternoon at Elmwood park.

Luncheon Guests.

Mrs. Walter Reishaw had as her luncheon guests Thursday Mrs. W. G. Smith and daughter, June, and son, George, of Omaha.

Personals.

Edgar Norris left the first of the week for Medicine Bow, Wyo., where he will spend the summer months.

Carl Madsen and sister, Eleanor Madsen, left Thursday for Fremont, Neb., where they will visit their aunt, Mrs. C. A. Hansen, and Mr. Hansen.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben. H. Smith and son, Eugene, leave Sunday by auto for a trip to Denver and Yellowstone park.

Mrs. George Bax of Lincoln was a guest during the week of her daughter, Mrs. F. E. Kue, and Mr. Kue.

Paul Knealy and Harold Farns of Decatur, Neb., were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Turney.

Mrs. Howard Hutton leaves Monday for a six weeks' visit with relatives in California.

Miss Ruth Weicks leaves July 1 for California, where she will spend the summer.

Mrs. C. H. Maloney and children are visiting Mrs. Maloney's mother, Mrs. Robert Leitch, at Kearney, Neb.

Mrs. Austin Taylor spent a few days last week in Aurora, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tracy spent Sunday in Tecumseh, Neb.

Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Woodyard and children leave Wednesday for a two months' outing in Wyoming.

Mrs. H. S. Cunningham, mother of Mrs. Wyman Woodyard, will spend the summer months in northern Iowa.

Mr. and Mrs. Leah Porter of Kearney, Neb., spent Thursday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Wilcox.

Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Hodder and family will spend the summer months on their ranch in western Nebraska.

Miss Bernice Dunn left Friday for the east, where she will continue her study in elocution during the coming year.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fitch have had as their guests during the last two weeks Mr. and Mrs. Joe McClure of Minneapolis, Minn.

Mrs. Rose Coleman left Sunday for Greeley, Colo., where she will attend the summer school. The remaining vacation days will be spent at Colorado Springs.

Mrs. Albert Skankey and son, Roland, of Salt Lake City, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skankey.

Mrs. M. A. Priestly of Fremont was a guest during the week of her sister, Mrs. James Morton, and Mr. Morton.

Carl Sharp left Saturday for a business trip in the western part of the state.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Rivett and children will leave the middle of July for Isle Royal, where they will remain a month.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Skankey have taken a cottage at Wall Lake, Ia., where they will spend the month of August.

Mrs. W. A. Vicks returned home Thursday night from Des Moines, where she attended the biennial club convention.

Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Kue spent Sunday in Blair the guests of Mr. Kue's mother, Mrs. Sarah Kue.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hansen of Fremont and Mr. C. T. Anderson of Shelby, Ia., were Sunday guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Madsen.

Miss Marie Maney is on the convalescent list.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Hileman of Springfield and Miss Agnes Stitt of Omaha were guests during the week of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson.

Mrs. R. Burford and daughter, Eloise, leave the middle of the week for St. Louis and other points in southern Missouri. Before returning, the latter part of August, Mrs. Burford and daughter will visit two weeks in Hot Springs, Ark.

C. H. Faris and sons, Aikman and Jack, leave the first of the week for Carrollton, Mo.

E. E. Paddock arrived home Wednesday from Minneapolis, Minn.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Robinson motored to Springfield and Eagle, Neb., where they spent the weekend.

George Kiser, who has been appointed pastor to the Virgin Islands, was a Sunday guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Norris.

Herman C. Timme left Sunday for Seattle on an extended business trip. En route he will visit Salt Lake City and San Francisco.

Community Service

Monday—The Cluga club will have supper together at the Girls' Community house.

Wednesday—All community service girls are planning a big get-together jubilee at the Community house Wednesday evening, June 30.

Each club represented in the league will put on a stunt. There will also be a short program of music and dramatic readings. Refreshments will be served.

Sunday—Mrs. Rowe, hostess at Fort Crook, is planning a delightful picnic for the girls and enlisted men Sunday. Fifty girls will be taken in army trucks to the rifle range at Plattsmouth, where the boys are in camp.

Thursday—The Cluga club will entertain at a dance at the Girls' Community house for Thursday evening, July 1. All club members and their friends are invited.

Y. W. C. A.

Sunday afternoon, at 4:30 o'clock, at Camp Brewster, a beautiful pageant, "Passover Pilgrims," will be presented by Miss Charlene Johnston and Miss Ruth Gordon as soloists. The other leading parts in the pageant will be taken by members from the student clubs of the three high schools of Omaha, and the high school gymnasium girls of the Council Bluffs Y. W. C. A.

This pageant is a dramatization of that group of the Psalms, known as the "Songs of Ascent." Many beautiful costumes have been prepared and the Psalms, sung or intoned, have been heard many times during the week at Camp Brewster, where the girls have been encamped this last week.

