Wedding Announcements

The wedding of Miss Margaret Stuart Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Lewis, and Mr. Louis B. Casey of Chicago was celebrated Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother in Dundee.

The Rev. Harvey Hostetler of Cal-ifornia Junction, Ia., who married the parents of the bride, performed the ceremony before a large gathering of friends.

The decorations throughout the rooms and the gowns of the bridal party were carried out in sapphire blue and white, the colors of the Achoth sorority, of which the bride is a member.

Miss Helen Possner was bridesmaid and she was gowned in light blue organdie embroidered in sapphire blue. She carried a large bouquet of blue larkspur and daises. John Mercell served as best man. The bride was lovely in a gown of juliette crepe, with trimmings of filet lace, and made round length. Her tulle veil was finished in coronet style and trimmed with old duchess lace, an heirloom in the family of the bride for the past four generations. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and swan-

Miss Mary Lewis, sister of the bride, sang before the ceremony. A wedding reception was held for the guests immediately after the ceremony, after which the couple left for an eastern wedding trip. They will be at home in Chicago after September 1.

Red Variations in Latest Modes

Orchid shades, pale yellows, dainty blue, cool looking greens and the erstwhile popular pinks have all been relegated to the rear in favor of red in which nearly all of New York is garbed. To be really up to the minute you must have something red. Not just red like wine color or cherry-these shades are mild compared with the flaming yellowish red seen everywhere in hats, frocks, coats and skirts. And the names of these new shades-well, they are vivid, too-raw beefsteak, shrimp, iobster and tomato. Some very daring misses are wearing bright red pumps with sheer lace striped hose to match. There are smart straw sailors of the same flaming scarlet and stunning street frocks of red serge and red satin. Evening wraps of red crepe and taffeta are most popular and even those of more somber hue are lined with red. At dances one sees chokers of red tulle. The demure maid of former summers is unnoticed among the crowd of those arrayed in the flamboyant colors.

Hair Suggestions

A woman, gray-haired, overplump and short in stature, wore her hair back plain, ending in an unattractive wad at the nape of the neck. The gray in the hair was two-toned, the wad at the back of the neck being distinctly darker than the rest. She was persuaded by her husband to try it in a high coiffure The change, if you would believe it, was

Protect Baby's Feet

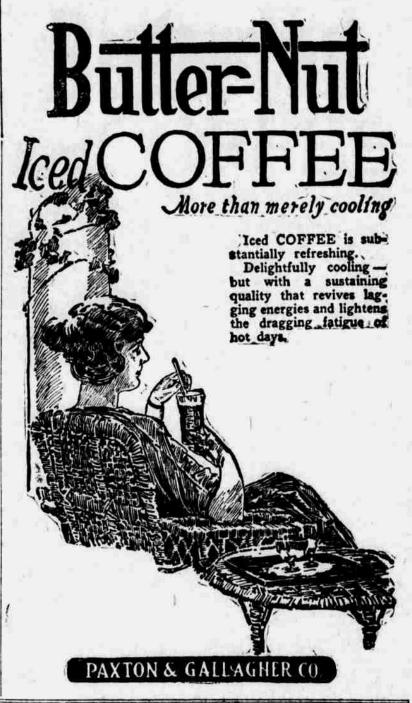

One of the severest injuries you unconsciously do to your child's health is to permit the wearing of ill-fitting shoes on the little foot, which carries the owner to invalid-sm in later years. The baby, unable to express adequately its sensations, is a worse sufferer than one of more mature age who can remedy ill-shod conditions. Keep the child's foot free and un-cramped, allowing the blood to free-ly circulate. More than one daily change of soft stockings and light weight boots should be made, and for warm months stockingless sandals are ideal.

What a Young Bride Learned About the Washday Problem

This is a true story about laundry service, and a bride.

It was just a year ago that this young wife set up housekeeping. What to do with the family washing was one of her first problems. Many of her neighbors, she observed, did their washing at home-so bridelike, she followed their example.

And she applied to her housekeeping, also, the budget system for family expenditures she had learned at

At the end of a year she summed up the bills for starch, soap, fuel, electric current and other incidentals, added in her own time at 25 cents an hour-about half what a laundress would have charged—and discovered that it had cost her $188 in money alone to do her washing at home.

The next day she invited us to call for her family bundle—the testimony of her budget book could not be disputed—it proved the false economy of home washday methods.

And a majority of the other thinking housewives in this young woman's neighborhood- the women who have stopped to reckon the real cost of washday at home-have joined her in entrusting their family washing to us.

We're sure, too, that if you'll do likewise you will quickly be as enthusiastic as they. May we introduce to you this family laundry service that so nicely combined efficiency with economy?
