Dainty Chinese Dancer

All her life little Miss Dong Fung Gue had been waited upon. She was said tartly at last.

Richard, you can stay outside, if I want anything. "Very well," Dicky replied do-cilely.

Through my inert weakness flashed an intolerable pain of doubt. Had my husband accepted that dic-tum either because he did not care about my illness, or because he was still angry about the cloak which Maj. Grantland had brought to protect me during the motor ride from Marvin to New York?

Miss Ludivine Carufel has gone to New York City and Narragansett, Mass., to remain for several weeks.

But she was clever enough to meet the situation—"save her face," in Chinese parlance.

"Oh, I beg your pardon," she said sweetly. "I really didn't hear what you were talking about. This will be the very thing for Mrs. Graham. I'll defy any cold to come through that fur."

"This is something like," my mother-in-law commented grimly. "Thank you, Maj. Grantland. Now I shan't need any of you any longer."

ADVERTISEMENTS RECIPES OF OUR PIONEER MOTHERS for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable.

for the home treatment of disease were wonderfully dependable. True, they knew nothing of drugs, but owed their success to the roots, herbs and barks of the field.

It is interesting to note that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, the most successful remedy for female ills we have, was originally prepared for home use from one of these recipes.

Its fame has now spread from shore to shore, and thousands of American women now well and strong claim that they owe their health and happiness to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Thousands of People Want a Mattress Just Like the Or-Wi-Co

When Next You Buy a Mattress You Should Know That The Or-Wi-Co

Measures up to the best ideals in mattress-making without any added cost for things that might be considered fastidious or unnecessary.

It is the kind of mattress thousands of intelligent people want.

How it is made— THE cotton is taken from the bale, passed through a power machine opener and duster, which thrashes out all impurities and loosens up the fiber.

It is then placed in the hopper of a Web Process Felting Machine where it is taken up by a feed apron into an intricate system of toothed rollers.

The fibers are here combed, crossed and re-crossed and knit into filmy gossamer webs of uniform fineness and texture.

It takes twenty of these webs, mattress size, to make one pound, and almost a thousand are used to make an Or-Wi-Co.

Being made throughout by expert workmen, we can guarantee that it will not mat nor require re-making. Just an occasional sun-bath will make it last indefinitely.

Every Or-Wi-Co is carefully inspected before shipping. You will find it neat and dressy in appearance.

2. If you want to have corn on the cob tender never salt the water in which it is cooked. The water should be actively boiling and the corn should not be cooked more than 20 minutes.

3. To make china dishes and earthenware so that they will withstand hot liquids without cracking, place in a pan of cold water and fill with cold water. Bring gradually to the boil. Cool gradually.
