Sateen Frocks

English sateens are now used extensively for smart dresses. Frocks of the plain-colored sateens were seen early last summer among the collections of clothes at exclusive dressmakers, but they were looked upon as a novelty and were not adopted to any great extent. This summer will see any number of dresses made of English sateens, the printed designs being considered very much smarter this season than the plain colors.

Do You Know---I

1. Why we should be especially careful not to let flies get in our houses this summer?
2. The safe way to keep vegetables green while cooking?
3. How to freshen an old broom?

(These questions will be answered in this section during the coming week by the Housekeeper.)

(Each of these household problems has been worked out by the author, who has not only taken a course in scientific housewifery and dietetics at Columbia university, and written and edited women's newspaper and magazine features for years, but is a practical housekeeper as well.)

Suffrage When Next State Ratifies

Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, president of the National American Woman Suffrage association, today wired the congratulations of the National to its Vermont auxiliary, the Vermont Equal Suffrage association, in annual convention at St. Albans, over the Vermont prospect of ratification which has developed following the conference of Governor Clement and Senator Harding.

Headed by Mrs. Lilian Olzen, chairman of ratification, the Vermont Equal Suffrage association has been working for months to induce the governor to call the special session. One demonstration made to convince him of the keen interest of the women of the state took form, it will be recalled, in the delegation of 400 women from every corner of Vermont who, under the leadership of Mrs. Olzen, waited upon him in the early spring to present the case for a special session.

Mrs. Catt's telegram read: "Heartfelt congratulations to the Vermont Equal Suffrage association. For Governor Clement to call special session will have effect of a glorious crown to top the effective work for ratification done by the Vermont suffragists."

Mrs. Olzen has reported to the National Suffrage association that, basing on a poll of Vermont legislators, there is no doubt that the legislature will ratify when the governor gives it the opportunity.

To the question, "Does favorable action in Vermont or Tennessee close the ratification campaign?" Mrs. Catt today had this to say:

"The ratification campaign will be closed whenever and wherever the 36th state ratifies the federal suffrage amendment. True, there must be a promulgation of the amendment by the secretary of state, but according to reliable information the promulgation is not in itself the crux of ratification. It is merely a matter of form. For all practical purposes ratification ends with the 36th state. When the 36th state ratifies the women of the United States will be enfranchised."

"We are not unaware that the political opponents of suffrage, acting through women antisuffragists, may try to block the operation of the amendment even after 36 states have ratified. Hiding behind women's skirts, that same little coterie of politicians who successfully interfered to prevent the submission of the 19th amendment in the 65th congress and did their best to block its passage in the 66th, are planning to the limit of their ability to interfere with the machinery of the amendment even after the 36th ratification. Unfortunately, our processes of government are delicately poised and lend themselves readily to litigation. It may be, therefore, that some inhibitive program of litigation will be projected by these selfish politicians."

"We, however, are resting confident on the assumption that any such litigation will come to immediate grief on the rock of the supreme court's decisions. As a matter of fact, that court's decision, as already recorded, discounts in advance any such program of interference which may be contemplated."

"It has been a long, long trail but always victory has been inevitable. Today it is not only inevitable but immediate in prospect."

Former Resident Returns

Mrs. C. S. Lobingier, who was a guest of Mrs. C. C. Belden for one week, departed Wednesday for her home in Shanghai, China. She will sail from San Francisco early in August. Judge Lobingier, who presides over the United States court in China, made a trip back to this country with his wife a year ago, but returned to Shanghai last December. Mrs. Lobingier has remained in the United States since Judge and Mrs. Lobingier retain residence in Omaha, though they have spent the past 17 years in the Orient, going first to the Philippines and later to China.

Mrs. Lobingier attended the biennial meeting of the General Federation of Women's clubs in Des Moines recently, where she extended an invitation from the Shanghai

Woman's club of more than 400 members, for the next biennial. "We have all the comforts of an occidental city, with the advantages of an oriental setting," said Mrs. Lobingier while here, speaking of her home in Shanghai. "Kipling's saying that 'east is east and west is west and never the twain shall meet' grows less and less true," she declares, "and the war has been largely responsible." Life is very interesting in Shanghai, she says, and very cosmopolitan.

Mrs. Lobingier was honor guest at many affairs while in the city. Mary and Elizabeth Bonsall, daughters of the famous Arctic explorer, Amos Bonsall, are well known artists.

THEY HAVE TO PAY THE FIDDLER NOW!
One of the great Eastern Diamond Brokers has sent us a beautiful selection of clean-cut, flawless stones of bona fide value $50,000.
Understand us well! We did not buy this choice and charming chest of cheerfulness! They just sent us the stones and asked us to get the bare cost out of the goods for them. And bare cost means WHAT THEY PAID A COUPLE OF YEARS AGO!

DO YOU SEE WHAT IT MEANS?
Like many other brokers they have gorged themselves with goods, knowing full well that the stuff would keep on increasing in value. It was a fine bet, all right—only one little tiny rift in the lute—in order to grab all the precious stones in sight they had to give their notes away beyond the limit of their safe and sane credit zone.

AND THEN THE BANKS CALLED THEM!
A very polite call, Oh, certainly. But there is only one answer—MONEY! And that is why we find ourselves in charge of this imposing array of the highest intrinsic values of the realm. The Diamonds are here—various sizes and weights—the brokers' old tag on each is just as they were packed in the East—and we are pledged to send a check daily for stones sold at these brokers' prices, LESS 20 PER CENT.

Do not complain next Christmas about the high cost of Diamonds. The chance is HERE and NOW! And please don't sympathize with us! This funeral is decidedly not ours! We have played safe all the time and we are not kept awake worrying about the profits that this broker is NOT going to get. But we do like to see our friends and customers take advantage of a real opportunity when it affords itself.
