

SOCIALISTS TO CONDUCT 'FRONT CELL' CAMPAIGN

Prominent Party Member to See Debs Monthly and Then Circulate Interview as Propaganda.

Chicago, July 9.—A "front cell" campaign is planned by the socialist party for Eugene V. Debs, its presidential nominee, according to William M. Figenbaum, director of publicity for the national campaign. Mr. Figenbaum said today the party intends to send some prominent socialist to Debs' prison at Atlanta every month. What Debs has to say will then be distributed by the campaign committee.

The usual touring will be taken care of by Seymour Stedman of Chicago, the vice presidential nominee. He is to start the middle of this month for Texas and Oklahoma, finishing this trip the latter part of August, and on the first of September plans to begin a transcontinental tour ending in Chicago two months later.

Will Meet Saturday. The organization of the socialist campaign will be taken up by the party's national executive committee next Saturday at Detroit, Mr. Figenbaum said. As usual, the socialists plan to make a large use of pamphlets in their campaign. Mr. Figenbaum said the party distributed 27,000,000 in 1916 and hoped to get out 50,000,000 this year.

Two of the expelled New York assemblymen, he said, are now out speaking for the national office in the campaign. Louis Waldman and August Claessens, the men so engaged. The campaign publicity chief said that 12 speakers in all were now out campaigning.

Will Publish Paper. One of the chief party organs in the campaign will be "The New Day," official socialist paper published at party headquarters. "The New Day" is a new name for the party organ, chosen several weeks ago in place of "The Eye Opener," which served as the party paper after "The American Socialist" discontinued during the war.

The socialists are having trouble in getting on the electoral ticket in several states, Mr. Figenbaum reported. He said that owing to the party having lost its legal standing in Montana it was certain it would not get one in that state.

Socialist strength, he added, now appears greatest in Oklahoma, Wisconsin, New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Missouri, Texas, California and Idaho.

Co-Operative Russian Body "Most Helpful" Washington, July 9.—The co-operative societies of Russia are the "most helpful element" in Russian society and will play a vital part in the economic rehabilitation of that country, Frederic E. Lee, economist in the office of the foreign trade adviser of the State department, declared today in a report on the Russian co-operative movement.

Statistics in the report show that from the first co-operative society established in Russia in 1865 the number had increased in 1919 to 80,000, with a membership of 20,000,000 householders.

Electric Elevated, Oldest In Country, Is Being Dismantled

Chicago, Ill., July 9.—The oldest electric elevated road in the world, according to local accounts, has recently been junked here, to make way for more modern methods. It was a freight line in the plant of Armour & Co., at the stock yards. Previous to its construction in 1892 a steam elevated road had been tried out. New York City had started its first elevated road in 1866-7. The first means of transportation on that line was cable.

The New York line ran until 1871 and then broke down financially. It resumed in 1876. Chicago later began construction starting in December, 1889. On June 6, 1920, in good season for the world's fair of the next year, the first section was put into operation.

In three years the first electric passenger elevated in Chicago, started and this was probably the first of the kind in the country. The freight elevated at the packing plant had then three years' operation behind it.

The packer elevated was installed as the answer to great congestion following on delivery by truck in the plant. Andrew J. Shillinglaw, the company's first superintendent of electricians, worked out the elevated idea to haul food products from railway yards to plant and back again. There were seven trolley cars, 950 trailers and three miles of overhead wires and tracks. Electric tractors have been found to do the same work with a saving of 16 per cent and 60 of them have been put in.

AMERICANS FAR BEHIND TIMES WITH AVIATION

Cortland Bishop Says American Efforts During War Are Wasted; Europe Makes Progress.

Paris, June 12.—Cortland Bishop, former president of the Aero club and vice president of the American Flying club, doesn't give much praise for American aviation today. Here is his comment: "All America's efforts, during the war are going to waste. The millions spent on aviation are not being made use of in the slightest. Immense hangars, built at tremendous expense, are lying idle, airplanes are growing rusty for lack of use. There is no air service in America today comparable to that between Paris and Brussels. Why? Both civil and military aviation is abandoned in the United States."

The object of the American Flying club, which is made up of aviators only, is to form a nucleus for the development of aviation in America. We certainly need it. Europe, in spite of the ruins of the year, is going ahead. Soon we shall be far out of the race.

Aside from the military advantages of a trained aviation service, think what the man in the street would gain by well organized air lines—improvements of all kinds, including better postal connections, rapid delivery of parcels, greater facilities for travel, eventually the possibility of decongesting large cities. America owes it to her position in the van of progress to keep up its aviation and not to allow the European to outdistance it completely.

Belgian Ship Owner Scores the American Ship Board Policy

Genoa, July 9.—A vigorous attack against the American marine policy was made by Emile Deckers, Belgian ship owners' delegate, at today's plenary session of the International Seamen's conference. He charged unfair methods on the part of America, which, he declares, would "paralyze the work of the conference."

M. Deckers read a letter said to have been sent to seamen of many countries by Silas Blake Axtell of New York, attorney for the Seamen's Union of North America. This letter purported to be an appeal to seamen to join the American merchant marine, offering both moral and pecuniary inducements.

The speaker declared America desired to appear capable of giving a millennium to the world, and added: "Isn't it a preconceived plan to destroy the European merchant marine, especially that of small countries like mine? Shouldn't we do something to protect ourselves against these attempts from America?"

Villa Promises to Aid Regime in Ending Revolts

Villa promises allegiance to the government of President de la Huerta and General Obregon and agrees not to take the punishment of his enemies into his own hands, besides offering to retire from political life, except as a private citizen.
