Lotus Circle.
Theosophical society, Lotus circle for children, will meet Saturday, 3 p. m., in room 202, Kennedy building, Nineteenth and Douglas streets.

Camp Brewster Plans for Fourth.
More than 200 girls will spend the Fourth at Camp Brewster, where a special program has been arranged for Monday. There will be a base ball game in the morning at 10 o'clock on the new athletic field. Dinner will be served in the woods at noon, athletic stunts will be a feature of the afternoon program, and there will be fireworks in the evening.

Many reservations have been made for the week-end.

Sweden has more than 100 women members of various town councils.

Business Woman's Club To Elect Delegates For Convention.

The Omaha Business Woman's club will have a business meeting in Elmwood park Monday morning, followed by a picnic breakfast. Delegates to the national convention, to be held in St. Paul, Minn., July 27-30, will be elected. The club is entitled to two voting delegates. Any member may attend, as all are eligible to the floor of the general meetings.

Miss Mabel Hall, president of the Omaha Business Woman's club and national vice president for the state, will attend as a state delegate, Nebraska having planned to have full quota of five state representatives present.

Mrs. J. A. Andrews, president of the State Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs, will attend the meeting Monday.

Problems That Perplex

Answered by
BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Does He Love Her?
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am coming to you for advice as several have done before as my mother is dead. I am dearly in love with a boy of 18 and have been for the last three years. You may say I am too young for such things, but nevertheless it is true. I am through going to school also.

This boy is always wanting to put his arms around me at home or anywhere when we are alone; he also does it in front of his parents. How can I prevent this, as I wish to? He doesn't try to kiss me though, or take me anywhere. He always gets sullen if I speak to him in public.

He told me once he loved me, and that is why I come to you for advice.

Pat and Mike: I cannot undertake to get correspondence for you. Your letter indicates that you would abuse any confidence I might place in you.

A. B. C.: Publishing a license is not a legal requirement. Request the license clerk to withhold your name from publication, and strengthen your request with some good cigars, and perhaps he will accommodate you. You must be married in the county where your license is issued. It would be better for you to go to some other town to get your license, and if you want to make doubly sure of keeping the matter a secret, let your relatives and still request that the names be not given to newspapers.

Secret marriages are not desirable, however. Tell your relatives about it, and your friends.

Thinks He's Fooling.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am a girl 18 years old. I am in love with a very nice young man. He has told me several times that he loves me, but I imagine that he is fooling. Please tell me what to do about it.

COOKY.
Wait two years and if he still keeps repeating his love for you you will know he isn't fooling. Before that you couldn't think of accepting it, anyway, could you?

H. B.: By no means bob your head in acknowledging an introduction or greeting a person. It is a very common error to do a proper one according to the rigid rules of etiquette.

You'll Have to Explain.
Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am 18 and some time ago met a man of 21. He has called at my home several times, but was not received as cordially as he had expected to be. He then gained the impression that my people objected to my going out with him, but it was not so.

Now, Miss Fairfax, his mother learned of our affair and that he had seen me often without calling at my home. She threatens to send him out if he should see me again if he cannot be received at my home. It pains me a great deal to know that a woman should forbid her son to go about with me, and although I have never met her she has seen me with him several times.

He is earning a large salary and in two years will be seriously thinking of marriage. I do not desire to lose his friendship, yet how can I convince him that my people are not prejudiced against him in any way?

F. G. L.

Your story is rather complicated. There seems no real reason why your family should not be decently cordial to a caller in your home. Some explanation is due this youth if you want to keep his friendship. Otherwise he is not going to let himself in for any more snubbing. You'd better clear up the mystery if you want to keep his regard and have his mother feel that dignity permits his seeing you.

Personal

Miss Dorothy O'Connell of Chicago, who has been the guest of Miss Helen Hussie, returns to her home in Chicago Saturday evening.

Miss Helen Hussie is planning a trip to Chicago for the latter part of the month.

Dr. P. T. Barber returned Wednesday from Portland, Ore., where he attended the Shriners' convention.

Mrs. G. F. Atchison leaves Saturday for St. Louis and then will return to her home in Erin, Tenn. She has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. Bradley T. Roe.

Hugh Robertson left Friday morning for Arcadia, Neb., where he will deliver the Independence day address.

A son was born Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Nelson at the Methodist hospital. Mr. Nelson was formerly Miss Agnes Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Lewis.

Miss Emily Rosemary Alles left Thursday for an extended trip through the east. She will spend one month in Pigeon Hills of the Blue Ridge mountains.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Burke and children, Emily and Edward, Jr., left Friday to spend two months at Lake Okoboji.

Miss Esther Dugher, Jeannette Sample and Clara Peterson left Friday evening for Kansas City, where they will remain for the Fourth of July. They will then go to the Ozark mountains to spend about three weeks.

Modes of the Moment

The overblouse is no longer frowned upon by well-gowned women. It has developed into such rich and varied charm that it occupies an important role in the wardrobe—one that the shirtwaist never dreamed of holding. Some of these little garments are handsome and long enough to form the more than half of a dinner frock, giving the appearance of a tunic.

Spanish tortoise shell combs which measure ten to twelve inches above the hair are all the rage for those who can afford them. Now is the time to ransack grandma's handboxes in the attic.

There is no definite reason why pretty girls should veil their lovely eyes beneath lace frills, but it seems to be a whim of Dame Fashion for them to do so at the moment. The very newest veil fad shows this arrangement, especially those draped over wide hats.

Parboiling a PURITAN ham is "painting the lily." Parboiling destroys some of the delicate flavor which months of careful attention and exact proportioning of flavoring materials impart.
