

DEFEAT OF GORE IN OKLAHOMA IS WILSON VICTORY

Blind Senator Bitter Opponent Of President on Many Issues—"Wets" Gain Vote in House.

By ARTHUR SEARS HENNING Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Washington, Aug. 6.—Endorsement by the democrats of President Wilson's stand on the league of nations issue, approval by the republicans of the Lodge reservations to the covenant, and a gain of one vote by the "wets" in the house of representatives were the outstanding results of the party primaries held in a half dozen states Thursday.

The defeat of Senator Gore of Oklahoma, democrat, for renomination by Representative Ferris was a distinct victory for the president on the score not only of support of the covenant without reservations but of unquestioning fealty to the administration.

Senator Gore has fought the president on legislation the greater part of his term of office now expiring. He advocated the McLemore resolutions to keep Americans off armed ships, he was one of the 12 "willful men" who prevented adoption of the armed neutrality measure, he voted against the draft act and he voted for the peace treaty with the Lodge reservations. He also opposed the president's wheat price guarantee and other wartime food regulations legislation.

Ferris Backed Wilson. Representative Ferris stood with the president against the McLemore resolutions, advocated the covenant without reservations and otherwise supported the administration at all times. Gore had been deprived of all federal patronage and the administration forces were solidly arrayed against him in the primary.

Such bitterness characterized this democratic conflict that the republicans are encouraged to believe they have a good chance of carrying Oklahoma for Harding and for the republican nominee for senator, Representative Harrold.

Another administration victory of the league of nations on the occasion of Breckenridge Long, who recently resigned as third assistant secretary of state, for senator from Missouri. He made the race in support of the president's stand on the league of nations and appears to have defeated a narrow margin Judge Priest, who was anti-league and supported conspicuously by Senator Reed, treaty irrecusable.

Republicans in Missouri and Kansas upheld their senators in voting for the Lodge reservations. Senator Spencer in the former and Senator Curtis in the latter state easily defeated their opposition to renomination.

Liquor Big Issue. The liquor issue figured in many of the primary contests, but the only change from the present complexion of the house on this question was recorded in Virginia, where the democrats nominated J. T. Deal to succeed Representative Holden of the Norfolk district, who did not seek re-election. Deal ran on a light wine and beer platform. Holland is a "dry."

In Missouri, Judge Priest embraced the "wet" cause, while Long avoided committing himself on the issue. Senator Spencer defended the vote for the Volstead act, on which he was assailed by his opponents. The republican and democratic nominees for governor are "dry."

In Oklahoma and Kansas, both banner prohibition states, the "wets" did not get a look in. Another primary Representative Shreve of Pennsylvania, a republican and a "dry," and Representative Crago of Pennsylvania, republican, and Dent of Alabama, democrat, both of whom are "wet," were defeated. Representative Small of North Carolina, who had opposed the prohibition measure in this congress, also was defeated. There was one liquor fight in Texas, in which Representative Buchanan, a "wet," was renominated.

House Strongly Dry. "The house will be strongly dry," said E. C. Dinwiddie, chairman of the International Congress Against Alcoholism, "but even if it were wet the senate, which will be dry, would block any modification of the law." "I have carefully examined the records of the senators and I find that in the two-thirds membership of the senate not up for election this fall we can count upon almost enough senators to give us the necessary majority to move the wheat and to have with us only 8 of the 32 senators who will be elected in November to retain control on the prohibition question. As a matter of fact, the majority of the senators who are standing for re-election are dry and most of the men who are opposing them are dry, so we cannot lose the senate."

War Office Issues Sharp Reply to Protest of Town. Shenandoah, Ia., Aug. 6.—(Special.)—A telegram from the War Department, sent in reply to one from the Community club protesting against the use of cars at this time to move the Camp Dodge equipment to Camp Lewis just when the cars are needed to move the wheat and corn of the country, practically informed Shenandoah that the department would tend to its own business and advised Shenandoah to attend to his own.

Irish Crimes Measure Passes After Hot Debate. London, Aug. 6.—After the debate which developed heat and a personal scene between Premier Lloyd George and Herbert H. Asquith, the bill to prevent the exportation of munitions was passed after a long session. The measure passed second reading, 289 to 21. The vote was carried out under a motion made in the house today by Andrew Bonar Law providing for passage of the bill by 5 p. m. tomorrow.

