Woman's Section

Does It Pay To Join A Frat

By GABBY DETAYLS.

OES it pay to join a frat? In the years after a man has left college, is it a real asset to him to have been a Kappa Sig, a Beta, a Phi Psi or any of the others? Some people think so but Mr. Carroll Belden tells a story which suggests that there are times when a man might better be unat-tached to the Greeks, "letterally"

During recent pre-convention days Mr. Belden distributed Coolidge literature. "Have faith in Massachusetts" was one of the documents, (and Mr. Belden thinks it had much to do with Coolidge's nomination.) Armed with a supply of these he stuck his head and hand in at a "Phi Gam" luncheon one day be-speaking support of Coolidge, who is a member of that group. Mr Belden is a Beta himself but, knowing human nature, he appealed to the frat bunch from their point of

"You ought to support Coolidge. He is a Phi Gam, you know."
"A Phi Gam!" vociferated one of the party whose name we will with-hold. "A Phi Gam! Yes! Baker is a Phi Gam! Burleson is a Phi Gam! Marshall is a Phi Gam! I'l! if I ever vote for another Phi Gam."

66 TOUNG MAN," said the fond father, "in giving you my daughter, I have entrusted you with the dearest treasure of my life." The young man was duly impressed, and made no endeavor to conceal his emotion and his gratitude. Then he heard the patter of rain against the window. "Goodness me!" he exclaimed, "it's raining and I haven't my umbrella. May I borrow yours, sir, to keep me dry while I run to the station?" "Young man," said the fond parent, "I do not trust anyone with my umbrella!" This is Gabby's idea of "compara-

NOTHER comance has cropped up and we hear that all is well for the girl has answered in the affirmative. She attended brownell hall and later the University of Omaha where she specialized m art craft jewelery in which she is very adept. Her home is on Happy Hollow boulevard and she is much of the time driving a huge touring car. The young man who has won her favor is an accountant, one o Gabby thinks he must possess wizardry in other lines too for she is certain an announcement is to be made very soon of this engagement.

WE wonder just how many Omaha maidens possess books. Not many, judging from the girls we know, but what a legion there are who possess another kind of hymn book-the H-I-M book. Gabby happened to see one of these a few days past in the library of an acquaintance and with the consent of her hostess examined its contents. This attractive young matron, who before her marriage laughed as she saw Gabby's eyes bulging from their sockets when she bills, the guest might contribute a Woman Voters' Drama League was very popular in the younger set, First, we found pictures of the father and brothers of this pretty

When rather curiously we asked whether or not her husband had ever seen the book she nodded in the affirmative and assured us that he had a "Her Book" which was quite as interesting, though not possessing as odd a title.

TOW many of our bachelors some thought? have ever seen themselves as the city bachelor is perhaps the most is entertaining she feels that she man being, that the former condi- fortunate in having secured Mrs. must provide her girl guests with tion is essential to the latter state. Cooper King of Wichita, Kan., to clinics, school clinics and child well-plenty of nice bachelors. And so. Gabby knows a woman whose hold citizenship schools and to or- fare centers. She is at present, plenty of nice bachelors. And so. Gabby knows a woman whose again and again, these single gentlemen, who are not supporting any clean house. The same man defamily, maintaining any home, or cides when the carpets are worn out. bringing up any children, are the recipients of charming dinners, expensive to buy; that bread, being Twentieth Century club of Wichita, agreeable evening parties, with elaborate refreshments, teas, luncheons,

They smoke husband's cigars and same hostess or couple entertains the same bachelor, off and on, for not.

Omaha shortly after her marriage. even concede that he is right in the Her husband was proud to entertain his old pal and she worked hard in preparing a dinner in their sonal satisfaction," provided he small, maidless apartment. The riend stayed all night, thus saving

Some weeks later he again came to town and telephoned the couple from the railroad station! Some ence of purse. more hard work for the bride and considerable actual financial outlay. She hesitated to complain, because it seemed to indicate penuriousness, but it did seem to her that, consider- In New York city there is a firm promised joy gang aft a-gley!

Miss Helen Yates, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Yates, has returned to Omaha from Chicago, where she has been attending the Art institute during the past year. Her study has been especially directed to costume designing. At the Mardi Gras in New Orleans last spring, she was awarded a prize for a Turkish effect costume of her own design. Miss Yates designs her own distinctly original gowns and read the title Hymn 250 posted above a picture of the said matron's hushand which occupied the very last couple had been imposed on so long, page of the book. We then started that they were forced to prevaricate at the beginning and turned page and pretend that they were leaving home.

