

CAR SHORTAGE MORE SERIOUS FURTHER NORTH

Nebraska Not as Hard Hit as Dakotas and Minnesota in Movement of Grain.

Lincoln, Aug. 13.—(Special).—The Dakotas, Minnesota, Montana and some other states north are not in as good condition as regard prospects for moving grain as is Nebraska, according to Thorne Browne of the state railway commission, who is home from a trip to Washington, where he went in hopes of getting a line on what states north of us were trying to do at a meeting before the Interstate Commerce commission.

"On account of those states being so much worse off than ourselves," said Mr. Browne, "I was a little fearful that they might put up some kind of argument which might lead the national commission to believe that Nebraska was getting more than its share, and we would suffer thereby. However, their argument was of such a nature that the commission became somewhat irritated and finally closed the hearing. They told the northern fellows that the commission was simply doing all that it possibly could to handle the situation, and that as the Dakotas had received a 14 per cent increase in the box car supply, they could not reasonably ask for more under the present conditions."

Trouble in East.

According to Mr. Browne, the trouble lies in the east. Coal cars are coming west much faster than they can be returned and yet there are miles of loaded coal cars standing on the tracks of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad waiting to be hauled away.

Mr. Browne had a personal talk with Chairman Clarke of the Interstate Commerce commission and told him that the Nebraska commission stood ready to co-operate in every way with him in the handling of the western situation, but wanted no change just now.

According to observations of Mr. Browne, box cars appear to be moving, but coal cars are congested. In spite of the large amount of loaded coal cars on the B. & O., Washington appears to be having a hard time securing coal.

Potato Growers Need Cars.

During the hearing, Minnesota men brought up the matter of the potato situation and said that about one-half of the vegetable crop of that state had been lost because of lack of shipping facilities, and unless relief came there would be a big loss in the potato crop for the same reason.

It will take 28 months to move the wheat crop of Kansas, according to information given at the hearing, while the crop of Nebraska can be moved in about eight months. The corn crop of this state is going to have a hard time when it comes to shipment. St. Louis and other southern terminals are getting out the cars just as fast as it can be done.

That Nebraska is being well looked after, is evidenced by the fact that on July 1 roads serving Nebraska had 88 per cent of the ownership cars, while the roads serving northern states near us had but 70 per cent of their owned cars.

Woman's Life Happier-Than Man's After 35, Says Doctor

London, Aug. 13.—Addressing the Medico-Legal society on the suicide idea, Dr. Josiah Oldie said statistics covering a large number of years indicated that women's lives after 35 years were pleasanter and more attractive than men's. In spite of the popular idea that the young woman was the queen of the earth, and that at sweet 17 she had the world at her feet, it was evidenced that from the ages of 15 to 35 more young women committed suicide than young men.
