Rapid Expansion of Nation's Fighting Forces in Time of Emergency Provided For.

Washington, July 23 .- America's military establishment is being practically revolutionized under the terms of the new army reorganization bill which became effective July 1. Army officers say the work will not be completed for some months because of the broad scope of the measure passed at the last session of congress to place the land forces on permanent feace basis.

While the regular army will contain only 295,000 officers and men scattered over the country and the insular possessions, it will be so arranged in conjunction with the na-tional guard and the reserve that rapid expansion of the nation's fighting forces in time of emergency will be possible.

The national guard will have about 440,000 officers and men, but the last Friday's earthquake in Los Anstrength of the reserve has not yet been worked out and will depend largely on the enlistment of eligibles. To accomplish the reorganization of the national guard and the initial organization of the reserve, the army bill provides for a general commit-tee to be composed of regular army general staff officers and an equal number of reserve or national guard officers. In addition, 52 other com-mittees, representing each state and territory will arrange the national guard organization in each state and territory. Some of these committees have not been appointed by the governors and consequently this work has not yet been put under
