For the Sportswoman

Indispensable to a summer wardrobe is an appropriate golf suit. One we have seen is a coat of gray flannel with green trimmings, and is worn with a gray and green striped flannel skirt. The comfortable hat is of gray felt faced with green silk. One wears a bright green scarf with this costume.

Just think of having a riding habit of silk, when one is accustomed to the serviceable, wearable fabrics usually used. Yet there is a habit shown this year made of silk—cartridge silk—one of the newest things for sports wear. It is fast becoming most popular, because of its attractiveness and durability. The tie worn with this habit is of bright green.

Big Demand for Furs.

There is not enough fur in the world's markets to meet the demand, according to Philip B. Foulke, president of the International Fur exchange in St. Louis, where 6,000,000 raw pelts, valued at $50,000,000, were put on sale today in the spring auction. American women alone buy $300,000,000 worth of furs, Foulke said.

Hot Flannels.

Wring out hot flannels for application in time of sickness by using as tools a fork and a potato-ricer. Put the flannels in it, lift with a fork into the ricer, press and remove. Wringing flannels, burning hot, will thus lose all terrors.

Do You Know—III

1. Why linen dish towels are better than cotton ones?
2. How to bake potatoes so that the skins are soft?
3. The easiest way to stone raisins without a raisin stoner?
(These questions will be answered Sunday by the Housekeeper.)

Answers to Tuesday's Questions.

1. The onion is mentioned in the oldest writings of Egypt and India and has been for ages cultivated and consumed in almost every country in the world, surpassing all other vegetables in antiquity and extensiveness of cultivation.

2. The best way to cook an egg for invalids and children is to coddle it. To do this place it gently in a pan of boiling water, removing the pan at once from the fire. The water should cover the egg but the pan should not be covered. Let the egg remain six or seven minutes in the water, when it will be cooked more uniformly than if soft-boiled.

3. Don't put your hands in cold water while peeling potatoes, and they will not turn black.

(Each of these household problems has been worked out by the author, who has not only taken a course in scientific housewifery and dietetics at Columbia university, and written and edited women's newspaper and magazine features for years, but is a practical housekeeper as well.)

Problems That Perplex

Answered by BEATRICE FAIRFAX

A Sad Blunder.

Dear Miss Fairfax, Omaha Bee: I am in love with a young man with whom I have been pals for six months.

I've done a great wrong (I've admitted it to him and felt sorry for it) by going out with a married man of his acquaintance, this man having a bad reputation. My friend has known this man for a long while and believes an evil remark about me and will not listen to my side of the story. I wanted it proven, but he refused.

I feel badly about the whole affair, as I love him dearly. He has been a good friend to me and I miss him very much. E. M.

You've blundered, and you don't enjoy paying—do you, my dear? I wish I could help you, but I don't see anything for you to do but retrieve your mistake by conduct that will be above reproach or calumny. The young man's lack of faith in you suggests that his feeling for you isn't deep and fine and understanding. Be brave and make up your mind to learn your lesson thoroughly without blundering again. Perhaps you will regain the friendship I'm not sure you ought to want, since it seems to have no basis of respect and belief in you.

Wants Work.

A middle aged woman, unencumbered, experienced with children, would like work. She lives in Kearney. Her address can be obtained from Miss Fairfax.

Thelma: We do not have address of the young man about whom you inquire.

Bill and Jack: Boys 16 who have gone with girls for three years are too sophisticated to need my advice.

Billy and M. S. C.: Space does not permit us to give a list of addresses. We wish to help you with your real problems, not act as a dictionary or encyclopedia for you.

R. E. H.: Write to the Big Sisters, Bee Bldg., Omaha, Neb., telling them what you have told me. I think they will help you.

Another One: Ask your cleaner about the grease spot.

The Silent Six:

The worst thing I can see about walking in the parks during the afternoon with boys is the waste of time. Don't you think girls your years ought to be improving themselves and getting ready for the great life before them? These are valuable years and should be well utilized.

Albion: Rockefeller lives at Pocantico Hills, N. Y.
