

BISHOP MONNIX
WILDLY CHEERED
WHEN HE SAILS

Police Use Guns to Keep
Order in Throngs—De Valera Did Not Go
With Him.

New York, July 31.—Archbishop Daniel J. Mannix of Australia sailed away for Ireland this afternoon on the steamship Baltic, although the premier of Great Britain had announced that the Australian prelate would not be permitted to land on Irish soil because of his expressed views on the Irish question. Eamonn de Valera, "president of the Irish republic," did not sail on the Baltic.

Wearing a black frock coat and tall silk hat and carrying an American flag, the archbishop arrived at the pier to find a crowd of more than 1,000 with an even greater number massed inside the lines on the pier itself.

There was some anti-Mannix sentiment among the crowd outside the pier, but this rapidly dissipated, while the throng assembled nearer the liner was distinctly pro-Mannix. Men, women and children were there, bearing signs with taunts directed at Lloyd George. One read: "Admit that American public opinion counts."

With police reserves making a wedge, the archbishop stepped from his machine and advanced with difficulty through the crowd, which at the strains of a band went wild with enthusiasm. After the prelate had moved up the gang plank the throng surged forward after him and broke through the first line of guards in an effort to follow him aboard. The second line also gave way, but the third held.

The archbishop was visibly affected by the demonstration. Pale from emotion, he advanced to the rail and replied time and time again to the cheers which greeted him.

Accompanying the prelate were the Rev. Albert Vaughn, his secretary, and Bishop Daniel Foley of Australia.

A scene almost approaching a riot had followed the booning of the archbishop by an English passenger on the ship. The longshoremen who scaled the ship's sides and attacked him were driven away only after detectives with drawn revolvers broke through the crowd and reached the Englishman.

Shortly after his arrival the archbishop issued a statement in which he said that he had been "represented in certain quarters as a promoter of strife." He declared that he really was working for peace in Ireland, inside and outside the British empire. He said the peace he hoped for "is a peace not resting on force, but on justice and the free will of the people concerned."

Godmother of Young
Stowaway Gilhooley
Is Sued for $1,900

New York, July 31.—Her life governed by a series of impulses which netted her three husbands and several adventuresome jaunts across the Atlantic ocean and elsewhere, Mrs. Marian Gilhooley Laurie White Curry faced a court today in which she appeared as a $1,900 debtor, pleaded assistance in trying to run a new "hunch" and won. She won because counsel for her debtors is convinced her new idea has enough in it to win.

Mrs. Curry gained publicity a short time ago when she declared that no one whose name was Gilhooley and wanted to come into the United States should be kept out. There was her reason for adopting Mike Gilhooley, the Belgian stowaway, who made four trips to the United States in a vain effort to enter and go in on his fifth when Mrs. Curry adopted him. After a few days at a fashionable hotel he was sent to a luxurious estate in Connecticut.

Mrs. Curry wouldn't tell what her new plan is except to say that she went into it on impulse and knows that she will get the money to pay her debts.

Wheat Drops to New Low Level of $2.14 a Bushel at St. Louis

St. Louis, July 31.—Future wheat, for the first time since the food control act expired May 31, last, sold here today under $2.21 a bushel, the minimum price allowed here under the act. December wheat closed at $2.14 1/2, or 9 1/2 cents under yesterday's finish.

This is 60 1/2 cents under the lowest price paid when trading in wheat futures was resumed July 15. The reported tense money situation and prospects of good crops were ascribed as reasons for the declines. Sensational breaks occurred in the grain market generally. Wheat for March delivery fell 11 cents, closing at $2.15, and September and December corn dropped about 4 cents, winding up at $1.35 1/2 and $1.20 1/4, respectively.

The cash market No. 2 red winter wheat closed at $2.28 to $2.30, an average of 16 cents below yesterday's finish. White oats No. 3 fell 4 cents, the close being 77 to 77 1/2 cents.

Large Black Bear Blocks
Road for Auto Tourists

Rutland, Vt., July 31.—While touring northern New England in an auto Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Oberg of Clayton, Mass., came upon a large black animal which completely blocked the roadway through Cavendish gorge. Said animal took no notice of insistent tootings of the horn and the autoists pressed closer, whereupon the animal, a big, ugly bear, reared on her haunches and offered battle. Brakes and reverse power sent the little auto back to a safe distance. The animal glowered at the couple and when no fight was forthcoming moved into the bushes with her cub.