WOMAN RAN TO SAVE HONOR, SHE TELLS IN COURT

Mrs. May Coseboom Says Former Omaha Man Tore Her Clothes.

Los Angeles, Aug. 6.—(Special Telegram.)—More chance brought about the first meeting between Mrs. May Coseboom and George F. Reim, president of the Reim, Thompson company, according to her testimony in Justice Hanby's court, where Reim was given a hearing on a charge of attempting to commit a statutory offense against her.

Mr. Reim was for 11 years agent in Omaha for a large automobile company. Mrs. Coseboom testified that she was hurrying to work one morning when Reim stopped his car and offered to give her a lift. During the ride he gave her his name and she handed him a pay envelope with her name on it, adding her telephone number, she said. Subsequently he took her out to lunch several times, but, she said, in company with a girl friend. Twice he drove her to her home in Long Beach, on one occasion and talking with her.

On June 28, she said, he offered to drive her to Long Beach, but near Lynwood turned the car off the highway, saying he had to make a detour. The witness then said she had a struggle with the defendant, during which she tore off the draperies of his car. She managed to get away, she said, after he had slapped her face, and ran screaming down the road to where she saw Cecil R. Clark working on a tractor in a field. She asked Mr. Clark's protection, she said.

Mr. Clark testified to meeting the young woman and escorting her against Mr. Reim's wishes, to the home of Mrs. Katherine L. Shaw, who cared for Mrs. Coseboom. Mrs. Shaw said the young woman's face, neck and chest were bruised and that her garments were torn.

The case is being prosecuted by Deputy District Attorney Hill and H. L. Geisler and Claire Woolwine appeared for the defense.

A continuance was taken until August 17, when the defendant's case will be presented.

Republicans Lay Plans For Campaign in Maine

Chicago, Aug. 6.—Plans for the republican campaign in Maine, when the general elections are to be held on September 13, were laid at republican national headquarters. Four speakers from the western bureau will be among those sent into Maine to speak for Senator Harding and Governor Coolidge. They are congressmen Nicholas Longworth of Ohio, Henry Lane Wilson of Indiana, former Ambassador to Mexico; George E. Foss of Illinois, former congressman, and Leslie M. Shaw, ex-secretary of the treasury. The Maine election is always watched with interest by politicians as indicating the trend of sentiment.

Navy Yard Employees Ask 40 Per Cent Wage Increase

Washington, Aug. 6.—Representatives of 80,000 navy yard workers in 43 navy yards appeared before the navy wage board to urge an immediate increase in wages of approximately 40 per cent. They asked that the average wage be increased to $1.05 an hour, which they said was 5 cents less than workers in the same trades received from private industry.

NEBRASKA MAN BELIEVES TANLAC SAVED HIS LIFE

Styers Says It Completely Restored His Health and He Has Gained 22 Pounds.

"Yes, sir, I believe as firmly as I believe anything that Tanlac saved my life two years ago," was the statement made a few days ago by Abraham L. Styers, well-known brick mason and contractor, living at 4326 Patrick avenue, Omaha, Neb. "And besides setting me right at that time Tanlac put me into shape where I gained 22 pounds in weight in just a few weeks and I have been feeling fine from that day to this. I had been in the worst sort of health for five years and was told I could never get well. I was suffering from rheumatism and lumbago. My back ached continually sometimes so bad I could not stand to bend over at all and my kidneys bothered me a great deal. Why, a lot of times when I sat down in a chair I had to be helped up. I was badly constipated and suffered a great deal from biliousness and dizzy spells. I lost my appetite and quite often turned awful sick at my stomach. I couldn't sleep to do any good and I ate so little that I went down in weight until I was beginning to think my time was just about up. "But a friend of mine put me onto Tanlac and it was the best thing I ever did when I started taking it. I had no more than finished my second bottle before I felt like a different man and I kept on taking it until all my troubles disappeared. My appetite came back and I was soon eating like a bear and picking up in weight and strength right along. In a short time I gained 22 pounds, as I said, and was feeling as well as I ever did in my life. I am 69 years old and I'm in as good health as any man of my age. Tanlac was a life-saver to me and I'm going to keep it in the house as long as I live."

Tanlac is sold in Omaha at all Sherman & McConnell Drug Company's stores, Harvard Pharmacy and West End Pharmacy. Also Forrest and Meany Drug Company in South Omaha and Benson Pharmacy, Benson, and the leading drug stores in each city and town throughout the state of Nebraska.

