

HITCHCOCK WELL PLEASED WITH COX'S ATTITUDE

Nebraska Senator Says There Is No Chance of Split With President on League Issue.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, July 18.—James M. Cox of Ohio, democratic presidential nominee, came to town today to talk over with President Wilson his plans for "solemn referendum," which President Wilson desires held on the league of nations, in the national campaign.

He was greeted at the station by a crowd of several thousand persons who cheered him enthusiastically. Then he went to the home of his old friend, Judge T. T. Anderson, took a seat on the broad highway, and in a series of conversations quickly demonstrated his attitude on the league.

There is any small of liquor about his candidacy, he must have used it lavishly when Senator Sheppard of Texas, "dry" leader of the 18th amendment, called to discuss the prohibition question.

"Governor Cox's attitude is satisfactory in every way," said Senator Sheppard, after the conference. "I expect to take the stump in his behalf at an early date. Texas, you know, is a doubtful state—it's doubtful whether it will give Cox 200,000 or 250,000 majority."

After Senator Sheppard had gone, the governor sat down on a rustic bench with Senator Hitchcock, who left President Wilson's fight for reserved ratification of the peace treaty in the senate, and talked over the league issue. Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential nominee, joined in the conference. More rapid headway would have been made but for the frequent interruptions by 3-year-old Peter Ansherry, the host's son, who wanted the governor to stop talking about such things as the league of nations and build him a house. He offered the governor a hammer, saw and some lumber, but the governor felt constrained to keep up the effort of constructing a way out of the treaty difficulties.

Senator Hitchcock left the conference much encouraged. "The president and Governor Cox are together right now," said Senator Hitchcock. "His attitude is entirely satisfactory. There isn't any chance of a split between the president and the governor over the league issue."

Wilson's Capacity Advisory. The senator said it should be understood that Governor Cox was the leader now and that the president's capacity in the campaign would be purely advisory. He was of the opinion that when the republican senators saw the result of the November election, they would reserve their position and promptly consent to a compromise that would bring about ratification of the treaty with the president's consent.

Governor Cox expressed equal optimism over the prospect of harmony with the administration forces. He came to Washington, he told newspaper men, largely to get Mr. Wilson's advice about the league issue.

"President Wilson knows more about international law than anyone else in the country," he said, "and I want to counsel with him. Our relations have been very cordial in the past and I expect a very pleasant visit."

Governor Cox declared that the democratic campaign is "going to start at once." He and Mr. Roosevelt are going to meet with the democratic national committee in Columbus Tuesday and make plans for carrying the battle into every state in the union. He may even go into the solid south. He expects to pay equal attention to the Pacific coast and to the New England states.

"There is no disposition," he said, "to regard any section of the country as 'republican territory.'"

The governor's only engagement for tomorrow is the conference at the White House, in which he, President Wilson and Mr. Roosevelt will be the only participants. The conference will take place at 10:30 o'clock in the morning. It probably will last several hours. After it is all over, the governor is going to tell the newspaper men all about it and then leave at 4:40 o'clock for Columbus. He will be accompanied by Mr. Roosevelt.

At Home in Capital. Governor Cox felt very much at home in Washington. He served two terms in congress before he became governor and he has many friends in the capital. Scores of them were on hand to greet him.

The reception of the governor at the railroad station was considerably enhanced in size and enthusiasm by the fact that the various government departments had just closed to give the employees a Saturday half-holiday. Mr. Cox was cheered lustily, but when he reached the station exit, he was brought to an abrupt halt by a battery of movie cameras. While he was being "moved" he spied an old friend in the crowd and waved to him. The man, J. H. Albright, leaped into the picture and embraced the governor with the vigor of a grizzly bear.

Through the crowd, big Tom Hefflin, senator-elect from Alabama, and bigger Cy Cummings, Maryland

PEPPY LETTERS FROM WIFE END IOWAN'S ROMANCE

Des Moines Man Passed Self Off as Unattached to Chicago Girl.

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, July 18.—"He was 39 years of age, but I never suspected he had a wife and grown son living," said Miss Alice Krachy, who is suing Herman H. Budke of Des Moines for $100,000 breach of promise, false pretenses and various other offenses connected with their alleged courtship.

Miss Krachy says she met Budke at the Palmer house in Chicago and he told her his wife had been dead 13 years and neglected to make any mention of a grown son. Mr. Budke has amassed something like $100,000 in the steel fence post industry. Miss Krachy believed what he told her until she received some exceedingly peppery letters from Mrs. Budke, wishing to know why Miss Krachy was sending flowers to her husband. For a woman who "had been dead 13 years," Mrs. Budke wrote with much vigor. Miss Krachy was so upset by these letters that she sought out an attorney and began suit against Budke. She claims he proposed marriage to her on three occasions of record, gave her a splendid diamond ring and otherwise led her to believe she would soon become Mrs. Budke.

