Body of Young Girl Found In Secluded Spot in Woods

Grantwood, N. J., Aug. 25 .- The body of a girl less than 20, pretty, and expensively clothed, was found in a secluded spot in the Grantwood woods, bearing evidences of violence. Clutched in the girl's right hand was a piece of cloth forn from a dark blue coat. It was evident that the girl had fought desperately. County Physician Ogden said that the girl's skull had been fractured. The right hand was blood-stained. Also clutched in the girl's hand were links torn from a gold watch chain. No shoes were on the body, but a pair was found nearby,
