BANKS AIDED STOCK FRAUD IS CHARGE

Organizers and Salesmen of Missouri Valley Cattle Loan Company Operated Swindle Game, Petition Declares.

CONSPIRACY TO BILK FARMERS IS ALLEGED

Pr'minent Bankers and Ranchmen Acted as 'Bird Dogs' and 'Pointers' in Skin Game, According to Plaintiffs.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy, filed yesterday afternoon in United States court, against the Missouri Valley Cattle Loan Co., alleges among other things that the company was conceived for fraudulent purposes and that the receivership proceedings of this week were irregular.

The petition was signed by Noah J. Peterson, G. S. Satterfield, L. G. Fuller, W. H. Brook, Fred W. McNally, Floyd Davidson and Thomas M. Anderson. The petitioners set forth in lengthy detail the circumstances of their stock subscriptions to the company. Mr. Peterson alleges that he was induced by W. B. Johnson to subscribe for $10,000 worth of the stock, paying $2,500 in cash and taking up notes for $2,500 each given by W. H. Brook, L. G. Fuller and L. A. Roberts. Mr. Alexander relates that he also subscribed for $10,000, paying half in cash and giving a note for the balance.

Claim Wholesale Fraud.

The petitioners allege that "the company was conceived in fraud and from its very inception was a stock-selling scheme by which the present officers and agents and original promoters conspired to defraud farmers, ranchmen and others, by selling stock upon the representation that the company was being organized to do a legitimate loan business, while in fact the said corporation was organized for the purpose of defrauding people out of their money by selling worthless stock."

It further is alleged that "some banks and some stockmen and cattle men acted as 'bird dogs' or 'pointers,' to point out prospective subscribers, and a specific allegation is made that E. Smith, cashier of the Nishia Valley bank of River, Ia., acted as one of the 'bird dogs' and that his bank was one of the bird dog banks."

Collusion Is Charged.

In connection with the appointment of C. E. Burnham and Joseph B. Fradenburg as receivers this week, and alleged irregularities of those receivership proceedings, it is alleged in the petition that there was collusion between the following:

E. Smith, C. A. Sunderland, C. E. Burnham, G. D. Butterfield, F. M. Currie, R. S. Johnson, G. C. Junkin, V. W. Giddings, C. B. Gano, P. E. McKillip, L. D. Ohman, W. H. Graver, McNish Cattle Loan Co., Jesse C. McNish, R. W. McGraw, Richard M. D. Childs, Palmer W. Wharton and C. H. Kelley.

Another allegation is that the stock-selling promoters represented to prospective subscribers that the company would pay 32 per cent on common stock in 1919 and 8 per cent on preferred stock and that the notes given by subscribers never would have to be paid, because dividends would meet those obligations.

G. P. North of Cherokee, Ia., and M. L. Donovan of Omaha were the attorneys who filed the petition.

About Transfer of Notes.

The petition further alleges that the officers of the company wrongfully assigned and transferred various notes and mortgages in the sum of $47,000, and it is also alleged that there are other creditors to the extent of $100,000.

C. A. Sunderland and E. Smith are charged with having sent circulars to stock subscribers with intent to defraud.

Reference is made in the petition to a contract with the McNish Cattle Loan Co. for a tract of land, and another reference is made to the payment of $1,000 a month to C. E. Burnham, G. D. Butterfield and F. W. Currie.

The names of the stock promoters are given as follows: J. J. Ready, Huntley, W. B. Johnson and B. W. Giddings.

San Francisco, July 2.—An elderly woman, giving the name of Mrs. William G. Owens of Santa Barbara, Cal., was detained by the police as she was about to board a southbound train with a baby today, in the belief that she might be an abductor of Blakeley Coughlin, the Philadelphia boy who was stolen from his crib on June 2.

She maintained that she was given the baby to keep by a Margaret Wilson, a theatrical woman of Santa Barbara, and the police placed some credence in her story.

The woman and child will be held until all information concerning the Coughlin baby has been checked up, the police announced, but they said this was a precaution only, the baby is about 19 months old, according to available records, while the Coughlin child was said to be 13 months.

MADON IN LEAD FOR NOMINATION

Strong Disposition Among the Delegates in Favor of Former Cabinet Member Rather Than Hold Convention Over.

OPPOSITION CONFIDENT THEY CAN CHECK BOOM

Meeting Now 36 Hours Behind Schedule—Many Members Have Pullman Reservations For Saturday Night Trains.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING, Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee, Leased Wire. Auditorium, San Francisco, July 2.—The democratic national convention tonight reached the stage of balloting on the nomination for president with William G. McAdoo far in the lead of the field of aspirants and his opposition disorganized, but striving to unite upon a candidate capable of defeating the former secretary of the treasury.

Time is now working powerfully in favor of the president's son-in-law. As a result of the protracted platform fight, the proceedings of the convention are now 36 hours behind schedule. Most of the delegates have Pullman reservations for departure tomorrow night. If McAdoo is nominated they will not miss their trains. If McAdoo is eliminated or a deadlock produced the delegates would be held over Sunday, as in Baltimore in 1912.

In view of the inability of the McAdoo opposition to date to unite upon a candidate, there is an evident disposition among many delegates to desert the allies and plump for the president's son-in-law in preference to missing their homebound trains tomorrow night.

Opponents Confident. After all the conferring and gumshoeing and dickerings of the last 48 hours the anti-McAdoo men, led by Brennan of Illinois, Murphy of New York, Nugent of New Jersey and Lynch of Minnesota, approached the first roll call with confidence they could halt the former secretary's triumph.

The political career of Sir Robert Borden, premier of Canada, definitely announced his retirement from public life at a general caucus of unionists here last night and his decision was regrettably accepted by the caucus. No definite appointment of a successor has been made.

A canvass of the caucus showed that sentiment strongly favored Arthur Meighan, minister of the interior, as Sir Robert's successor. He represents in parliament the district of Portage la Prairie, Man., and is the youngest member of the government, being 44 years old.

Another possible leader mentioned is Sir Henry Drayton, minister of finance, who for many years was chairman of the board of railway commerce of Canada.

The political career of Sir Robert Borden began in 1896 when he entered the house of commons as a conservative member from Halifax. Later he became leader of the conservatives in the Canadian parliament, and in 1911 succeeded Sir Wilfrid Laurier as premier.

As a colonial representative at the peace conference, Sir Robert early declared himself in favor of a league of nations.

N. W. Rowell, president of the privy council, also has tendered his resignation from the ministry.

The choice of a new name for the party provided discussion as did the premier's retirement. Many party titles were suggested. The caucus finally agreed on "national, liberal and conservative party," which was sponsored by J. A. Calder, minister of immigration and colonization. It will be commonly known as the national party.

Sir Robert has promised to retain his seat in the house and to support his successor to the best of his ability.

A significant fact also is that prior to the general caucus the liberal unionists held a gathering in camera and decided to stand by any man chosen by the larger gathering, also to agree to the fusion of the liberal and conservative identities.