Around the Palmer house where Mr. Budke makes his Chicago headquarters he is known as a classy dresser and a "good spender." In the opinion of Miss Krachy and her lawyer, he is about to pay $100,000 for his love and marriage promises, to say nothing of the shock due to receiving air letters from a woman supposed to be dead 13 years.

politician, shouldered their way to the governor. "Hello, Tom! Hello, Cy!" said the governor, and this was the general style of greeting by the presidential nominee. Even dignified Senator Hitchcock had to be contented with "Hello, Hitch!" But most of the democrats seemed to like the governor's free and easy slaps on the shoulder after seven years of Wilson austerity.

Rupture Kills 7,000 Annually

Seven thousand persons each year are laid away—the burial certificate being marked "Rupture." Why? Because the unfortunate ones had neglected themselves or had been merely taking care of the sign (swelling) of the affliction and paying no attention to the cause. What are you doing? Are you neglecting yourself by wearing a truss, appliance, or whatever name you choose to call it? At best, the truss is only a makeshift. It fails to support a collapsing wall—and cannot be expected to act as more than a mere mechanical support. The binding pressure retards blood circulation, thus robbing the weakened muscles of that which they need most—nourishment.

But science has found a way, and every truss sufferer in the land is invited to make a FREE test right in the privacy of their own home. The PLAPAO method is unquestionably the most scientific, logical and successful self-treatment for rupture the world has ever known. The PLAPAO method is a simple, easy, and inexpensive. To be used whilst you work and whilst you sleep. No straps, buckles or springs attached. Learn how to close the hernial opening as nature intended so the rupture CAN'T come down. ## Boy Burns Clothes of Matrons in Bathing; Husbands to Rescue

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Marinette, Mich., July 18.—Pity the sad plight of the 10 proud and haughty dames from Marinette and Menominee, who sacrificed their social and club affairs the while they disported in the cooling waters of a friendly little lake.

In the water were gleaming pink shoulders, many gurgles, much splashing; everywhere joy and merriment. On the bank, within a dressing tent, lay 10 piles of clothing.

Came a small boy, who was playing he was an Indian, out to destroy the hated pelage, and all their property. The filmy piles of lace afforded an overwhelming temptation and he scratched a match, touched it to the garments and departed in great haste. Meanwhile the 10 matrons, whose husbands are powers in the business world, were doing the Australian crawl and the porpoise duck, until they noticed their dressing tent was in flames.

Which explains why they hid in the bushes while one, wrapped in the salvage of the tent, went to a farm house and telephoned various husbands, who came in closed cars and took their wives home by back streets. Now a vigorous search is on for the boy who played Indian.

The women took Mr. McCune 50 miles out in an automobile and told him they intended to keep him captive until he promised to support the school funds increase. A supply of food was taken along. Mr. McCune started the fund raising campaign by contributing $50.

REPORTERS WATCH YACHT RACE FROM LARGE SEAPLANE

Innovation in Newspaper Work Introduced at Classic—Men Telephone Their Stories.

New York, July 18.—With the America's cup races of 1920 has come an innovation in newspaper reporting. Whereas 17 years ago, when the last international yachting classic was held, The Associated Press covered the event from ship and shore, this year it is reporting the races from land, sea and air, by wireless, telephone and land wire.

This, according to aircraft experts, is virtually the first time that an important event has actually been reported from a seaplane, although planes recently have been employed to rush reporters to the scene of action or to relay stories and pictures to newspaper offices.

Using the Rockaway naval air station as a base, The Associated Press assigned two men to the seaplane it had chartered. One flew over the race, viewed preparations for the start and returned to telephone a descriptive story to the New York office. The other stepped into the plane and covered the start and telephoned his story while his companion was up in the air again, viewing the finish.

Land telephone was used because, with the air filled with wireless messages it was considered quicker than employing wireless telephone or telegraph.

Meanwhile staff men aboard naval destroyers were gathering news along the course and flashing bulletins by wireless. Trained observers at Navesink Highlands, Rockaway and Long Branch sent added facts by land wire, while aboard the steam yacht Victoria a staff man was with Sir Thomas Lipton's party.

Young Jones was insured during the round trip for $25,000 against accident and was tagged with an Elks card. The journey and the historical associations here in connection with his namesake, the "founder of the American navy," made a deep impression on the boy.

TO DESTROY ALL GAMBLING STUFF SEIZED IN RAID

Judge Issues Order to Burn Paraphernalia Taken From Gold Medal Carnival—Owners Fined.

All of the gambling devices, which officers say constituted the chief attractions of the Gold Medal Carnival company's shows exhibiting at Eleventh street and First avenue, Council Bluffs, during the week, will be destroyed.

A court order to that effect was given Saturday morning after the carnival managers had been brought into district court and fined for maintaining gambling establishments. Twenty-eight separate acts of gambling devices, seized when the carnival was raided by Sheriff Groneweg and deputies Friday night, were included in the burning order.