Before returning to Omaha for the summer Miss Yates traveled eastward to Lake Champlain, New Haven and other points. She witnessed the Yale-Harvard base ball games and boat races. Airplaning is one of her interests and she hopes to develop into an expert aviatrix.

woman, then the boys who were her starve than cheat a woman. There "pals" during high school days, the are the big hearted friends who arbrothers of her sorority sisters, ac- rive with a car and a picnic hamper quaintances made during summer to take the whole family out on Suntrips and the young men who mar-ried her dearest friends. Under bachelor "uncle," who always brings active in the lines of work of the each in the peculiar script of our candy to the children; or the man committees on which they serve. They will keep posted in their subjects and will be ready to speak at concerning "him" which will recall to repay a dinner invitation. To jects and will be ready to speak at to her in later years the happy days which class do you belong, Mr. club meetings in their neighbor-

THE root of modern feminism is, money-money that can transformed into personal satisfaction. Arnold Bennett has said. Gabby hadn't put the idea in these terms before, but don't they merit

Bennett might better have said, others see them, Gabby wond- she thinks, that the root of modern An eastern paper says that feminism is a desire for spiritual emancipation. It means about the selfish person that evolution has as same thing, and sounds much more yet introduced to society. yet introduced to society.

The unattached male is invited and spiritual emancipation are so closely related in the average huse everywhere "to fill in." If a woman closely related in the average huse fortunate in having secured Mrs.

cides when the carpets are worn out. Kansas League of Women Voters provides a fresh air hospital for expensive to buy; that bread, being cheaper, shall be purchased instead. He does not know that his wife connives with the grocer to sell served as president of the Wichita fruit to her, writing it down on the l'arent-Teacher association. enjoy a social evening with music bill as bread. And the poor woman Mrs. King's special interest is does not know that in submitting to child welfare. She has been actively such a situation, she loses self-re- engaged in establishing baby spect and even honor. Her character is warped in the process. And a period of many years, in town and the children who know what is go-

Yes, Bennett is right. Money is friend of her husband came to at the root of feminism. Gabby will that can be transformed into per-sonal satisfaction," provided he jewels, or pedigreed airedales, but the joy which is born of independ-

THERE is something new under shall say it does not console one's men and women vote on the prothe sun. Or rather, Jabby ruffled feelings considerably to salhould say, under the clouds. vage something from plans for stitution, one of which gives full

League Is Active

The state board of directors of the League of Women Voters anchairmen of committees to correspond with the national committees. The state committees will be formed hoods. The committees and their chairmen are as follows: American citizenship, Mrs. Addison E. Sheldon, Lincoln; women in industry, Miss Ione C. Duffy, Omaha; child welfare, Mrs. Draper Smith, Omaha; election laws and methods, Mrs. H. H. Wheeler, Lincoln; social hygiene. Dr. Jennie Callfas, Omaha; unification of laws, Mrs. Irene C. Buell, Ashland; food supply and demand, Mrs. C. G. Ryan, Grand Island; director research department, Miss Edna Bullock, Lin-ganize for the league in Nebraska. along with her other duties, vice Mrs. King is the secretary of the president of an organization which the second largest woman's club in which insures people against disap-Does he reciprocate? He does ing on, cannot be expected to have higher moral standards than they and have and have planned a picnic see in their parents. and have arranged to get away from tion. the office for a day. At considerable expense you have prepared an

> But alas! The morning dawns with darkened sky. Raindrops fall, are already organized and doing and not only is the day's pleasure active work in the enrollment. ruined, but there is an actual cash Sarpy county has 90 per cent of its loss to you. There's where the in- women already on the membership ence of mind. And independence of surance comes in. If you have been list. It is the aim of the state mind comes not, without independ-ence of purse. wise and forehanded you have league to have an organization in protected yourself financially, every county before the special against such a situation. And who election September 21, when both

Announces

Classes

The Omaha Drama league calls attention to the 10-day institute of nounce that they have appointed all the Drama League of America, to be held in Chicago, August 17-27. The purpose of this institute is to train community and institutional workers. Practical demonstrations will be given on the Chicago municipal pier. The main subjects treated will be: Pageantry, drama for children, drama in the high school, how to create and operate a Little theater, drama in the church and Sunday school, costuming, stagecraft, folk dancing, dramatic activities for em-

General lectures on all these subjects will be given, accompanied by typical class room work carried on insofar as possible in the laboratory

The number to be accommodated is limited. Applications are necessary. A registration and tuition fee will be charged.