Miss Helen Judd is general director, Miss Lucy Jane Giddings is stage manager, Mrs. Thomas MacKernan director of music; Miss Fay Stahl, costumer, and Miss Helen Windelman, chairman of the girls' committee of management.

The amphitheater by the new lake has been put in perfect shape, giving a wonderful woodland setting for the representation of the coming of the Israelites to the Feast of the Passover, in the days of the Kings.

This pageant will be open to the public, and it is hoped that many friends of the association and the girls in camp will be present to enjoy the beauty and inspiration of this service in the outdoors.

Now that the center for colored work, to be located at Twenty-second and Grant streets, is an assured fact, the women of the colored provisional and membership committees under the direction of Miss Frankie Watkins, secretary, and Mrs. D. W. Gooden, chairman of the membership committee, are starting out Sunday, June 27, on a membership drive. The campaign will close July 15, and it is hoped that every girl and woman who believes in the purpose of the Young Women's Christian association will become a member during that time.

The women of the committee will speak in all the colored churches Sunday, and will organize the women of the various churches to help with this membership drive.

The remodeling of the house will soon begin and the house committee, with Miss Lena Paul as chairman, is interested in planning for the furnishing.

MY DEARS:

AGAIN we take the Fashion Route in Clothes to your enjoyment. I hope, perhaps to your stylish enlightenment. Remember I'm ever ready to help in your problems of dress; suggestions as to lines and colors best suited to your personality, sending samples with price quotations, buying materials or ready-to-wear apparel as requested (either upon receipt of check or money order, or, in this preferably, C. O. D.).

A shopping service absolutely without charges of any kind and without commission, all purchases sent out direct from the shops. A service which is yours to command upon request. A shopping department ever on the alert to contribute to the beauty of dainty women that they may be prepared in clothes of dainty charm to leave the impression of studied grace and beauty.

The Designer Thought of a New and Lovely Way to Vary the Stylefulness of Sports Clothes

WHEN he conceived the fashioning of midseason chapeaux in duvetyne of softly glowing shades favored in the most authentic style circles of the 1920 fashion world. Who would not wish to wear a model whose hang-back fullness is banded by a taffeta circling joined to the tan fabric by delicate motifs of cut steel with charm unique. A nasturtium-shaded affair has a quaint jade green stitchery on its melon-shaped crown, while many others have combined in a wholly charming way ribbon with fringed ends with their velvety soft duvetyne crowns. Very new and exceedingly smart are the genuine Alpaca scarfs in sports shades, orchid with sand, brown with corn, white with navy, navy with corn, china blue with corn, which are now being offered for $15, less than half price. Eighty inches long, 26 inches wide, they're a hand-knotted fringe five and one-half inches wide. Silken soft, they crush under one's hand in a manner most intriguing. A buy for all the year round, utterly charming for wear over one's sheer frock, engagingly smart to slip over the shoulders of the voguish tulle, ideal for driving.

In Anticipation of Summer Needs THE J. T. McQuillin Shop for Men, 1512 Farnam street, is showing exquisite heavy crepe de chine pajamas, delightfully tailored, a true $25 value, for the special price of $16.50. They are also giving a 20 per cent discount on wonderful fine-all silk pajamas which were priced from $8 to $15.

Even With a Sweater.

OR perhaps I should say especially with a sweater the corset milady wears is of supreme importance. Dorothy Hill, the corset specialist, will demonstrate her skill in fitting you for summer's dainty little sports frocks with the correct corset foundation if you'll visit her fitting rooms, second floor, Neville block, northeast corner Harney and Sixteenth streets. Write for measure blanks if unable to call.

Summer Bedding of Marvelous Fineness. CONTRIBUTING to a summer's comfort and happiness, an important factor in all-round efficiency, is bedding of just the right summer weight, soft and fine in quality. In the drapery department at the H. R. Bowen Furniture company, Sixteenth and Howard streets, you'll find sleep-assuring "Sealy" mattresses, untiffed, filled with pure cotton, absolutely guaranteed to hold their shape without that "lumpy" tendency noticed in so many mattresses. Art ticking in light cool shades covers pillows of air-light down, soft silken summer weight comforters promise a cuddling comfort on cool nights in conjunction with the summer blankets of dainty color. Dimity spreads are the last word in bedwear, inexpensive, easy to launder, while the linens of excellent quality are being offered at special prices. In the workroom of this clever drapery department one may have made cretonne coverings for the bed with expensive summer drapes of cretonne to match the spread to be used without a glass curtain.

For the sports suit, horseshoe pockets are popular.

Large brilliant buckles are worn with dull slippers.

