

GRONNA'S DEFEAT STIRS C. O. P. TO EXTRA EFFORTS

Outcome of North Dakota Primary Shows Republicans Necessity of Real Work To Control Senate.

Washington, July 12.—The defeat of Senator A. J. Gronna, republican, for re-nomination has acted as a stimulant to the republican campaign to retain and strengthen the republican control of the senate.

The managers of the senatorial campaign are no less confident of their ability to give Senator Harding a republican congress, but they appreciate the necessity of "taking their coats off" to give the party a real working majority in the upper house.

Dr. E. F. Ladd, president of the North Dakota State Agricultural college, defeated Senator Gronna for the republican nomination. Senator Gronna had expected to retire from the senate next year but was drawn into the contest after his name had been aroused by the Nonpartisan league, which put up Dr. Ladd and backed him through the campaign.

Dr. Ladd, according to information received here, is not only a Nonpartisan leaguer from head to foot, but has had democratic leanings in the past. The senatorial campaign managers are anxious to learn whether he will line up on the republican side in organizing the senate if he is elected. They are afraid they can't count on him very much.

The narrow margin of control in the senate is going to sound him out at an early date and if adequate assurances are not forthcoming they may find it necessary to run a candidate in North Dakota on an independent republican ticket.

The allies have sent a proposal to the Russian soviet government for an armistice with Poland on condition that the Poles retire within their natural Polish frontier and that the bolsheviks attack the Poles within their own frontiers. The allies will come to Poland's assistance. A conference of representatives of all the countries is proposed.

The conference also decided that the selection of judges should be made by the council and assembly of the league of nations. Judges would be appointed for a term of nine years.

British Ship Owners Offer to Sell Vessels To German Interests

Berlin, July 12.—The Boersens Courier's Hamburg correspondent claims to have authority to affirm the report that British ship owners have offered to sell to German ship owners or the German government a large part of the tonnage surrendered as compensation for the Scapa Flow sinkings. Immediately after the conclusion of the shipping deal British overtures, according to the correspondent, were made through the German legation at London, with the approval of the British government with an order to replace the ships immediately at the disposal of the German buyers on five years credit.

The Germans declined to accede to the British demand, that the ships fly the British flag.

Male Nurse Charged With Aiding Aliens to Escape

New York, July 12.—Federal inquiry into recent escape of aliens from Ellis Island, followed the arrest and holding in $2,500 bail of Xavier F. Destefano, male nurse at the immigration station there. Sixteen aliens were reported to have escaped Saturday morning but this was denied by superintendent Baker. Destefano was charged with assisting John Tersey, an Irish stow-away, to escape, by supplying him with a row boat he was said to have used in flight to the main land.

GRAFTERS BACK OF UPRISINGS IN MEXICAN NATION

Representatives of New Provisional Government Blame Former Carranza Generals for Revolts.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Exposed Wire. Washington, July 12.—Grafting generals of the Carranza regime, whose "rake-off" has ended under the De La Huerta administration, are responsible for the latest uprising in Mexico, according to information given out here today by representatives of the new provisional government. Prediction was made that the revolts would be speedily quelled.

In Michoacan General Mujic has set up the standard of revolt, because Salvador Alvarado, the new minister of finance, has called upon him to account for $1,500,000 sent him by Carranza for the equipment of his troops. The general became resentful at the insinuation that the money had not been appropriated to the purpose specified by the late President Carranza and he promptly defied the new authorities.

Much the same situation prevails in Chiapas, according to De La Huerta's representatives in Washington. An orgy of graft has been in progress there for years, it was stated. The Carranza generals in command there have been the beneficiaries of De La Huerta's decision to halt their "easy pickings" by ordering the suspected generals to Mexico City. They promptly rebelled and are staying on the job. Federal troops have been dispatched from the capital to put down the revolt.

Troubles in Tamaulipas are traced to the same source. General Ocurra is heading the insurrection in that section, but his followers number only several hundred men and probably soon will be subdued.

CHARGES AGAINST BANK RECEIVER FALSE, SAYS HART

E. E. Fike, Former Cashier of Valparaiso Institution, Defended by Dept. Sec'y.

Lincoln, July 12.—(Special)—There are no new developments in the matter of the failure of the Nebraska State bank of Valparaiso which was put in the hands of a receiver some time ago.

The charges made Saturday that E. E. Fike, former cashier of the bank, had made certain entries on the books of the bank to cover up alleged deficiencies, is pronounced by J. E. Hart, secretary of the state banking department, simply an attempt on the part of Ray Lower, former president of the bank, to get credit for the responsibility for its failure, to "muddy the waters" in order to make it difficult to settle up the affairs.