Mrs. E. M. Syfert, president of the Omaha Dramatic league, has further information regarding the in-sick babies during the hot months.

Mrs. King says she wishes to do her share as a voter to make this Kansas. For many years Mrs. King country the best possible place for children, to give every child a chance to reach his highest development, mentally, physically and morally. She feels the League of Women Voters is the organization best fitted to accomplish needed political and legislative improvement and for that reason is giving much of her time to promote its organiza-

For the past year she has been holding citizenship schools in Kanelaborate luncheon to take on your sas. Her first meeting in Nebraska will be in Hastings.

A number of counties in the state

Bob of the House of Judy

By FAITH DEDRICK.

Speaking of first families-such a hrase is not always applied to mere mortals. Out there in the side yard of the J. H. Millard home, where Miss Jessica Millard lives, is a real aristocracy of dogdom—the House of Judy, if you please.

For 12 years Miss Millard has been establishing the line. The first was a highly pedigreed bull terrier, with a perfect dark brown complexion, dotted with white beauty spots. This first Judy lived in the family 11 years. She reached a ripe and dignified dog age, was rather pompous and proud and possessed a touch of rheumatism, as becomes one of patrician ancestry.

Her end, alas, was untimely. base person, who never could have dreamed that such a lady as July 1 was to fall into his trap, set some poison. Judy, who was really old and wise, and who had warned her protegees against the very thing, had a mental lapse and ate the poison herself. It was, however, very cleverly camouflaged. Thus Judy, the first, admired of her own class and envied by the low brows, after put-ting up a stiff and plucky fight, suc-cumbed in the month of Appil, year of Our Lord, 1920.

Miss Millard, unwilling that the manor house should be without a canine occupant, procured a second Judy, a regular scion of the Boston terrier nobility. Many dogs vied for the honor of the place, but only the finest was chosen. So appeared

Into the life of the home and neighborhood she entered with all her little dog heart, making many friends during her three months' stay. She was almost as much loved by her mistress as was her honored predecessor. But in all families there are tragedies-tales which may be related from time to time around the grate fire or during the tea hour on the front lawn. Judy was to furnish material for one of these. One bright summer day, Judy II. ful; of "wim, wigor and witality," was running across the street to a neighbor's, for a cosy chat—some gossip, nice gossip, you know. Komping along so gay, so jolly but let us close our eyes upon the scene. A passing car—one yelp— the sound of applied brakes—and poor Judy lay dead. She was not either. She was not running after the car, or aggravating the driver

To Spend Summer In West

Miss Marjorie Menold, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. O. H. Menold, left Saturday for an extended western trip, including Boise, Idaho, and Portland, Ore. They will also visit several points in California before returning to Omaha in September. Miss Menold attended Central High school and was graduated two years ago from Bradford academy, in Massachusetts.

with her barking. (Only ill-bred of Judy better describes him. With ward, but having heard of the dogs do that.) She was just pounc- high-class intelligence and a seem- fate of the Judys I and II., he will Baker who are beautifully situated ing harmlessly over the pavement, ing knowledge of his background, not go their way. He sniffs cau- at Beauvoir, the beautiful old place Bob is his name. Bob of the House will doubtless pass on to his re- of Judy!

W.W.Giller

daughter

Maxine

Washington Mid-Season Society

Bureau of The Bee, Washington, July 17.

"Midsummer" in Washington sounds more stupid than it is. While cabinet officials and ambassadors are scarce in these parts just now, there are innumerable other very interesting people coming and going. Secretary of War and Mrs. Baker and their little family are all here, and the family of the secretary of the navy are remaining in their comfortable home in Washington. The secretary of state recently returned from San Francisco and is spending the week-end with his family on Long Island. He will be here again early next week. The secretary of the treasury is in town through the week and joins his family at Wood's Hole, Mass., for the week ends. Mrs. Burleson and her daughters, Mrs. Negley of Texas and Miss Burleson, with the several Negley boys, have joined Mrs. Bur-leson at Cape May where the postmaster general has a cottage for the season and joins his family when