DAYTON READY FOR LARGE CROWD AT NOTIFICATION

Prominent Leaders of Party Confer With Candidate Preparatory to Announcing Campaign Plans.

Dayton, O., Aug. 6.—Democratic clans were gathering here today for their great quadrennial event, the presentation tomorrow to the American electorate of a presidential nominee—Governor Cox of Ohio. All was in readiness for the governor's formal notification of nomination, by Senator Robinson of Arkansas, who presided over the San Francisco convention, and the candidate's address of acceptance declaring the broad lines of the campaign.

Leaders Arrive Early. Among important early arrivals due were George White, chairman of the democratic national committee, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, head of the speakers' bureau. They were expected to announce, respectively, the special campaign committee and the governor's first speech-making itinerary after approval by the candidate.

With Governor Cox's acceptance address in type for tomorrow afternoon's newspapers, speculation increased today regarding the brief but important insert he has announced would be forthcoming tomorrow. The governor continued to hold it a secret. Speculation on its message centered principally on three subjects, a possible challenge to Senator Harding, his republican opponent for joint debate of the league of nations, a specific statement on Article X of the league covenant, or a definite announcement regarding the prohibition issue.

Democratic leaders here seemed agreed that the league undoubtedly would be the great campaign battle ground and awaited with keen interest the address of Governor Cox, which he has announced, will be so plain that school children may understand. His promises for an aggressive and offensive campaign carried personally to the people from coast to coast also apparently found unanimous favor.

Besides the interests of himself and Franklin D. Roosevelt, the vice presidential candidate, Governor Cox is planning to carry with the national ticket a democratic congress. On the league issue, close advisers say he feels that it will be settled definitely in the November balloting for president and senators. The governor is scheduled to be

SKILLED MEN ARE SCARCE IN S. DAK. MUCH FARM HELP

Small Factories Hardest Hit—Garages Attract Men From Other Jobs—Work But Few Days.

By ARTHUR M. EVANS. Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Valley City, N. D., Aug. 6.—The small cities in the granger states are far harder pinched for skilled and semiskilled labor than are the farmers for field hands and monthly hired help. Of harvest labor there is a glut and in South Dakota the farmer who is starting to cut his wheat has no trouble in getting men at 50 cents an hour for 10 hours a day, but in the cities to pick up a stray artisan looking for work is like finding a gold nugget.

The garages are the one exception. They have plenty of men. Numbers of them, too, get in only two to four days work a week, but at high wages they seem to be content. The fascination of climbing into overalls and putting around the machinery and then climbing into the old boat and stepping on it, still holds them. At almost every garage one sees them sprawling in chairs waiting a chance to do $14 worth of damage to the passing tourist's chariot under the guise of repairs.

Small Shops Hit Hardest. But the little factories and the establishments that require artisans are short of help. Small foundries and machine shops are clamoring for men. Country printing shops are short. In many a small community the editor of a country weekly is sticking his own type and kicking the old job press with his strong right leg. "I haven't seen an old-fashioned journeyman typesetter in a pink moon," lamented an editor at Brookings.

"Some of our star reporters, college boys, are quitting positions at $30 and $35 a week to take jobs in garages," said the editor of a flourishing Sioux Falls daily. The automobile industry sure has thrown things topsy turvy. "We've got plenty of laborers and enough hammer and saw men, but we can't get enough real skilled carpenters," has been a common report from building contractors. In Aberdeen this morning a contractor spoke of a gang he rounded up last week for a job in Utah. "Forty of them claimed to be skilled workers and demanded artisan's wages," he said, "but of the forty, only two were actual mechanics. Every wheel barrow pusher these days claims to be a skilled worker—the barrow is an engine."

Laborers Have Made Little. Another thing, apart from the "soft snap" workers who labor with the soda fountains, the smaller cities, considered as labor plants, appear to be putting far more back into their work than are the metropolitan centers. About 6 a. m. they burst into activity and 7 o'clock sees them roaring along with the throttle wide open. High wages in the harvest fields have not meant such a high earning capacity. In Kansas, hands made a nice piece of velvet out of the $7 and $8 day, but where the demands for workers were less, migratory labor emerges from the wrong end of the horn. This morning at 7 o'clock at least 500 men were on the streets of Aberdeen, looking for jobs.