Manager H. E. Billick and five of his men were brought before Judge Arthur on informations filed by County Attorney Swanson. All entered pleas of guilty. Billick was fined $200 and costs. H. A. Greenlee, Beryl Haskins, H. Walker, Joe Bell and J. Sanders $100 each, a total of $700. The costs amounted to almost $200 more.

When the raid was completed there were 27 persons in the sheriff's office, several of whom were women with babies. The six men assumed the whole responsibility and no charges were filed against the others. There were two wagonloads of gambling paraphernalia. The police took no part in the raid, State Agent Rock and the sheriff's men doing all of the work.

Chicago Doctor Glad Whisky Prescription Blanks Are All Gone

Chicago, July 18.—Dr. J. W. Russell has exhausted his supply of whisky prescription blanks and he's glad it's all over. Capt. Hubert Howard, state prohibition enforcement director, says Dr. Russell holds the record for writing whisky prescriptions.

"You can have the permit," Russell told him. "I'll be satisfied if I can get a little sleep. I issued 7,435 whisky prescriptions between February 15 and March 15. Why, they kept me so busy I didn't have time for my meals half the time and four hours' sleep was the best I ever managed to get. I wish I never had to look at a prescription blank again. Twice I had to call the police to check riots in my reception rooms among crowds waiting for prescriptions."

"How much did you charge the patients?"

"Fifty cents to $3, depending upon how much they could afford."

His statement, together with other facts in the case, were turned over to the federal authorities. Dr. Russell's profits for the 46 days involved were in excess of $12,000.

REPUBLICANS OF IOWA READY FOR STATE MEETING

H. W. Byers of Des Moines Chosen Temporary Chairman—Convention Opens Tuesday Morning.

Des Moines, July 18.—Nomination of candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, auditor, attorney general and railroad commissioner, as well as selection of a new state central committee and adoption of a platform will constitute the business of the republican state convention in Des Moines, July 20.

None of the candidates for governor, lieutenant governor, auditor, attorney general and railroad commissioner succeeded in getting enough votes at the primary June 7 to make him the nominee. Since then the fight for nomination, especially for governor, has continued bitterly among the candidates and their friends. The candidates all opened headquarters for the convention.

The vote at the primary for the various candidates follows: For Governor—J. F. Deems, 47,407; H. M. Havner, 46,315; N. E. Kendall, 39,119; E. R. Moore, 60,345. For Lieutenant Governor—W. H. Arney, 36,369; John Hammill, 45,880; W. F. Moore, 64,532; James M. Wilson, 45,937.

For Auditor—F. J. Albers, 40,451; E. S. Gose, 37,634; Glen Haynes, 63,348; William M. McLeland, 45,430.

For Attorney General—W. T. Evans, 64,802; Ben I. Gibson, 59,117; B. H. Hadley, 63,496.

For Railroad Commissioner—E. J. Bradley, 50,273; C. E. Doak, 30,386; Dr. Thomas Waud, 37,174; E. P. Woodruff, 63,262.

There are 1,042 delegates to the state convention. A majority nominates the candidate.

Committees of the convention, as usual, will be named at caucuses of delegates from the various congressional districts an hour before the opening of the convention proper. The program for the convention calls for the convening at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning, naming of committees and recess until after luncheon. H. W. Byers of Des Moines has been named temporary chairman and has been assigned the task of delivering the keynote speech.

Considerable doubt is expressed whether the convention would be able to complete its work in one day, and the leaders have made arrangements to hold over until Wednesday, if necessary.

The Haverhill (Mass.) Shoe Manufacturers' association has submitted to the Shoe Workers' Protective union a proposal that conditions in the industry be stabilized by assurance that no further wage increases be sought.

TWO AGED MEN HIT BY SPEEDERS, WHO ESCAPE COPS

Frank Wilkinson and Cornelius B. Hill Seriously Injured By Fast Drivers.

Two 60-year old men were injured one of them seriously Saturday night when they were struck by speeding automobiles. Police are searching for the drivers of the cars.

Frank Wilkinson, 2027 North Twenty-first street, was hit by an automobile, said to have been going 40 miles an hour, as he was crossing the street at Twenty-second and Grace streets. The driver was going south on Twenty-second street. According to Charles E. Nicholas, 2225½ North Twentieth street, who saw the machine strike Wilkinson, the man was thrown about 25 feet. Nicholas said that by the time he had crossed the street to where the injured man was lying, the speeding auto was a block away.

Wilkinson was taken to the Swedish Mission hospital. His left shoulder was broken and it is possible that he may have suffered internal injuries and that two of his ribs have been broken.

Cornelius B. Hill, also 60 years old, 1707 Cass street, was struck at Seventeenth and Cass streets at 9:15, 30 minutes after Wilkinson was run down. The automobile which struck Hill was going about 30 miles an hour, according to witnesses. Hill was attended by the police surgeon and taken to his home. His hip was wrenched and his face and body were cut.