The Secretary of Agriculture Mrs. Meredith are expected back here next week from California, but they will not remain long in their apartment. They will get away to the mountains shortly. At-torney General and Mrs. Palmer are in their Pennsylvania home resting after the convention; the secretary of comerce has recently joined Mrs. Alexander and their family in their home in Missouri, Secretary of Labor and Mrs. Wilson and their large family are together in their Blossburg, Pa. home for the season. President and Mrs. Wilson will no doubt take some outings on the Mayflower next month, but only short ones and with no guests. The little ship is spic and span and most attractive with its new sumfittings and furnishings, the president's suite being all done in wicker and rose color, and Mrs. Wilson's boudoir being especially cool and dainty in white and rose with wicker furniture and touches of French blue. The White House is no uninviting place in which to spend the sizzling weeks, with its high ceilings, spacious rooms, in cool blues and greens, with white floor coverings as well as furniture slips, and busy electric fans everywhere and cool green and tall trees the outlook from every window. The Secretary of War and Mrs.

on sociability bent, when the awful thing happened.

Naturally Judy III had to be found. But this time it was a noble male who was to carry on the line words.

In showledge of his background, not go their way. He snifts caultously all food before it passes his tiously all food before it passes his to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and hor of the governor of Porto Robins has a passed by the House of Judy will doubtless a gossip, being a man. A long and hor of the governor of Porto Robins has a passed by the House of Judy will doubtless a gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and his passed by the House of Judy will doubtless a gossip. The snifts caultous, the beautiful old place almost adjoining the cathedral on woodley Lane, had a handsome dinner party on Wednesday evening in he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to either name, tearing to gossip. But haturally he would not gossip, being a man. A long and he responds to gossip. are visiting in Washington, guests of Col. and Mrs. Townsend. It created no end of amusement when both the governor and Mrs. Yeager complained seriously and bitterly of the terrible heat here. The Bakers had as their guest for a part of the week Stanley King of Boston, who was Mr. Baker's private secretary during the war. Governor and Mrs. Yeager are making a quiet visit here as the governor is but just recovering from an illness at Johns Hopkins hospital in Baltimore. Mrs. Baker went down and sang a number of solos at the Tuesday evening "Finance Sing," in the Munitions building. General H. M. Lord, chief of finance, War department, with his staff and office force were guests of honor next to Mrs. Baker. She was enthusiastically received and at the end of the group of solos she carried off a gift of an armful of red roses. Charles S. Wengerd, director of the community music for the District of Columbia conducted the chorus composed of the musical clerks of the department. This Tuesday afternoon "sing" has been a feature of this office for more than Ralph Leopold, brother of Mrs. Baker, who had an operation per-formed at Walker Reed hospital is recovering satisfactorily.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Sibbernson of Omaha spent a few days with the latter's parents, Judge and Mrs. Constantine Smyth this week. When they leave tomorrow night to return to Omaha they will be accompanied by Mrs. Sibbernson's young sister. Miss Katherine Smyth, who will spend probably several months with them. Judge and Mrs. Smyth will go north for the month of August, probably to the White Mountains.

Mrs. E. H. Watson, formerly Miss Dorothy Snyder, who was married several years ago in Omaha, is returning from the west by way of the northern route. She went as a delegate to the convention of the Mu Phi Si Sorority, as president of the Rho Beta chapter of this city and comes back supreme historian of the grand chapter. She was succeeded as president by Miss Dorothy Ma-cauley, and Mrs. David Snyder, sister of Mrs. Watson, was made a vice president of the Rho Beta chapter of this city. Commander and Mrs. R. J. Stract-ten the latter a daughter of Mrs. Susie Root Rhodes, formerly of Crete, Neb., with their son, Renier, and daughter Clara, are in camp at picturesque Great Falls on the Virginia side, where they are enjoying the simple life after a long separation, and after Dr. Straetten's long sea duty. He is medical officer on the Pennsylvania. About six years ago he was on recruiting duty in Omaha and has many friends there. He is a graduate of the Crete Medical college Commander Mason Post, U. S. N., who was on recruiting duty in Omaha at the same time with Dr. Stractten, has been ordered for duty again in Omaha, where he now is with his little family.

The golden sands of California shores are once again calling Omahanas and many are planning trips to that sunny state for the early fall. Among them are Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Giller and daughter, Maxine, who leave in August for San Francisco. They plan to join Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Giller, who is spending the summer there, but the length of their stay in the west is yet indefinite.