One group of twenty was canvassed. Three were from Chicago building trades, four were Illinois miners, six were scattering, all professing a smattering of trades, seven were from Detroit, factory workers who came out in two fluffers and were irritated at 33 cent gasoline in the villages. The tourist took down the figures. The twenty men had been out in the grain belt on an average of three weeks each. At six working days a week this meant an aggregate of 360 days. They had averaged five days work each in this period at $6 a day. Thus their earnings for the 360 days were $600, or on an average, a trifle over $1.65 a day.

POLICEMEN AND BANDITS IN FIELD DAY IN WINDY CITY

Series of Robberies, Wrecks and Gun Battles Keep Chicago Officers Busy

Chicago Tribune-Omaha Bee Leased Wire. Chicago, Aug. 6.—This was a field day for automobile and ordinary bandits, with fierce battles staged between them and the police in various sections of the city. There were three running gun fights and four bandits were captured, two of them with serious bullet wounds. Four others escaped. Of those who got away, two carried bullets as souvenirs of the engagement.

Traveling at terrific speed, a stolen automobile, carrying four bandits, roared down Racine avenue and collided with another machine at noon, spilling passengers and parts of the machine all over the street. Five minutes later three of the bandits had stolen another machine, kidnapping the driver and speeding south, leaving two demolished cars, several injured persons, a gaping wound in the pavement and a gaping hole in their wake. Evidently the bandits were escaping from some crime, although no reports of it have yet come in.

The fourth bandit vanished up an alley, leaving his hat and revolver in his haste. Police and a carload of bandits fought a running battle on South Side streets, wounding one so badly he may die, and wounding another, who escaped. A few moments later the same squad of policemen encountered three automobile bandits ground and captured two of them. The third, who was wounded, escaped. In the third battle the officers wounded one and captured a second of three burglars whom they surprised at work. In still another case the driver of a stolen car loaded with bandits lost control in his haste to get away, and the car struck the curb and smashed its way through a large window. The bandits leaped out and escaped by the back door, shooting at everybody in sight as they disappeared in a maze of alleys.

By an Englishman's invention it has become possible to make imitation real lace up to 100 inches in width by machinery.

$250 Wins $50,000

A poor man becomes wealthy over night when gushers are struck. If you knew the wonders of the great Gulf Coast Oil Fields and HIGH ISLAND District of Texas you would unquestionably buy your lease from us today. I know more about the Texas Oil Fields than I will ever be able to tell you through this advertisement. I know the oil business in a very thorough way. Have drilled many, many wells in some wonderful fields. I have built up the Gulf Coast Development & Refining Company until today it is known as "Nebraska's very own oil company," but how can I tell you the whole wonderful story, or show you the facts unless you come to our office and meet us face to face, man to man, or send for our bulletin hot off the press, which gives you the facts, demonstrates beyond a doubt that I am today offering you the surest shot for big money in exchange for a small investment ever brought to Nebraska.

Send for our bulletin today. See the great gushers, the Government Chart, acquaint yourself with these great activities and all my company's holdings, and our wells, and know that when you deal with me that you are dealing with a man who has made good every promise, whose every prediction has come true, that every property selected by me has developed into oil.

There is much in knowing the business and the man at the head of the business. I claim to know the oil business. I am an operator. I have surrounded myself and company with experts in every department. I give you my word that HIGH ISLAND gives to you a chance, as a lease holder of 5 acres, for $250 to win $50,000.

Now take me at my word. Make me prove this. Either call at our office or send for our bulletin. Convince yourself of the sincerity of my statements as President of this Company, which has become known as "Nebraska's Very Own Oil Company."

I urge upon you to investigate immediately. Send for our printed matter. Don't buy until you know facts, which you can learn from us personally, from our bulletin, or from our sales representatives in the field. When one of my men call on you see him with courtesy. Listen to his proposition. He has a message that is for your benefit. Don't turn a deaf ear to opportunity knocking at your door. I will personally select your lease, giving you the benefit of my judgment based upon knowledge and experience that has never known a failure. My Company has never drilled a dry hole. I promise that I will at all times have the personal supervision of the drilling of our well at HIGH ISLAND, and to do everything within my power to prove up your lease and make them of great value.

I will make the selection of the location for the well and will not trust the supervision of drilling operations to paid employees.

Come in with me and help me put this proposition over the top into big money for the benefit of many citizens now buying these leases. Get the bulletin. Come to the office if you can.

Invested capital brings riches. Idle money brings poverty.

Respectfully submitted, H. R. ELLWOOD, President of GULF COAST DEVELOPMENT & REFINING CO.