A triangle of silk, its corners weighted with beads, and an applied design across one side, makes the latest bathing cap.

There was a day—and there are still many persons who feel as we all felt in that day—when it was next to sacrilege to dislike mahogany. Yet there were some of us, not many of us, perhaps, but some of us, who refused to like the shiny red furniture built on stiff lines which our ancestors had discarded in favor of the more ornate black walnut of the enterprising shopkeepers of their day. They piled the old mahogany into the attics, where later it was joined by the black walnut, which in turn went the way of the outgrown to make room for golden oak. And then we came along, 10 or 15 or sometimes 20 years ago, and ransacked the old attics to find out the hidden mahogany. We found it, liked it, had it redressed in its original finish and furnished forth our homes with it.

Some of us there were, however, who rebelled at the fact that it was all mahogany. We didn't like red. To be sure, there is still brown mahogany, but most of our ancestral pieces were red. And as everybody knows, mahogany is capable of a mirror-like varnish finish. So usually the old mahogany furniture, after we had laid it renovated, was red and highly glazed.

And that, some of us felt, was just out of keeping with our rooms. We had color schemes where red furniture wouldn't fit. There were reds, and reds, said our mahogany-loving friends. They were right. Much of the softened hue of mahogany is not red to most eyes. But still some of us rebelled and refused to have the heirlooms about. We preferred to shop among the new things until we found what we wanted, or as nearly what we wanted as it was possible to find.

And now, behold! There is a changed attitude toward old mahogany. Some women have the audacity actually to have mahogany scraped and then refinished with paint. Think of it! Painting mahogany! It is almost as bad as painting the lily. But that is just what we are doing—painting mahogany furniture. We cover it with a coat of paint and then enamel it and then paint flowers or birds or butterflies on it. And the result is delightful. We are no longer offended by the bright red of mahogany—or what we insist on calling bright red—but we have before us painted blue and mauve and pink morning glories. Or we have a bright green enameled table, or a flaming yellow highboy. The point is, we have the color we desire, not the color that nature originally made the tree that went into the making of our furniture.

One can imagine a daughter of a coming generation inadvertently scraping off the paint from some old chair in the attic and finding under it real mahogany. For the pendulum swings in house-furnishing as it does in everything else. So those of us who paint real mahogany today may be judged severely by the future. But what matter? We are doing what we wish to do and that's a satisfaction.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Let's Go Shopping with Polly

There was a time when silence hung
Like golden threads, with jewels strung
Between us two. No need for word;
It seemed our minds, awakened, heard
Each other's thought subconsciously,
With ears, tuned to infinity
In that fair time when silence hung
Like golden threads with jewels strung.

Doubt interposed his sword of rust,
And tore the threads. Now, in the dust

The jewels lie, abject and dim,
With eyes averted, now, we skim
Through weak banalities. We jest,
And loudly laugh, but, ah, the best
We know we've lost. We may not find
Again, mind speaking unto mind.
And evermore, our lips go linking
Words to the thoughts we are not thinking!

—Silence, St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Omahans Who Are Taking Their Vacations at Home This Year

ARE finding most wonderful the privilege of taking the whole family down to the Flatiron Cafe, Seventeenth and Howard, for dinner each evening. Most reasonably too one can dine with an assurance of wholly delectable viands served in cool quiet of particular appeal. Place for family table reservations, Tyler 5199.

For Milady's Summer Coolness

THERE are new designs in cotton crepe kimonos as well as gorgeously lovely silk kimonos on display at the Nippon Importing company, 218 South Eighteenth street. Especially welcome is the news that they have very large sizes for stout ladies. The shop of unusual gifts!

The Walnut Room a Cool Retreat for Luncheon.

THE Walnut Room at Candyland, 1522 Farnam, is a marvel of dainty coolness these days. Busy shoppers sink gratefully into chairs placed close to long French windows now thrown open to catch the vagrant breezes of summer. Great whirling fans distribute the pleasant air, while noiseless waiters of skilled service supply one's every need. A theater fountain dainties to delight a jaded appetite, the sweetmeats found on the main floor of this great candy shop combine in making this a summer shop most delightful.

Of Course You'd Not Think of a Vacation Without a Kodak

AND quite indispensable you'll find the services of the Kase Studio, Second Floor, Neville block, northeast corner Sixteenth and Harney. Here you may send your films during your vacation jaunting for finishing immediately upon receipt either to be mailed to you direct or held until your return. You'll find their art enlargements of kodak pictures exquisite indeed and most inexpensive. Make this a kodak vacation!

It is Only a Matter of a Week or So

AND voila! That old chapeau you'd given up with reluctance may be renewed to new stylefulness if taken up to the Kruger Hat shop, third floor, Brown block, Fifteenth and Farnam. Cleaning, re-blocking, feather work and marabout renewing are specialties.

