Leaves for Europe

Miss Katherine Reynolds McCornick has been in Omaha for the past month assisting in the clothes drive for the Near East relief. She leaves Sunday for a lecture tour through Nebraska in the same interest, going first to Nebraska City. She will return to Omaha later, this being her headquarters.

Garment-Making Clubs Being Formed

Many young women over the country are being organized into garment-making clubs. The general plan of these clubs is the same. Each club is composed of five or more members between the ages of 10 and 18. Two years' work in proper sequence is undertaken under an instructor. Each member keeps an account of cost of materials used, time spent, and other items of interest. At the close of the course an exhibit is held to which each member contributes at least three finished garments, repair work on an article of clothing or household linen, a report, and a story on "What I Learned as a Member of the Garment-making Club."

Can you think of anything finer for the young womanhood of America? Although this is the day of "ready-mades" and she may never make any of her own garments, yet each will know the mechanism of the job, and be able to keep her clothing in repair.

Near-East Relief Worker

Miss Katherine Reynolds McCornick has been in Omaha for the past month assisting in the clothes drive for the Near East relief. She leaves Sunday for a lecture tour through Nebraska in the same interest, going first to Nebraska City. She will return to Omaha later, this being her headquarters.

To Test Diluted Milk.
To test the purity of milk take a well-polished knitting needle and dip it into a deep vessel of milk and immediately withdraw it in an upright position. If the sample is pure some of the fluid will hang to the needle, but if water has been added to the milk, even in small proportions, the fluid will not adhere to the needle.

When Flypaper Sticks.
Kerosene will dissolve flypaper gum. Wash out in strong soap suds. However, this process will fade a dress of delicate color.

Business Woman at 15

There is a potential business woman who is destined to be one of America's highest types of useful citizen. A 15-year-old girl in Massachusetts marketed 3,000 cans of high grade fruits and vegetables last year.

Vegetables

Before cooking head vegetables and greens, set for an hour in cold water, to which one tablespoonful of vinegar has been added. This removes insects easily. Wash very carefully.

Bridge Luncheon.
Eight guests lunched with Mrs. George Mayne last Monday and spent the afternoon playing bridge.

The Misses Keeline Entertain.
Last Thursday the Misses Katherine and Adele Keeline entertained 12 guests at a beautifully appointed 1 o'clock luncheon at their home on Park avenue. A color scheme of yellow and white was carried out in the decorations. These same young ladies invited 30 friends in to play bridge Friday afternoon.

Luncheon Series.
On Friday Mrs. Robert Wallace and Mrs. Edson Damon gave the first of a series of luncheons when 14 guests were present. They will also entertain again on Monday.

Breakfast Party.
Mrs. C. E. Swanson has invited a number of friends in to breakfast with her next Wednesday and the morning will be spent playing bridge.

Country Club Affairs.
Mrs. Winfield Mayne and Mrs. Robert Sprague entertained 20 guests at a very enjoyable luncheon at the Country Club cafe Thursday. Three baskets of garden flowers and dainty little place cards made the long table most attractive. During the afternoon tables were arranged in the club house for bridge, the prize for high score being won by Mrs. J. A. Clark. Mrs. Clarence Embkie received the consolation.

During these warm days of August many Council Bluffs people are taking advantage of the delightful sleeping accommodations at the Country club and making reservations for a week or more. This is proving to be an ideal way in which to spend one's vacation.

Among those registered for this week are Mr. Frank Garrett and his guests, Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Ward of Omaha, Mrs. R. B. Tabbs and daughter Sybil of Malvern, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Reider, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Maxfield and Mr. S. P. Wilson.

The following reservations were made for the dinner dance at the club Tuesday evening: Mr. Henry Hart, four; Mrs. George Keeline, six; Mr. John Henry, four; Mrs. C. I. Palm, nine; Mr. Frank Garrett, four; Mr. Jack Peacock, 14; Mrs. E. H. Doolittle, seven; Mr. X. W. Kynnett, six; Mrs. S. T. McAtee, 11; Miss Mayne Devol, five; Mr. T. J. Leary, three; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Frieden, two; and Mrs. R. B. Tabbs, two.

On Wednesday Miss Elizabeth Douglass had four guests and Mr. Lewis Whitehead had four.

The Joe Smith, Norman Filbert and Earl Baird families formed a picnic party at Manawa Monday evening.

During the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Quinn from the city, Miss Elizabeth Quinn will be at the club. Fifty Rotarians had dinner at the cafe Thursday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Winfield Mayne and children will spend next week at the club.

Presenting—Autumn Modes
in Luxurious Wearing Apparel for Women and Misses

Alluringly Beautiful in Line, Color and Texture are the New Fall Arrivals. Discriminating Women Who Want Exclusive Designs are Now Making Their Selections.

THE NEW COATS are most attractive with their "wrappy" lines, so suggestive of warm comfort, and their sumptuous fur collars, cuffs, pockets and bands. Prices range from $59.50 to $195.

FURS are more luxurious than ever before. From the small neckpiece to the long coat they are each and every one the highest expression of the furrier's art. Nothing is more beautiful than lovely furs. Prices range from $75 to $900.

NEW AUTUMN SUITS emphasize unusual lines and lengths, as well as panels with distinctive embroidery. Many show a lavish use of lovely furs for trimming, which make them practical for extreme winter wear. Many shades of brown, blue and taupe predominate, and prices are from $65 to $175.

NEW FALL DRESSES show a distinctively new long waist line, which is decidedly becoming and attractive. Materials are wonderful, with embroideries of gold and fine wools in many colors to further enrich their beauty and emphasize the design. Priced from $49.50 to $125.

AUTUMN HATS show a decided penchant for pheasant browns and royal and Chinese blues in color, with a plentiful number of rich metal cloth models, which are entirely new this season. The shapes and trimmings have a wide variety, insuring individuality and becomingness to every face. The prices are individual and very moderate.

BLOUSES are exceedingly charming and novel in color and cut, and the collar is surely coming, although it is only a bit of wired lace or an arrangement of tabs or an embroidered triangle. Charmeuse and pussy willow models, embroidered with fine wools, are unusually beautiful, and the set-in sleeves fit very smartly. The newest sleeves are short elbow length, and are often slit to the shoulder and "latted" or "tied" together most enchantingly. Prices range from $15 to $45.