Sunday Mr. Hart said that he had the utmost confidence in Receiver Fike who told him yesterday that the entries made were legitimate, that it had been the custom of the bookkeeper to close up his day's work on the books soon after 1 in the afternoon and that when his money came in after the books had been balanced and entries were made to cover that day's receipts.

NEW FEATURES ARE PLANNED FOR BIG STATE FAIR

Prospects Fine for Bumper Crops and Unprecedented Attendance Predicted.

Lincoln, July 12.—(Special)—Everything points to one of the greatest exhibitions this year at the state fair in the history of that institution, according to Secretary E. R. Danielson who is feeling so well over the prospects that everybody appears to be catching the enthusiasm and looking forward to the first week in September with great expectations.

"With the big crops ahead of us," said the secretary, "there is going to be a wonderful showing for Nebraska and there is every indication that the people of the state are going to co-operate in making an exhibit far in excess of anything we have ever had, and you will have to admit that we have had some pretty good shows."

The big circus, an innovation in state fair exhibitions, which Nebraska will be on hand bigger and better than ever. Locklear, the daredevil, who performs in the air from two airplanes, and who gave the fair his many thrills last year, will be on hand again this year with something new.

TWIN STORIES

BY LUCY FITCH PERKINS

Irish Twins Tell of Their Adventures.

When they were nearly home, the Twins saw a dark figure hurrying down the road, and as it drew near, their mother's voice called to them. "Is it yourselves, Larry and Eileen, and whatever kept you till this hour? Sure, you've had me distracted entirely with wondering what had become of you at all! And your dada sits in the room with a lip on him as long as today and tomorrow!"

The Twins both began to talk at once. Their mother clapped her hands over her ears.

"Can't you hold your tongues and speak quietly now—once at a time—like gentlemen and ladies?" she said.

"Where have you been, you spavens?" he said. "It's 9 o'clock this instant minute."

The Twins both began again to talk. Their mother flew about the kitchen to get them a bit of supper.

"Come now," said the father, "I can't hear myself at all with the noise of you. Do you tell the tale, Larry."

Then Larry told them about the caken, and the silk hat, and Michael Malone and the Thinkers, while his mother said, "The Saints preserve us!" every few words, and Eileen interrupted to tell how brave Larry had been—just like the good son in Granmie Malone's tale, for all the world.

But when they came to the geese part of the story, the father said, "Blathers," and got up and hurried out to the place where the fowls were kept, in the yard behind the house.

In a few minutes he came in again. "The geese are gone," he said, "and that's the truth or I can't speak it!"

"Bad luck to the thieves, then," cried the mother. "The back of my hand to them! Sure, I saw a rough, scraggly man with a beard on him like a rick of hay, come along this very afternoon, and I up the road talking with Mrs. Maguire. I never thought he'd make that hold, to carry off geese in the broad light of day! And me saving them against Christmas time, top!"

"Wait till I get that fellow where he's cheap, and I'll take the change out of him!" said the father. (Rights reserved by Houghton Mifflin Co.)

The Comus also was damaged. The Lake Frampton, a vessel of 4,200 tons, was operated by the West Indies Steamship company.

I'M THE GUY!

I'M THE GUY who never brushes the dandruff from his coat collar and shoulders, but lets it accumulate there until he looks as though he's been out in a snowstorm.

It's too much trouble to keep neat looking and as long as it's where I don't have to see it why should I bother about it?

I don't see why it should bother others. It didn't fall from their heads and if they don't like the looks of it they can look at someone else.

Because I'm shedding my scalp doesn't mean that I haven't got just as much brains under it as other people so why should I care about appearances?

Of course, it may prejudice some people against me, but if they're that fastidious I've little in common with them anyway. It may keep me from getting jobs now and then, but I wouldn't want to work for an employer who was that fussy.

So if I'm satisfied, that's all there is to it.

WHY?

Is the Musical Scale Called "Do-re-mi"?

(Copyright, 1920, by the Wheeler Syndicate, Inc.)

The familiar "do-re-mi-fa-so-la-si" or scale of music owes its invention to Guido Aretinus, a Benedictine monk who lived during the eleventh century and who made a deep study of the art of music. The names which he gave to the seven notes of the scale as used in singing were taken from the initial syllables of the lines of a hymn to St. John the Baptist which ran as follows:

Ut queant laxis
Resonare fibris,
Famuli Gorgium,
Mire gestorum,
Famuli Gorgium,
Sabi reatum,
Sancte Iohannes.

In later years, the final "sa" was changed into "si" and the "ut" into "do," except in France.

No, this is never right; nor is it ever necessary. Either tell the child the whole truth, or, if this seems unwise, explain to him that you cannot do it. Tell him that he must trust you and that when you are able you will take him fully into your confidence.