Suggestions for Better Drapery Treatments

IS a booklet artistically compiled by the expert decorators of the Orchard & Wilhelm Co. for the furnishing of artistically planned and decorated homes. This charming little book contains 45 exquisitely sketched illustrations of window treatments in houses of simple or stately requirements to correspond to period furnishings.

The round, filled collar of organdie is back again.

The bathing suit features a large crushed girdle.

Expressing the Insatiable Curiosity —The Irrepressible Longing For the Unusual—

THAT characterizes the fairer sex, "Pandora's Box," a picture in the window of the A. Hospe store, 1513 Douglas street, has attracted a great deal of attention. Dully gleaming is the light which reflects from the great bronze box before which Pandora kneels, light showing dimly through the trees in the background. A picture of mystic loveliness, it is exquisitely framed. You'll find the window full of newly framed Parrish pictures attractive, indeed.

For the Sake of Originality the New Sports Skirts Have Chosen Gay Plaids and Checks

AND have accorded pleased their widths in manner most alluring. The Lamond Specialty shop, second floor Securities building, Sixteenth and Farnam, have a large showing of these skirts in all wool in brown, green and navy, blue and tan, in one-inch check and in a charming tiny one-fourth check, as well as a line of all navy effects. These for wear with sweaters such as the dainty little slip-over in tan with its fringed collar hem and cuffs in the new varicolored effect, so engaging among new season's modes.

Skilled Needleworkers do Hand Embroidery of Expert Exquisite

IN that new shop of embroidery button work and pleating, the Top Notch Shop, third floor, Douglas block, southeast corner Sixteenth and Dodge streets. Write for price quotations and suggestions for handwork on your new frocks and sports suits, you'll find their plans original and charming.

Summer Stylefulness Calls for Many Pairs of White Shoes.

HOW glad are we therefore to find that the Kinney Shoe shop, Sixteenth and Capitol, are showing a chic white Fedora duck shoe tie for the modest sum of $2.98. Such daintiness is embodied in the slender ribbon tie and gracefully high heels. I'm sure milady will be exceedingly delighted with the find. One of the many splendid shoe "buys" in this smart shop.

Large brilliant buckles are worn with dull slippers.

A triangle of silk, its corners weighted with beads, and an applied design across one side, makes the latest bathing cap.

There was a day—and there are still many persons who feel as we all felt in that day—when it was next to sacrilege to dislike mahogany. Yet there were some of us, not many of us, perhaps, but some of us, who refused to like the shiny red furniture built on stiff lines which our ancestors had discarded in favor of the more ornate black walnut of the enterprising shopkeepers of their day. They piled the old mahogany into the attics, where later it was joined by the black walnut, which in turn went the way of the outgrown to make room for golden oak. And then we came along, 10 or 15 or sometimes 20 years ago, and ransacked the old attics to find out the hidden mahogany. We found it, liked it, had it redressed in its original finish and furnished forth our homes with it.

Some of us there were, however, who rebelled at the fact that it was all mahogany. We didn't like red. To be sure, there is still brown mahogany, but most of our ancestral pieces were red. And as everybody knows, mahogany is capable of a mirror-like varnish finish. So usually the old mahogany furniture, after we had laid it renovated, was red and highly glazed.

And that, some of us felt, was just out of keeping with our rooms. We had color schemes where red furniture wouldn't fit. There were reds, and reds, said our mahogany-loving friends. They were right. Much of the softened hue of mahogany is not red to most eyes. But still some of us rebelled and refused to have the heirlooms about. We preferred to shop among the new things until we found what we wanted, or as nearly what we wanted as it was possible to find.

And now, behold! There is a changed attitude toward old mahogany. Some women have the audacity actually to have mahogany scraped and then refinished with paint. Think of it! Painting mahogany! It is almost as bad as painting the lily. But that is just what we are doing—painting mahogany furniture. We cover it with a coat of paint and then enamel it and then paint flowers or birds or butterflies on it. And the result is delightful. We are no longer offended by the bright red of mahogany—or what we insist on calling bright red—but we have before us painted blue and mauve and pink morning glories. Or we have a bright green enameled table, or a flaming yellow highboy. The point is, we have the color we desire, not the color that nature originally made the tree that went into the making of our furniture.

One can imagine a daughter of a coming generation inadvertently scraping off the paint from some old chair in the attic and finding under it real mahogany. For the pendulum swings in house-furnishing as it does in everything else. So those of us who paint real mahogany today may be judged severely by the future. But what matter? We are doing what we wish to do and that's a satisfaction.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.

Gold fringe is used on a white silk sweater. It is wide fringe, and is fastened about the bottom of the sweater. There is no other touch of color on the white silk.