The August Sale of Furs Has But Eight More Days to Run

I AM in very close touch with the raw fur markets and the fur manufacturing conditions of the United States, so my advice is of real value to you. I advise very strongly that you purchase your furs this month and assure you that it will mean a great saving in price.

Make Comparisons Before You Buy

I could quote long lists of prices and offer large percentages of discount, but these things do not guide you in buying furs. You must see the garments and

Compare Quality Compare Workmanship Compare Price

In this way only can you hope to judge value. In my travels throughout the east I have seen the garment illustrated here at prices ranging from $675 to $2,300. I have it in stock made from my fine Canadian Minks at $850. How can you possibly judge whether this is a bargain unless you see the garment. We show furs cheerfully.
